SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- The International Monetary Fund (IMF) projects global growth at 3.3% for 2026, with U.S. inflation expected to return to its target more gradually. Geopolitical tensions and a re-evaluation of technology expectations are noted as key downside risks.
- The World Bank's outlook for 2026 indicates a slowdown in global growth to 2.5%, largely attributed to the Middle East conflict, sharp energy price increases, renewed inflation, and tighter monetary policy worldwide.
- Most central banks engaged in rate cuts in 2025 despite core inflation remaining above target, with exceptions being the Bank of Japan and Banco Central do Brasil.
- The International Monetary Fund expressed its intention to engage with central banks in the coming months regarding modifications to their forward guidance on monetary policy.
- The outcome of the Reserve Bank of India's (RBI) policy meeting is keenly awaited by Indian markets today.
- In Europe, a significant majority of financial firms (99%) believe that regulatory clarity will drive wider adoption of digital assets, with 53% having already committed funding to digital-asset businesses prior to 2026, following the establishment of regulatory standards by MiCA.
- The U.S. Treasury 10-year yield is trading below 4.70%, contributing to an easing of pressure on inflation concerns.

2. US & European Markets

- Dow Jones Futures are trading around 53,400 points, signaling resilient momentum and a moderate bullish bias in the pre-market session. U.S. futures for the S&P 500 were up 0.2% and futures for the Dow Jones Industrial Average climbed 0.2%.
- The U.S. industrial sector shows robust activity, with the ISM manufacturing PMI rising to 55.6, surpassing expectations.
- The current earnings season, particularly strong results from Dow Jones components and major tech firms such as Amazon, Boeing, and Microsoft, is bolstering overall sentiment across U.S. indices.
- Wall Street closed significantly higher on Monday, with the Dow Industrials hitting a record high, buoyed by optimism surrounding ongoing U.S.-Iran talks. The AI-centric stock segment is also experiencing a notable rebound.
- Huawei's top scientist issued a warning that Nvidia faces impending physical limitations in chip scaling, suggesting potential challenges for future advancements.
- SK Hynix, in collaboration with SanDisk, has unveiled the first standard specification for High Bandwidth Flash (HBF), a next-generation storage technology designed to address memory bottlenecks in the era of artificial intelligence.
- OLIX, a U.K.-based semiconductor and AI chip startup, successfully raised $312 million in a Series B financing round, with the company now valued at $3.3 billion.
- Elmos Semiconductor SE reported strong operating performance in the first half of 2026, achieving a 15.4% increase in group sales.
- European shares saw gains, with the Stoxx Europe 600 climbing 0.7% in morning trading. Notable movers included BE Semiconductor, which added 4.5%, and Bayer, which rose 4.3%.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian benchmark equity indices opened on a mixed note today, August 4, 2026. The Sensex jumped 493 points or 0.62% to 79,132.97, while the Nifty opened lower at 24,703.90, shedding 70.4 points.
- The unusual divergence observed between the Nifty and Sensex is largely attributed to the recent introduction of a new Closing Auction Session (CAS) mechanism for derivative-eligible stocks on Monday.
- A busy Q1 earnings calendar for today includes major companies such as Bharti Airtel, Oil and Natural Gas Corporation (ONGC), Pidilite Industries, BSE, Marico, Nykaa, Multi Commodity Exchange of India (MCX), and Tata Investment Corporation.
- Foreign Institutional Investor (FII) holding in Indian companies has fallen to a 14-year low of 15.88% as of June 30, 2026, following net sales of Rs 1.43 lakh crore during the June quarter.
- Conversely, Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIs) have increased their stake in Indian equities to an all-time high of 11.58%, deploying a net amount of Rs 1.42 lakh crore. DIIs now collectively hold 21% of Nifty 500 companies, surpassing FII holdings at 17%.
- Sector-wise, the Metal index outperformed other sectors, while Nifty Realty and Nifty Cement showed underperformance. Top losers in the Nifty50 include Grasim Industries, Bajaj Auto, and Titan Company.
- HDFC Bank, Hindustan Unilever, Infosys, and Reliance Industries are among the major laggards in early trade.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- Crude oil prices have shown gains, with Brent crude trading near $85 per barrel amidst ongoing uncertainties in U.S.-Iran war talks. Brent crude futures specifically rose on Tuesday, now at $85.22, driven by Middle East export disruptions and supply risks. WTI crude gained 0.3% to $80.59 a barrel.
- OPEC+ has finalized an agreement to increase oil production quotas by 188,000 barrels per day (bpd) in September, marking the completion of the phased rollback of voluntary supply cuts. However, geopolitical tensions continue to limit actual supplies reaching the market.
- U.S. President Donald Trump postponed a planned strike on Iran, opting instead to pursue a new peace agreement, which contributed to a notable drop in oil prices on Monday.
- Gold (XAU/USD) is trading near $4,060, supported by safe-haven demand stemming from U.S.-Iran tensions, though its upside is limited by firm Treasury yields.
- Central banks significantly increased their gold purchases in Q2 2026, acquiring 289 tonnes, a 62% year-over-year increase and the strongest second quarter on record. Chinese institutional investors have also been noted for significant gold buying, helping to maintain prices above the $4,000 per ounce threshold.
- Gold prices are anticipated to remain within their approximately six-week-old range of $3950-$4200.
- The Digital Asset Market CLARITY Act in the U.S. faces an uncertain path to passage in the Senate, with only four days remaining before the August recess. The bill, which has support from Wall Street heavyweights, aims to provide clearer legal definitions for digital assets.

- If the CLARITY Act fails to pass, there is a possibility that regulators will accelerate rulemaking under "Project Crypto" instead.

STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Screen Nifty leaders using 50-SMA support bounces or 20/50 EMA golden crosses.

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
Reliance Industries (RIL)	Long	After recent volatility, RIL showing signs of a 50-SMA support bounce on the daily chart, aligning with positive sentiment for blue-chip Indian equities despite mixed Nifty performance.
Tata Steel	Long	Metal sector outperforming today, suggesting strong underlying demand. Tata Steel is a Nifty leader and observed a golden cross (20 EMA above 50 EMA) signaling potential bullish momentum.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Screen using 21-day EMA pullbacks or 50-day SMA rejection strategy on mega-cap growth leaders.

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVIDIA (NVDA)	Long	AI-centric stocks are rebounding, and NVDA has shown a 21-day EMA pullback, now consolidating near support. A bounce from this level is expected as overall tech sentiment remains positive despite long-term scaling concerns.
Microsoft (MSFT)	Long	MSFT earnings are supporting US indices. Positioned for a continuation of its uptrend, looking for a bounce off its 21-day EMA, maintaining its status as a growth leader.
Tesla (TSLA)	Short	TSLA potentially facing resistance at the 50-day SMA after underperforming the consumer discretionary sector in July. Looking for a rejection from this key moving average.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Screen using Stage-2 VCP or High Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) breakouts.

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
BE Semiconductor (BESI)	Long	European semiconductor stocks are showing strength with BESI up 4.5% today. Screening for high Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) breakout indicating significant buying interest.

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Screen using 4H 21-EMA trend following and high-volume volatility breakouts.

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
Bitcoin (BTC/USD)	Long	Strong institutional interest in digital assets, especially in Europe due to regulatory clarity. Looking for a high-volume volatility breakout above recent resistance, supported by 4H 21-EMA trend following.
Ethereum (ETH/USD)	Long	Similar to Bitcoin, ETH is benefiting from increasing adoption narratives and the potential for regulatory clarity (CLARITY Act). Position for trend continuation following a 4H 21-EMA bounce and sustained high volume.

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Gold (XAU/USD) and WTI Crude Oil using Pivot & Fibonacci extension levels.

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
WTI Crude Oil	Long	Crude oil prices are gaining, with Brent near $85/bbl due to uncertain US-Iran talks and Middle East export disruptions. Looking for long entry at a key pivot support level, targeting Fibonacci extension levels.
Gold (XAU/USD)	Neutral/Long	Gold is near $4,060, supported by safe-haven demand from geopolitical tensions and central bank buying, but limited by firm Treasury yields. Expecting consolidation within the $3950-$4200 range with a bias towards upside if tensions escalate or NFP data is weak. Playing bounces off key pivot levels.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Short-Term

(EUR/USD, GBP/USD)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD	Short	USD strength expected due to gradual US inflation return to target and strong ISM manufacturing PMI. Looking for short entries on rallies toward resistance, anticipating European market caution.
GBP/USD	Short	Similar to EUR/USD, the pair is likely to experience downward pressure given broad USD strength and potential for risk-off flows in short-term.

Macro Carry Swings

(USD/JPY, AUD/USD)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
USD/JPY	Long	Carry trade opportunity. Bank of Japan was one of the few central banks to raise rates in 2025, but the overall yield differential remains favorable for USD. Long on dips, anticipating continued USD strength against JPY.
AUD/USD	Short	Commodity-linked AUD may face headwinds if global growth slows as projected by the World Bank. Entering short on rallies, looking for a breakdown from current levels.

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Nifty 50 / BankNifty 15-Minute Opening Range Breakouts (Call for Long, Put for Short).

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
Nifty 50 Options	Short (Put)	Nifty 50 opened lower today and traded mixed, showing initial weakness. Implementing a 15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB) strategy. If Nifty breaks below the initial 15-minute low, buy Put options.
BankNifty Options	Short (Put)	Banking sector, represented by HDFC Bank, is among the laggards. Applying a 15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB) strategy. If BankNifty breaks below the initial 15-minute low, buy Put options.
