Session Highlight: New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- US Federal Reserve Stance Remains Hawkish Amid Persistent Inflation Concerns: Fed officials, including Chairman Powell, reiterated their commitment to bringing inflation back to the 2% target, suggesting that interest rates might remain higher for longer than previously anticipated. Market analysts are now pricing in a reduced probability of rate cuts in Q4 2026.
- ECB Monitors Eurozone Growth Amidst Mixed PMI Data: The European Central Bank's latest commentary highlighted concerns over sluggish growth in the Eurozone, despite a slight improvement in manufacturing PMIs. Inflation remains sticky, complicating policy decisions and creating divergence with the more hawkish Fed.
- Yen Weakness Persists as BOJ Maintains Ultra-Loose Policy: The Bank of Japan's unwavering commitment to its accommodative monetary policy continues to weigh on the Japanese Yen, with USD/JPY pushing towards new multi-year highs. Intervention risks remain elevated.

2. US & European Markets

- Pre-Market Movers: NVDA, MSFT See Mixed Trading Ahead of Open: Nvidia (NVDA) is showing slight strength in pre-market trading, driven by renewed optimism in AI infrastructure spending, while Microsoft (MSFT) is flat, digesting recent cloud growth reports. Tesla (TSLA) is experiencing volatility following analyst downgrades concerning Q3 delivery forecasts.
- Semiconductor Sector Outlook Buoyed by Long-Term AI Demand: Despite short-term inventory adjustments, the overall sentiment for the semiconductor sector remains positive, with analysts forecasting robust demand driven by AI, data centers, and automotive electrification over the next decade.
- S&P 500 Futures Indicate Cautious Open: US equity index futures are pointing to a marginally lower open for the S&P 500, as investors digest the hawkish Fed comments and await fresh economic data.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Nifty 50 Awaits Cues from Global Markets; Banking Sector in Focus: Indian equities are expected to open cautiously, tracking global sentiments. The banking sector remains a key focus ahead of upcoming Q2 earnings releases, with positive FII flows observed in select large-cap financials.
- FIIs Show Continued Interest in Indian Equities: Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) have been net buyers in the Indian equity markets for the past few sessions, indicating sustained confidence in India's growth story. Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIs) are also providing strong support.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil Volatile on Geopolitical Tensions and OPEC+ Outlook: Crude oil prices are fluctuating, reacting to fresh geopolitical developments in the Middle East and ongoing speculation about OPEC+'s next production policy meeting. Supply concerns are balancing demand worries.
- Gold Prices Stabilize Amidst Fed Hawkishness and Safe-Haven Demand: Gold (XAU/USD) is finding support around key technical levels, with safe-haven demand offsetting the pressure from a stronger dollar and higher Treasury yields driven by the Fed's hawkish stance.
- Bitcoin (BTC) and Ethereum (ETH) Consolidate Ahead of Key Regulatory News: Major cryptocurrencies are trading in a tight range as the market anticipates clarity on upcoming regulatory frameworks in the US and Europe. Developer activity on Ethereum continues to be a positive catalyst.
