

Daily Multi-Asset Trading Blueprint & Level Execution Manual

Date: Tuesday, August 11, 2026

Session Highlight: London Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: European macroeconomic releases, ECB/BOE news, Forex short-term futures (EUR/USD, GBP/USD), and Gold (XAU/USD) supply/demand zones.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- ECB: Speculation mounts regarding Bundesbank President Joachim Nagel, a known Bitcoin critic, as a potential successor for ECB President Lagarde, signaling a possible shift towards stricter crypto regulatory policies. The ECB faces challenges from extreme weather in Southern Europe driving up food prices, complicating its inflation targeting objectives. The Governing Council previously raised key interest rates by 25 basis points on June 11, 2026, citing inflation pressures from the Middle East conflict and projecting an average headline inflation of 3.0% for 2026.
- US Fed: New Federal Reserve Chair Kevin Warsh's initiative to reduce Fed communication could introduce more volatility in interest rates and bond prices. Recent weak US jobs data, with July nonfarm payrolls falling by 23,000, has diminished expectations for a September Fed rate hike. All eyes are on the crucial US CPI report due this Wednesday, which is expected to provide significant clues on future monetary policy.
- Bank of England (BoE): The Monetary Policy Committee maintained the Bank Rate at 3.75% in July 2026, though it maintains a hawkish stance. Preliminary UK Q2 GDP figures are slated for release on Thursday, offering insights into the economic health.
- Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA): The RBA is scheduled to announce its interest rate decision today, August 11, which will set the tone for the Australian dollar and broader risk sentiment.

2. US & European Markets

- US Markets: The market's immediate focus remains on the upcoming US CPI report mid-week, which is anticipated to be a primary driver for Federal Reserve policy expectations and overall asset direction.
- European Markets: German industrial data continues to show a fragile stabilization rather than a robust rebound, hampered by concerns over low EU gas inventories and critical Rhine water levels, potentially affecting Q3 GDP growth. Europe is grappling with substantial economic damage from a confluence of extreme weather events, including heatwaves, droughts, and wildfires, leading to strained public finances and volatile inflation.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- No specific major market-moving news directly impacting Indian equities (Sensex/Nifty, corporate earnings, FII/DII institutional flows, or sectoral momentum) found in today's digest. Global sentiment and commodity price movements will serve as key indirect influences.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- Gold (XAU/USD): Gold recently surpassed $4,400, primarily driven by weaker US jobs data and consequently reduced expectations for a Fed rate hike. Today, it saw a slight dip to $4,377.67. A bullish bias for XAU/USD is maintained above $4,375, with the next resistance level targeted at $4,477. Demand is further bolstered by significant gold purchases from China and persistent geopolitical tensions in the Middle East. Trading Economics forecasts gold to trade at $4401.24 by the end of this quarter, with UBS projecting $5,200 by June 2027. Short-term (H4) market bias is bullish.
- Crude Oil (WTI): WTI Crude Oil continues to show strong gains, challenging the $81.00 resistance level, supported by its trading activity above the EMA50. However, the re-escalation of the US-Iran conflict and its implications for the Strait of Hormuz continue to fuel high volatility, impacting supply chains and the global economic outlook. The short-term (H4) market bias for US Oil is bullish.
- Bitcoin (BTC/USD): Bitcoin is reportedly facing increasing pressure, having slipped below its EMA50 support according to some analyses. Conversely, the short-term (H4) market bias is indicated as bullish by another source. The potential appointment of Bitcoin critic Joachim Nagel as ECB President could lead to stricter regulatory policies for cryptocurrencies in Europe.

STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Bias	Strategy & Selection Reason
Reliance Industries (RIL)	Long	Hypothetically scanned showing a strong bounce off its 50-SMA on daily charts, indicating sustained upward momentum within a Nifty leader, suitable for long-only entry.

US EQUITIES

Ticker	Bias	Strategy & Selection Reason
Microsoft (MSFT)	Bi-directional	Exhibiting a pullback to its 21-day EMA after a strong rally, presenting a potential entry for a long bias trade. Conversely, a decisive rejection of the 50-day SMA could signal a short opportunity.
Vertex AI Corp (VAI)	Long	(Illustrative Mid/Small-Cap) Scanned showing a Stage-2 VCP (Volatility Contraction Pattern) breakout on high relative volume (>2.0), indicating strong institutional accumulation and potential for further upside.

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Bias	Strategy & Selection Reason
Bitcoin (BTC/USD)	Bi-directional	Currently exhibiting high-volume volatility, trading around key 4H 21-EMA levels. Long entry on a clean breakout above resistance with strong volume, short entry on a decisive break below support. Conflicting short-term technical biases (some bullish, some negative signals) suggest volatile, bi-directional opportunities.

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Bias	Strategy & Selection Reason
Gold (XAU/USD)	Bi-directional	Bullish bias maintained above $4,375 with immediate resistance at $4,477. Trading pivots and Fibonacci extensions to capture movements towards $4,477 (long) or potential pullbacks to demand zones (long from support).
WTI Crude Oil (CL=F)	Bi-directional	Sustaining strong gains and attacking the $81.00 resistance. Long bias on a decisive breakout above $81.00 or bounce from EMA50 support. Short on rejection of $81.00.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Bias	Strategy & Selection Reason
GBP/USD	Bi-directional (Short-Term Bullish)	Exhibiting positive momentum and trading above EMA50, reinforcing a short-term bullish trend, with potential for further gains. Short-term range 1.33-1.37, sensitive to US CPI data.
EUR/USD	Bi-directional (Short-Term Recovery)	Showing improved recovery prospects and trading above EMA50, suggesting a short-term bullish corrective trend despite some neutral biases. Looking for entries on positive divergence signals. Short-term range 1.15-1.19 against GBP, indicating potential for euro's own resilience.
USD/JPY	Bi-directional (Macro Carry, Bullish)	Short-term (H4) market bias indicates bullish. Targeting carry trade opportunities on sustained strength, mindful of interest rate differentials.
AUD/USD	Bi-directional (Macro Carry, Neutral)	Short-term (H4) market bias indicates neutral. Monitoring closely for the RBA interest rate decision today for potential directional bias and subsequent carry trade opportunities.

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Bias	Strategy & Selection Reason
Nifty 50 Futures Options (NIFTY50)	Bi-directional	Implementing 15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB) strategy. Buy Call options on an upward break of the opening range, and Buy Put options on a downward break, aiming to capture intraday momentum effectively.
