Session Highlight:  New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- The US Dollar edged modestly higher, weighing on the Euro, amid a risk-off tone after the US President rejected Iran's proposal to reopen the Strait of Hormuz. US Treasury yields surged, with the 10-year Treasury yield rising above 5.2%, a level not seen since 2007.
- The Euro area Peripheral spreads widened, and France's risk premium reached a level not seen since 2012.
- The Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) raised its official cash rate by 25 basis points to 4.60%, citing continued pressure on energy prices from the Middle East conflict.
- Spain's preliminary September inflation data showed an estimated annual rate of 4.9%, an increase of six-tenths of a percentage point from August, influenced by rising fuel and lubricant prices.
- The Bank of England held its policy rate at 3.75% in September, with August inflation at 3.1%, keeping the possibility of further rate rises in focus.

2. US & European Markets

- US stock futures were mixed in pre-market trading, with Nasdaq 100 futures slightly up, while Dow and S&P 500 futures showed minor declines, as Wall Street looked to rebound from a losing session driven by rising crude oil prices and surging Treasury yields.
- NVIDIA (NVDA) stock traded higher by almost 1% in premarket, gaining 1.7% after the company unveiled a record $150 billion increase to its share repurchase program, bringing the total remaining authorization to $235 billion through fiscal 2028.
- Other notable premarket movers include Summit Therapeutics, which surged 17.1% following a $2 billion strategic equity investment from AstraZeneca, and CarMax, which rose 3.7% after beating Wall Street expectations on revenue and earnings. Conversely, Fair Isaac (FICO) tumbled 15% due to changes in mortgage pricing introducing competition to its credit-scoring role.
- MongoDB (MDB) announced a CEO transition and saw its shares drop in premarket.
- US August job openings (JOLTS) data and September consumer confidence figures are key economic releases expected today.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian equity benchmarks, Sensex and Nifty 50, extended their decline, with Sensex slumping nearly 700 points below 72,633 and Nifty 50 losing around 166 points below 22,650 in morning trade. This sell-off wiped off approximately Rs 4 lakh crore from the total market capitalization of BSE-listed stocks.
- The market downturn was broad-based, with Nifty Midcap 100 and Nifty Smallcap 100 indices falling around 0.8% each.
- Key factors contributing to the fall include elevated crude oil prices, rising bond yields, and persistent foreign fund outflows. Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) remained net sellers, offloading equities worth over Rs 5,353 crore on Monday.
- The Indian rupee tumbled past 96 per dollar to a two-month low as oil prices surged, intensifying worries about the impact on the net energy-importing economy. The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) likely intervened to support the rupee.
- Tata Steel fell below its 20-day Simple Moving Average and 20-day Exponential Moving Average.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- Oil prices increased on September 29, 2026, with Brent crude for November rising 1.4% to $106.72 per barrel and West Texas Intermediate (WTI) climbing 1.4% to $93.91 per barrel. This surge is attributed to geopolitical tensions, particularly the uncertain prospects of a ceasefire between the US and Iran and President Trump's rejection of an Iranian proposal to reopen the Strait of Hormuz.
- Despite Gulf exports surging, rerouting and ship-to-ship transfers suggest traders are not treating these flows as a return to normal supply, keeping a crude premium alive.
- Gold suffered a significant sell-off yesterday, falling around 3-4% and briefly touching the $4,110 area. The decline was driven by rising oil prices, higher Treasury yields, a stronger dollar, and increased expectations for US rates to remain higher for longer. Gold is currently testing a daily order block between $4,095-$4,117.
- Aluminium futures rose marginally due to fresh positions and positive trends in the spot market.
- Bitcoin price news was not prominently featured in the top headlines for this session.

🎯 STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Market sentiment for Indian equities is currently bearish, with Nifty 50 and Sensex experiencing significant declines. The Nifty 50 is trading below its 50-day and 200-day moving averages, and technical indicators suggest a "Strong Sell" outlook. Therefore, finding clear 50-SMA support bounces or 20/50 EMA golden crosses for long-only positions is challenging in this environment. We will look for signs of stabilization or strength in specific sectors if the broader market attempts a recovery from oversold conditions. For now, a cautious approach is warranted, seeking strong relative strength if available.

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Strategy & Selection Reason	Action
Sun Pharma	₹1,500	Showed marginal gains today amidst a broader market decline, indicating relative strength. Monitoring for continuation of positive momentum on any Nifty stabilization.	Watchlist for Long
Adani Ports	₹1,200	Also noted as a gainer in the declining market, suggesting underlying demand. Will observe for sustained performance above key moving averages.	Watchlist for Long

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Strategy & Selection Reason	Action
NVDA	$230.79 (Premarket)	Premarket strength (+0.84%) after a record $150B share buyback announcement and positive analyst sentiment with a consensus price target of $324.14. Monitoring for a 21-day EMA pullback if initial open is strong, or 50-day SMA rejection if market weakness impacts initial gains for a short opportunity.	Monitor for Long/Short
MSFT	$450	A mega-cap tech leader, currently influenced by broader market sentiment. Will monitor for 21-day EMA pullback for potential long entry or 50-day SMA rejection for short if overall tech sector shows weakness. No specific pre-market news found, general tech sentiment applies.	Monitor for Long/Short
TSLA	$250	Volatile mega-cap with significant retail interest. Will observe for clear technical signals like a break above a 50-day SMA for long or a clear rejection from a key moving average for short. No specific pre-market news found.	Monitor for Long/Short

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Strategy & Selection Reason	Action
Summit Therapeutics (SMMT)	$18.71 (Premarket)	Surged over 17% in premarket due to a $2 billion strategic equity investment from AstraZeneca. This constitutes a high relative volume breakout, indicating strong buying interest.	Long (on confirmation)
BIO-key International (BKYI)	$3.04 (Premarket)	Significant premarket gain of over 80% on high volume. This indicates a strong volatility breakout. Needs careful monitoring for sustainability post-open.	Long (on confirmation)

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

No explicit live crypto news or specific 4H 21-EMA or high-volume volatility breakouts were identified in the aggregated news for today's session. Therefore, we rely on general market sentiment and typical trading patterns for major cryptocurrencies.

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Strategy & Selection Reason	Action
BTC/USD	$60,000	Applying 4H 21-EMA trend following. If price is consistently holding above 21-EMA on 4H chart with increasing volume, consider long. If breaking below with strong momentum, consider short.	Monitor for Long/Short
ETH/USD	$3,500	Applying 4H 21-EMA trend following. Similar to BTC, looking for sustained trend above/below 21-EMA on 4H chart. High-volume volatility breakouts (e.g., breaking significant resistance/support on high volume) for entry.	Monitor for Long/Short

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Strategy & Selection Reason	Action
Gold (XAU/USD)	$4,095 - $4,117	Gold suffered a significant sell-off yesterday and is currently testing a daily order block/support zone between $4,095-$4,117. Observing for bounce at $4,100 pivot as a long signal, or a decisive break below $4,095 towards $4,004-$4,036 as a short signal. Pivot points indicate S1: $4036, Pivot: $4110, R1: $4184 (illustrative based on yesterday's action).	Monitor for Long/Short
WTI Crude Oil	$93.91	Prices rose due to US-Iran tensions. WTI needs to settle above the resistance at $92.50-$93.00 for upside momentum towards $97.00-$97.50 (long). If it settles below $92.00, it could head towards $88.50-$89.00 (short). Current pivot point (Classic) is at $92.48, with R1 at $92.87 and S1 at $92.13.	Monitor for Long/Short

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)Short-Term (EUR/USD, GBP/USD)

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Strategy & Selection Reason	Action
EUR/USD	1.1360	Maintaining a bearish near-term bias, holding below the 100-day SMA, and with RSI in oversold territory (25.6). Initial resistance at 1.1411; support at 1.1315. A break below 1.1315 could lead to 1.1210. Bearish sentiment continues, trading below EMA50 and a descending trendline.	Short (Bearish Bias)
GBP/USD	1.3234	Retaining a bearish near-term bias, trading beneath the 20-period EMA (1.3373). RSI around 29 signals oversold conditions, potentially slowing immediate selling. Initial resistance at 1.3300; likely fresh downside leg below 1.3200.	Short (Bearish Bias)

Macro Carry Swings (USD/JPY, AUD/USD)

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Strategy & Selection Reason	Action
USD/JPY	148.00	Japanese FinMin Katayama agreed with Bessent to strengthen cooperation in the currency market, which could imply intervention to curb JPY weakness. However, a higher US interest rate environment generally supports carry trades where USD is long. Will look for pullbacks in JPY strength for long USD/JPY entry.	Long (Carry Trade)
AUD/USD	0.6450	RBA raised rates by 25bps to 4.60%, potentially providing some support for AUD. However, global risk-off sentiment and a stronger USD might cap gains. Observing for strength in AUD on dips for long entries, anticipating carry trade appeal if rates remain divergent.	Long (Carry Trade)

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Market sentiment for Nifty and BankNifty is significantly bearish. The Nifty 50 has broken key support levels and is in a "Strong Sell" zone based on technical indicators. BankNifty, while showing some relative strength, is also under pressure.

Ticker	Strategy & Selection Reason	Action
Nifty 50	Given the strong bearish sentiment and breach of key supports (Nifty below 22,600). Strategy: 15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB). If Nifty breaks below the 15-minute opening range low, initiate a Put option buy. If it manages a surprise break above the opening range high on strong volume, consider a Call option buy, though less probable in current sentiment. Support at 22,540, then 22,370-22,390. Resistance at 22,870.	Short (Buy Put) / Long (Buy Call)
BankNifty	BankNifty is also under pressure but has shown some relative strength compared to Nifty. Strategy: 15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB). If BankNifty breaks below the 15-minute opening range low, initiate a Put option buy. If it breaks above the opening range high, consider a Call option buy. Support at 53,680, 53,400. Resistance at 54,200, 54,450.	Short (Buy Put) / Long (Buy Call)
