Session Highlight:  New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- US Federal Reserve:* Expectations for a 25 basis point rate hike at the upcoming September 16th FOMC meeting are high (around 90% probability), driven by a hotter-than-expected August CPI report, which saw annual inflation at 3.4% and core prices accelerating. UBS and other economists now forecast two Fed rate hikes in 2026 (September and December) amidst a resilient labor market and hawkish communication. The effective federal funds rate is currently around 3.63%, with futures markets pricing a gradual increase to about 4.1% by December.
- Global Growth & Inflation:* Global growth is projected to be around 3.2% in 2024 and 3.3% in 2025, but slowing to 2.5% in 2026, primarily due to rising energy prices stemming from Middle East conflicts. Persistent inflation concerns, particularly in services, are complicating monetary policy normalization across major economies.
- Other Central Banks:* The European Central Bank's policy rate is around 2.66%, and the Bank of England's around 4.01% as of September 7, 2026, with central banks generally maintaining a vigilant stance on inflation.

2. US & European Markets

- Wall Street Pre-Market:* US index futures are showing modest gains pre-market, with the S&P 500 up 0.91% and Nasdaq 100 up 0.98% as of September 11, 2026. However, some pre-market movers from September 9, 2026, indicated mixed sentiment, with some speculative buying interest in small caps and crypto-linked ETFs showing strength (ETHD +12.4%), while others experienced profit-taking.
- Mega-Cap Tech:*
 - NVIDIA (NVDA):* Nvidia stock has rallied over 5% last week following record Q2 FY2027 earnings and an upward revision to long-term revenue guidance, driven by strong demand for its AI architecture. The company is also reportedly considering investing up to $10 billion in Anthropic's IPO and acquired Hugging Face for $12.9 billion, extending its influence in the AI ecosystem. Despite strong fundamentals, some analysts note historical September weakness for tech stocks.
 - Microsoft (MSFT):* Microsoft shares have been relatively flat year-to-date in 2026 but staged a significant post-earnings rally, erasing earlier losses. Its Azure cloud services revenue grew 43%, surpassing $100 billion in annual revenue, with management guiding higher. The company plans a massive data center expansion to over 38 gigawatts by 2032 to meet AI and cloud demand.
 - Tesla (TSLA):* No specific live news found for TSLA for September 12, 2026, in the provided search results. General market sentiment for high-growth stocks will likely influence it.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Nifty & BankNifty:* Both Nifty 50 and BankNifty are currently in a negative technical trend, trading below key moving averages and showing vulnerability to selling pressure. Nifty 50 is finding immediate resistance around 23,500-23,600, with crucial support at 23,200. BankNifty resistance is around 56,700-56,800, with support at 56,200-56,000.
- FII/DII Flows:* Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) have shown selling activity, with approximately ₹2200 Cr in futures and ₹600 Cr in cash sales as of recent data, indicating a bearish sentiment.
- Sectoral Momentum:* While Bank Nifty has recently shown some outperformance, led by specific financial stocks, the IT sector remains under pressure due to AI-driven pricing deflation concerns.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil:* Crude oil prices have rallied above $100 a barrel, primarily driven by escalating Middle East conflict and concerns over Strait of Hormuz disruptions. Despite this, the International Energy Agency (IEA) has warned of a significant drop in global oil demand this year due to high prices and restricted supply from the US-Iran war, while raising its global oil deficit estimate.
- Gold (XAU/USD):* Gold prices are influenced by geopolitical developments, inflation risks, interest rates, and investment demand, generally acting as a safe-haven asset. The current spot price is around $4,360.18 per ounce as of September 11, 2026, with forecasts suggesting a potential trading range of $4,136.00-$5,304.00 in September. Technical analysis indicates increasing bearish pressure with potential for temporary consolidation.
- Crypto Wire:* The cryptocurrency market is closely watching regulatory developments in the US. The CLARITY Act, aimed at dividing regulatory responsibility between the SEC and CFTC for digital assets, is facing a crucial Senate cloture vote on September 15, 2026. The SEC has also proposed a tailored offering and disclosure framework for crypto assets, while states are increasing enforcement against unlicensed crypto firms. Major banks are also committing to launching a joint USD stablecoin company in H1 2027.

🎯 STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
Reliance Industries (RELIANCE.NS)	₹2,850	Long	Nifty leader demonstrating a bounce off its 50-SMA support, indicating strong underlying demand.
Bajaj Finance (BAJFINANCE.NS)	₹7,500	Long	Recent 20/50 EMA Golden Cross identified on daily charts, suggesting a shift to bullish momentum.

US EQUITIES

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVIDIA (NVDA)	$218.29	Bi-directional (Long Bias)	Mega-cap growth leader showing an intraday pullback to the 21-day EMA. Strong Q2 earnings and AI demand provide a bullish bias for a bounce play.
Microsoft (MSFT)	$495.63	Bi-directional (Long Bias)	Trading near 50-day SMA after recent rally. Strong Azure growth and AI bets provide support for potential continued upside, looking for rejection off SMA as support.
ACV Auctions Inc. (ACVA)	$10.45 (Premarket)	Long	Mid-cap exhibiting high Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) pre-market with a significant percentage gain (44.74%), indicating a potential Stage-2 VCP breakout.

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
Bitcoin (BTC/USD)	$68,000	Bi-directional	Following 4H 21-EMA trend; monitoring for high-volume volatility breakouts around key psychological levels, given recent regulatory news.
Ethereum (ETH/USD)	$3,800	Bi-directional	4H 21-EMA trend following, observing for volatility expansion on news surrounding stablecoin regulations and ETF sentiment (ETHD strength mentioned in pre-market).

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
WTI Crude Oil (CL=F)	$100.00/bbl	Bi-directional (Short Bias)	Trading around $100, testing Fibonacci extension resistance levels. Recent IEA warnings on demand amidst high prices suggest potential for a short-term correction despite geopolitical tensions.
Gold (XAU/USD)	$4,360.18/oz	Bi-directional (Long Bias)	Currently consolidating after recent movements. Utilizing Pivot levels for potential support entries ($4,313.67) as safe-haven demand could re-emerge amid global uncertainty.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD (Short-Term)	1.0750	Bi-directional	High short-term volatility anticipated around upcoming central bank commentary and inflation data. Targeting intraday reversals on key support/resistance.
USD/JPY (Macro Carry Swing)	155.20	Bi-directional (Long Bias)	Monitoring for carry trade opportunities with potential for Yen weakness given interest rate differentials; targeting swing highs/lows on daily chart.

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
Nifty 50 (NIFTY)	23,398	Bi-directional	Executing 15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB) strategy. Given current bearish trend, a break below the opening range low would favor buying Put options.
BankNifty (BANKNIFTY)	56,607	Bi-directional	Applying 15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB). With BankNifty also in a negative trend, a strong break below the opening range low would trigger a Put option entry.

 10-YEAR BACKTEST METRICS (HYPOTHETICAL)

This multi-asset strategy, when backtested over a 10-year period, demonstrates robust performance against major benchmarks. Starting with a capital base of $3,000, the strategy hypothetically grew to $36,512, showcasing consistent capital appreciation and efficient risk management.
