Current Session Highlight: New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- US Federal Reserve: The Federal Reserve maintained its benchmark interest rate at 3.5%-3.75% for the fifth consecutive meeting on July 29, 2026. This decision, approved by a 9-3 vote, signals policymakers anticipate an easing of inflation despite persistent energy costs influenced by the conflict in Iran. However, the three dissenting votes favoring a rate hike underscore growing hawkish sentiment within the FOMC, leading markets to price in a 55% chance of a rate hike in September. Economic activity continues to expand at a solid pace, but inflation remains elevated, partly due to supply shocks in the energy sector.
- Currency Impact: The US Dollar initially saw a retreat against major currencies like the Japanese Yen and Australian Dollar following the Fed's decision to hold rates steady. However, these losses are expected to be short-lived, supported by ongoing US-Iran tensions and the underlying tightening bias from the Fed.
- Other Central Banks: The Bank of Japan (BOJ) and Bank of England (BOE) have upcoming policy decisions. Notably, Australian inflation data came in lower than expected, which has tempered expectations for further rate hikes from the Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA).

2. US & European Markets

- Wall Street Futures: US stock futures are showing positive momentum in the pre-market, with S&P 500 futures up 0.2% and Nasdaq 100 futures up 0.5%. This follows a volatile session yesterday where US markets briefly rose before sharply declining after the Fed's announcement, with all major indices closing lower.
- Pre-Market Movers: Fortinet (FTNT) is a significant pre-market gainer, boosted by strong Q2 earnings that surpassed expectations and an upward revision of its full-year guidance. Heavily shorted Xerox stock is also experiencing a short squeeze. Other notable pre-market gainers include Nuwellis Inc. (NNUW) and T3 Defense Inc. (DDFN).
- Mega-cap US stocks: Microsoft saw a notable surge in pre-market trading. The broader technology sector, including other mega-caps like NVIDIA and Tesla, could benefit from a rebound observed in Asian tech and chip stocks.
- Market Sentiment: Investors remain cautious due to persistent geopolitical risks, particularly the US-Iran conflict, and concerns about sticky inflation. Jamie Dimon expressed reservations about buying stocks or long-term Treasurys at current prices, citing underpriced geopolitical and fiscal risks.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Sensex/Nifty Updates: The Indian stock market traded flat to slightly positive today, with the Nifty hovering near 24,250. Yesterday, the Sensex closed up 0.35% at 77,928, and the Nifty 50 gained 0.28% to settle at 24,317. However, mid and small-cap indices experienced declines. The Nifty is anticipated to open higher around 23,900, suggesting a positive start. A key resistance level for the Nifty is identified at 24,360.
- Corporate Earnings: Vedanta Aluminium reported a substantial 216% year-on-year increase in Q1 profit, with revenue up 46%. Mahindra & Mahindra also saw healthy Q1 results, with profit rising 7% and revenue up 23%. Waaree Energies shares declined despite strong profit and revenue growth, while Hexaware Tech's Q1 profit slipped even as revenue climbed.
- Sectoral Momentum: The IT, Auto, and Oil & Gas sectors are showing leadership and gains. Conversely, the Realty, Financial Services, Bank, Private Bank, Cement, and Chemicals indices are currently under pressure.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil: Crude oil prices remain volatile amid renewed US-Iran tensions. WTI crude oil prices extended gains above $84.00, recovering from earlier weekly lows, driven by the escalation of hostilities in the Middle East. Yesterday, September WTI crude oil futures rallied sharply, closing up 6.56% following reports of US strikes on Iran and an unexpected draw in EIA crude inventories. However, prices pared back some of these gains today. The average cost per barrel is currently $10-$15 higher than this time last year.
- Gold: Gold prices have risen to $4077.53/t.oz today, marking a 0.28% increase from the previous day and a 23.91% rise over the past year. Gold experienced a volatile intraday reversal to close higher after the Federal Reserve's decision to hold interest rates steady. Gold and silver are showing firmness as the Fed's rate decision and a spike in oil prices affect equities. Current spot gold prices are ranging between $4044 and $4079.
- Major Crypto Regulatory/Adoption Headlines: The United States is progressing towards clearer regulatory frameworks for the cryptocurrency industry, with a pro-growth policy aimed at positioning the US as a global leader in the crypto market. Both the SEC and CFTC are actively engaging with industry stakeholders to develop solutions for regulating perpetual futures. The recently updated Digital Asset Market Clarity (CLARITY) Act seeks to establish a comprehensive regulatory structure for cryptocurrencies and includes provisions to prohibit federal officials from issuing or sponsoring digital assets. Separately, the New York Attorney General is advocating for stronger regulations to combat the rising tide of cryptocurrency scams.

STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Screened Nifty leaders showing strong momentum and positive earnings.

Ticker	Sector	Strategy & Selection Reason
TCS (Tata Consultancy Services)	IT	Selected as Nifty IT sector is leading gains (up over 1%). Technically, displaying a 20/50 EMA golden cross on daily charts, indicating strong upward momentum.
M&M (Mahindra & Mahindra)	Auto	Auto sector is also a top performer today. M&M reported robust Q1 results with 7% YoY profit growth and 23% YoY revenue growth. Chart analysis shows a clear bounce off its 50-SMA support.
Vedanta Aluminium	Metals/Mining	Exceptional Q1 performance with profit surging 216% YoY and revenue up 46% YoY. This strong fundamental catalyst suggests a high probability for continued upward price movement.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Screened mega-cap growth leaders.

Ticker	Sector	Strategy & Selection Reason
MSFT (Microsoft)	Technology	Surged in pre-market trading, indicating strong institutional interest. Looking for a potential 21-day EMA pullback entry point during regular session for a long position, given overall tech strength.
NVDA (NVIDIA)	Technology/ Semiconductor	Pre-market positive sentiment, aligned with rebound in Asian tech/chip stocks. Monitoring for a 50-day SMA rejection setup for a potential short opportunity if pre-market gains fade and technical resistance holds firm.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Screened for high relative volume or VCP breakouts.

Ticker	Sector	Strategy & Selection Reason
FTNT (Fortinet)	Cybersecurity	Top pre-market gainer after upbeat Q2 earnings and raised guidance. Exhibits high relative volume (>2.0 RVOL) pre-market, suggesting a strong breakout opportunity at open.
NNUW (Nuwellis, Inc.)	Medical Devices	Identified as a top pre-market gainer. Positioning for a Stage-2 VCP (Volatility Contraction Pattern) breakout confirming strong accumulation and readiness for a price move.

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Screened for 4H 21-EMA trend following and high-volume volatility breakouts.

Ticker	Type	Strategy & Selection Reason
COTI	Altcoin	Reported as a top crypto gainer today (+50.20% in 24h). Looking for a high-volume volatility breakout entry, confirming strong upward momentum from recent news/market activity.
ETH (Ethereum)	Large-Cap Crypto	Celebrating 11 years since launch, indicating strong community and development. Currently showing a strong 4H 21-EMA trend following setup, targeting continuation of its recent upward trajectory.

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Gold (XAU/USD) and WTI Crude Oil using Pivot & Fibonacci extension levels.

Ticker	Type	Strategy & Selection Reason
XAU/USD (Gold)	Precious Metal	Currently trading around $4044-$4079. Monitoring for a long entry on a bounce from the S1 Pivot level or a break above the R1 Pivot, with resistance seen around the 127.2% Fibonacci extension of recent consolidation. Strong support from Fed holding rates.
WTI Crude Oil	Energy	Prices around $84.00, volatile due to US-Iran tensions. Seeking a short entry if it fails to clear the R1 Pivot and rejects the 161.8% Fibonacci extension from its recent rally, anticipating profit-taking given the rapid gains. Long if it breaks above R1 with strong volume.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Short-Term

Ticker	Type	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD	Major Pair	Dollar weakness post-Fed decision offers potential for short-term long. Monitoring for a breakout above yesterday's high.
GBP/USD	Major Pair	Similar to EUR/USD, benefiting from short-term USD pullback. Awaiting BOE decision, but initial strength can be traded.

Macro Carry Swings

Ticker	Type	Strategy & Selection Reason
USD/JPY	Carry Trade	Dollar retreated against JPY post-FOMC, but losses are expected to be short-lived due to US-Iran war and Fed's tightening bias. Looking for a long position on dips towards 162.85, anticipating yen weakness to persist.
AUD/USD	Carry Trade	Australian Dollar strengthened recently but soft CPI data dampens RBA hike bets. USD recovery post-FOMC losses, fresh US strikes on Iran create a haven bid for USD. Looking for short-term short on rallies.

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Nifty 50 / BankNifty 15-Minute Opening Range Breakouts (Call for Long, Put for Short).

Ticker	Type	Strategy & Selection Reason
Nifty 50 Options	Index Options	Implementing 15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB) strategy. Nifty is expected to be volatile at open. Buy Call if price breaks above the 15-minute opening range high, targeting initial momentum. Buy Put if price breaks below the 15-minute opening range low.
BankNifty Options	Index Options	Utilizing 15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB) strategy. BankNifty often sees significant initial volatility. Buy Call on breakout above the 15-minute opening range high, or Buy Put on a breakdown below the 15-minute opening range low, capitalizing on early directional moves.
