Session Highlight: New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- Federal Reserve maintains rates, but hawkish undertones persist: The FOMC held its benchmark rate steady this week, but with some dissenting members advocating for a hike, leading to an initial unwinding of hawkish bets and a slight weakening of the US Dollar. New Fed Chair Kevin Warsh has maintained a hawkish stance, emphasizing commitment to the 2% inflation target amid sticky inflation concerns.
- Global inflation remains elevated despite cooling trends: While inflation has cooled across most major economies, it remains above central bank targets in many regions, especially in developed economies, prompting continued vigilance from monetary authorities.
- China signals moderately loose monetary policy: The People's Bank of China has held interest rates at record lows, with officials signaling a "moderately loose" monetary policy for 2026, indicating potential for selective easing to support growth.

2. US & European Markets

- US Stock Market Futures point to mixed open amid AI enthusiasm: Wall Street futures are showing cautious movements, as investors digest the latest Fed signals and ongoing strength in AI-related mega-cap stocks.
- Mega-cap tech continues to drive market, but valuation concerns emerge: The "Magnificent Seven," including NVDA and MSFT, have been significant drivers of market rallies. NVDA maintains strong analyst ratings driven by AI demand, but TSLA has shown signs of demand softness and higher valuation concerns based on future cash flow.
- European growth outlook subdued by energy costs and trade tensions: Europe's growth prospects continue to face headwinds from higher energy costs, geopolitical conflicts, and global trade tensions, though a recession is deemed unlikely unless energy shocks worsen.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian equities poised for H2 2026 recovery: After a challenging first half, Indian equity markets are expected to see a constructive second half of 2026, with focus shifting to domestic earnings, liquidity, and macro fundamentals.
- Anticipation builds for major IPOs and FII return: India's primary market is set for a strong rebound with major IPO listings, including Jio Platforms and NSE, signaling renewed investor appetite. Analysts expect a return of Foreign Institutional Investors (FII) with improving earnings growth.
- Banks, NBFCs, and Consumer Discretionary sectors show strength: Specific sectors like Banks, Non-Banking Financial Companies (NBFCs), and Consumer Discretionary are showing positive momentum and are seen as attractive for investment due to improving margins and strong credit demand.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil faces supply-demand tug-of-war: OPEC+ nations agreed to cut output by 188,000 barrels per day starting August 2026, with further considerations for a freeze through January 2027. However, reports also indicate a projected supply deficit for 2026, while prices have retreated due to easing geopolitical tensions and concerns that supply growth could outpace demand in H2 2026 if normalization continues.
- Gold remains sensitive to geopolitical risks and Fed policy: Gold prices have been volatile, influenced by ongoing geopolitical conflicts and Federal Reserve policy. While some forecasts see gold pushing towards $6,000/oz by year-end, others have lowered targets, with the metal currently trading range-bound.
- Crypto market sees accelerating institutional adoption and regulatory clarity: The crypto regulatory landscape is shifting significantly, with clearer frameworks facilitating increased institutional adoption, particularly for stablecoins and asset tokenization.

STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY across Large, Mid, Small)

Ticker	Type	Strategy & Selection Reason
Reliance Industries Ltd (RIL)	Large-Cap	Nifty leader demonstrating a 50-SMA support bounce on the daily chart, aligning with positive H2 2026 outlook and strong domestic demand expectations.
ICICI Bank	Large-Cap	Exhibiting a 20/50 EMA Golden Cross on the daily chart with increasing institutional flows, driven by improving Net Interest Margins and asset quality in the banking sector.
Persistent Systems	Mid-Cap	Mid-cap IT stock showing strong relative volume (RVOL > 2.0) breakout above resistance, indicative of renewed buying interest ahead of expected H2 sectoral momentum.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVIDIA (NVDA)	Long	21-day EMA pullback observed after strong rally. Anticipating a bounce from key support given robust AI demand outlook and strong analyst sentiment.
Microsoft (MSFT)	Short	Failed 50-day SMA rejection strategy on the hourly chart following minor profit-taking and concerns over recent cloud growth projections despite overall AI strength.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Type	Strategy & Selection Reason
TransDigm Group (TDG)	Mid-Cap	Stage-2 VCP (Volatility Contraction Pattern) observed, signaling accumulation and potential breakout as aerospace and defense sectors show resilient growth.
Crocs (CROX)	Small-Cap	High Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) breakout above resistance on the daily chart, driven by positive consumer discretionary spending trends and strong product demand.

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL across Large, Mid, Small)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
Bitcoin (BTC/USD)	Long	4H 21-EMA trend following. Price bounced strongly off the 21-EMA on increased volume, signaling continuation of bullish trend supported by accelerating institutional adoption.
Ethereum (ETH/USD)	Short	High-volume volatility breakout below key support on the 4H chart, indicating a potential reversal or significant downward move amidst broader crypto market consolidation.

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
XAU/USD (Gold)	Long	Bouncing from key Fibonacci 0.618 retracement level, aligning with persistent geopolitical tensions and renewed safe-haven demand amidst global uncertainties.
WTI Crude Oil	Short	Rejected from daily pivot resistance level (R1) following reports of unexpected increase in US crude inventories and easing supply concerns, despite OPEC+ cuts.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Short-Term

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD	Long	Breaking above 4H resistance following hawkish ECB commentary from news and the recent "dovish reaction" to the Fed's hold, signaling short-term upward momentum.
GBP/USD	Short	Failed retest of daily resistance, coupled with weaker-than-expected UK manufacturing data, pointing to further downside potential.

Macro Carry Swings

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
USD/JPY	Long	Divergence in interest rate outlook (BoJ dovish, Fed hawkish undertones) supporting carry trade, with price holding above long-term trendline on renewed dollar strength.
AUD/USD	Short	Weakening commodity prices and RBA dovish tilt, making it less attractive for carry. Broke below key support after softer-than-expected inflation report.

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Type	Strategy & Selection Reason
Nifty 50 (Call)	Intraday Long	15-Minute Opening Range Breakout strategy. Nifty futures broke above the initial 15-min high on strong volume, indicating a bullish bias driven by positive domestic cues.
BankNifty (Put)	Intraday Short	15-Minute Opening Range Breakout strategy. BankNifty futures broke below the initial 15-min low on sustained selling pressure, indicating a bearish bias despite overall positive banking sector outlook, due to intraday volatility.
