CURRENT SESSION HIGHLIGHT:  New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

SESSION NEWS FOCUS: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- The US Federal Reserve recently raised its target interest rate by 0.25% in September 2026, bringing the federal funds rate to a range of 3.75% to 4.00%. This marks a shift from verbal warnings to direct policy action to combat persistent inflation amidst strong economic data, rising oil prices, and a resilient jobs market.
- Fed Chair Kevin Warsh indicated that this hike removed "a dose of accommodation," leading markets to price in the possibility of further rate increases this year.
- Japanese Finance Minister Satsuki Katayama stated that the Bank of Japan's latest rate hike was aimed at achieving its inflation target, with expectations for appropriate monetary policy coordination with the government. There are also expectations for another BOJ rate hike in December.
- The US Dollar has been strengthening against major currencies due to the hawkish Fed stance and widening US economic growth outperformance.

2. US & European Markets

- Wall Street saw a mixed sentiment with US equity markets ending Thursday's session in the red as sentiment deteriorated. However, pre-market on September 23, 2026, saw tech bulls driving index futures higher, particularly in mega-cap enterprise software.
- *Microsoft (MSFT): Microsoft closed at $498.00 on September 22, 2026, and was quoted at $503.00 in pre-market trading on September 23, up 1.00%. The stock received an upgrade from Stifel to Buy from Hold with a $575 price target, citing expectations for mid-to-upper-teens revenue growth and operating expense efficiency. Despite strong cloud growth (Azure surpassed $100 billion in annual revenue and grew 43% YoY), MSFT has lagged the S&P 500 year-to-date in 2026, gaining only 2.4% vs. S&P 500's 12%, due to aggressive capital expenditures in AI infrastructure.
- *Tesla (TSLA): TSLA share CFDs traded at $375.31 on September 22, 2026, approximately 26% above its late-July low. Tesla reopened reservations for its next-generation Roadster, leading to a 3.03% increase in shares on September 21. Elon Musk announced "high volume production" of the Semi truck, targeting 50,000 units annually. However, Goldman Sachs cut its Q3 delivery estimate, and recent Cybercab launch disappointed investors, causing a 5.92% drop on September 4, 2026.
- Mega-cap tech companies are facing questions about their ability to sustain projected high capital expenditures for AI infrastructure, with Jefferies' Chris Wood doubting $990 billion in projected 2027 capex for companies like Microsoft.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian bonds have been impacted by a Treasury rout and oil spike, with the 10-year yield jumping. Traders are closely watching oil movements ahead of the RBI decision.
- The Sensex rose over 150 points, and Nifty was above 23,050 on September 24, 2026. Strong earnings continue to propel mid and small-cap stocks.
- India recorded its highest-ever FDI of $94.53 billion in FY26.
- Noteworthy movements include Ola Electric shares tumbling 9% after a 17% rally, and OFSS shares tumbling 5% after Oracle's 'force majeure' notice for a data center project, possibly due to AI worries.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- *WTI Crude Oil: Crude oil has been dropping for a fifth straight session, creating a divergence from record-setting tech indices. West Texas Intermediate crude traded at $93.21 on Thursday, recovering some ground despite reports of a potential deal between the US and Iran. Geopolitical developments in the Middle East and a possible 90-day ban on US diesel exports are contributing to elevated energy prices and inflation risks.
- *Gold (XAU/USD): Gold is struggling near weekly lows, trading around $4276.00 as of September 25, 2026, due to a bearish fundamental backdrop, including a hawkish US Federal Reserve outlook, elevated US bond yields, and persistent geopolitical uncertainties favoring the US Dollar. Technical indicators show a bearish near-term bias, with price below the 200-period Simple Moving Average on the 4-hour chart and negative MACD. Key support levels are identified around $4254.97 and $4202.40.
- *Crypto: While no specific major crypto regulatory or adoption headlines for today were found, the broader market sentiment and the strength of the US dollar will influence crypto asset prices.

🎯 STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Screen Nifty leaders using 50-SMA support bounces or 20/50 EMA golden crosses.

Ticker	Current Price (Indicative)	Strategy & Selection Reason
Reliance Industries (RIL)	₹2,550	Nifty leader showing resilience. Assuming a bounce off its 50-SMA support in a broader positive market sentiment for Indian large-caps, as Sensex is up.
ICICI Bank	₹980	Strong financial sector performance in India. Looking for a potential 20/50 EMA golden cross on daily charts, indicating building bullish momentum.
Larsen & Toubro (L&T)	₹3,100	Infrastructure and capital goods sector strength. Assuming a bounce off 50-SMA as the broader market shows selective strength.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Screen using 21-day EMA pullbacks or 50-day SMA rejection strategy on mega-cap growth leaders.

Ticker	Current Price (Indicative)	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
Microsoft (MSFT)	$503.00 (Pre-market)	Long	Pre-market rally following an analyst upgrade to "Buy" and strong Azure growth, despite recent underperformance. A pullback towards the 21-day EMA (if it tests and holds) would offer a long entry point.
Tesla (TSLA)	$376.00 (Pre-market)	Long	Recent positive news regarding Roadster reservations and Semi truck high-volume production, leading to a recent share increase. Looking for a bounce from a 21-day EMA pullback after a strong move, anticipating continued momentum.
NVIDIA (NVDA)	$1,250	Long	Continued strong demand in the semiconductor and AI sectors. Assuming a constructive pre-market and a potential bounce from a short-term EMA pullback, leveraging the AI narrative.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Screen using Stage-2 VCP or High Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) breakouts.

Ticker	Current Price (Indicative)	Strategy & Selection Reason
RIVN (Rivian Automotive)	$18.50	Seeking a high relative volume breakout (RVOL > 2.0) on positive sector news or company-specific catalysts, indicating renewed institutional interest.
DKNG (DraftKings)	$45.00	Potential Stage-2 Volatility Contraction Pattern (VCP) breakout, suggesting accumulation and readiness for a sustained upward move.

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Screen using 4H 21-EMA trend following and high-volume volatility breakouts.

Ticker	Current Price (Indicative)	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
Bitcoin (BTC/USD)	$68,500	Short	Following a bearish trend below the 4H 21-EMA amidst a strengthening US Dollar and hawkish Fed outlook, which typically weighs on risk assets.
Ethereum (ETH/USD)	$3,800	Short	Mirroring Bitcoin's sentiment and trend following the 4H 21-EMA, especially if high-volume selling pressure is observed.
Solana (SOL/USD)	$145	Long/Short (Opportunistic)	High-volume volatility breakout play. Bi-directional approach based on confirmed breakout above/below key intraday resistance/support levels on strong volume.

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Gold (XAU/USD) and WTI Crude Oil using Pivot & Fibonacci extension levels.

Ticker	Current Price (Indicative)	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
WTI Crude Oil (CL=F)	$93.21	Short	Crude oil has been declining for five consecutive sessions. Looking for a bearish continuation, potentially targeting a Fibonacci extension level below recent support if the trend persists.
Gold (XAU/USD)	$4,276.00	Short	Bearish near-term bias due to strong USD and hawkish Fed. Targeting downside pivot points and Fibonacci retracement levels (e.g., break below $4,231 towards $4,105) for short entry.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Short-Term

EUR/USD, GBP/USD

Ticker	Current Price (Indicative)	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD	1.1375	Short	Maintains a bearish near-term bias, trading below the 20-period Exponential Moving Average (EMA). The US Dollar continues to outperform. Targeting a move towards the 1.1323 low.
GBP/USD	1.3225	Short	Under pressure and maintains a bearish near-term bias, remaining below its 20-period EMA. US Treasury yields are rallying, strengthening the USD. Targeting YTD low at 1.3140.

Macro Carry Swing

USD/JPY, AUD/USD

Ticker	Current Price (Indicative)	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
USD/JPY	158.30	Long	Firm bullish trend supported by hawkish Fed expectations and rising US interest rates. Price is testing key resistance around 158.30 (200-day SMA). Targeting late August/early September highs at 160.35.
AUD/USD	0.7012	Short	Aussie Dollar fell for the third straight day, trading near its 200-day SMA at 0.7021. Bearish near-term bias due to strong USD and Fed tightening bets. Targeting a break below 0.6906.

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Nifty 50 / BankNifty 15-Minute Opening Range Breakouts (Call for Long, Put for Short).

Index	Strategy & Execution
Nifty 50	Identify 15-minute Opening Range (OR) high and low. Go long on a sustained breakout above OR high (buy Call option). Go short on a sustained breakdown below OR low (buy Put option). Target is typically 1:1 or 1:2 risk/reward ratio to the OR width.
BankNifty	Similar to Nifty 50. Identify 15-minute Opening Range (OR) high and low. Enter long (Call) on breakout above OR high or short (Put) on breakdown below OR low. BankNifty typically offers higher volatility for this strategy.
