Date: October 8, 2026

Session:  New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- The Federal Reserve's September FOMC minutes indicate that most officials believe another U.S. policy rate hike will likely be appropriate by year-end, citing persistent inflation concerns. This decision follows a 25 basis point increase in September, bringing the federal funds target range to 3.75-4.00%.
- US Treasury yields, particularly the 30-year yield, have risen sharply, with the 10-year Treasury yield at 5.304%, reflecting concerns over inflation, government debt, and rising crude oil prices.
- The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) raised its benchmark repo rate by 25 basis points to 5.50% on Wednesday, marking its first hike in nearly four years and signaling that further hikes could follow amid rising inflation and a weak rupee. The RBI also shifted its stance to "calibrated tightening". This has put pressure on Indian markets and the rupee.
- Despite a robust U.S. economic growth rate of 2.8% in Q3, driven by household and defense spending, high borrowing rates have impacted housing investments, and business investments have grown modestly.

2. US & European Markets

- Wall Street futures are showing a muted red open across major benchmarks, with Dow Jones, S&P 500, Nasdaq 100, and Russell 2000 futures all slightly down.
- Mega-cap tech stocks are under scrutiny. NVIDIA (NVDA) showed a slight decrease of -0.64% in pre-market trading on October 7th, trading around $237.70. Microsoft (MSFT) also saw some institutional investors trimming positions in Q2, though its revenue and earnings per share topped consensus estimates in its last quarterly report. Tesla (TSLA) was trading around $378.45 in pre-market on October 7th, down -0.59%.
- Pre-market movers include Freshworks surging after being added to the S&P SmallCap 600 index, and monday.com rising due to an analyst upgrade and AI agent capabilities announcement. Talen Energy (TLN) is also up on a major sector-wide catalyst after Google signed a 20-year nuclear power purchase agreement with Constellation Energy.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian benchmark indices, Sensex and Nifty, opened lower on Thursday due to global weakness, rising US Treasury yields, increased crude oil prices, and continued foreign institutional selling. The Sensex declined 264.97 points to 72,408.15 and the Nifty was down 87.50 points to 22,507.65 in early trade.
- Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) offloaded equities worth Rs 6,121.37 crore on Wednesday.
- Top gainers in early Indian trading included Titan Company Ltd, Tech Mahindra Ltd, Tata Consultancy Services Ltd, Infosys Ltd, and HCL Technologies Ltd, indicating selective strength in IT and technology stocks. Major laggards included Adani Enterprises Ltd, JSW Steel Ltd, ITC Ltd, and Adani Ports.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil and Brent Crude prices climbed sharply on Thursday, with Brent surpassing $102 a barrel and WTI nearing $90. This surge is attributed to escalating attacks on tankers in the Middle East, particularly around the Strait of Hormuz, and hurricane-related production shutdowns in the US Gulf. US crude inventories also dropped by 3.2 million barrels.
- OPEC+ reached an agreement in principle to keep oil production targets for November unchanged.
- Gold prices are likely to be influenced by global interest rates, inflation expectations, currency movements, central-bank buying, and geopolitical uncertainties.
- No significant major crypto regulatory or adoption headlines were immediately available from the search results, however, general market sentiment might be influenced by broader risk-off attitudes given rising bond yields and oil prices.
