Date: Friday, September 19, 2026

Session: New York Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- The Federal Reserve concluded its sixth meeting of the year on September 16, 2026, by raising the federal funds rate (FFR) by 25 basis points to a target range of 3.75%-4%. This marks the first rate hike since 2023.
- Markets are currently pricing in one more 25-basis-point interest rate hike in 2026, with further hikes extending into 2027.
- Fed officials' year-end rate projections are between 4.1% and 4.4% (September 2026 dot plot).
- The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System also voted to raise the interest rate paid on reserve balances to 3.90% and increased the primary credit rate to 4.0%, both effective September 17, 2026.
- Persistent inflation, driven by elevated energy prices, was a key factor in the Fed's decision.

2. US & European Markets

- US stock futures are currently flat as Treasury yields ease slightly after hitting multiyear highs earlier this week.
- The S&P 500 closed slightly higher on September 19, supported by semiconductor and AI stocks, despite weak broader market participation.
- Concerns exist that AI technology has advanced "too far, too fast," leading to declines in tech stocks earlier in the week, including NVDA, AMD, and Intel.
- NVIDIA (NVDA): A16z Perennial Management L.P. significantly reduced its position in NVIDIA by 91.4% during Q2. Director Mark Stevens and CFO Colette Kress also sold substantial shares in early September. However, NVIDIA reported strong Q2 FY27 revenue of $96.2 billion, up 106% year-over-year, beating estimates, driven by accelerating AI demand. The company projects Q3 FY27 revenue of $108.0 billion.
- Microsoft (MSFT): Microsoft stock is facing new regulatory rules but is seen as able to turn this friction into accelerating cloud and AI momentum. J. L. Bainbridge & Co. Inc. slightly lowered its stake in Microsoft, but overall, institutional holdings remain significant. Microsoft declared a quarterly dividend increase of 8% to $0.98 per share, payable on December 10, 2026.
- Tesla (TSLA): TSLA stock slipped this week as investors await Q2 earnings and progress on its Semi truck. The company has opened a new public Megacharger station in Bloomington, California, as part of its network expansion. Tesla's robotaxi/Cybercab strategy faces potential complications from a NHTSA investigation, which could initially constrain rollout.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Moody's upgraded India's FY27 real GDP growth forecast from 6% to 7%, citing robust domestic consumption and investment resilience.
- India is beginning to export domestically designed and manufactured semiconductor chips, with stronger design capabilities expected to drive the sector's next phase.
- Corporate advance tax collections rose 18% year-on-year, while direct tax receipts increased 13%, indicating strong economic activity.
- However, India's stock market may face a tougher road ahead as global investors show reluctance due to foreign money flowing towards AI winners in other Asian markets. Unless earnings improve and FDI picks up, Indian equities could struggle.
- Jindal Supreme (India) Ltd's IPO, with a price band of ₹88-₹93, closed its subscription on September 18, 2026, and is scheduled for listing on September 23, 2026.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil: Crude oil prices tumbled below $100 a barrel on September 18, falling for a third consecutive session. WTI oil is at $99.53/barrel and Brent oil is at $103.19/barrel today.
- Markets expect the closure of Saudi Arabia's key pipeline to have a smaller impact on supplies than initially feared. Reports suggest Saudi Arabia aims to restore half the pipeline's daily flows.
- OPEC+ approved a production increase of 188,000 barrels per day (bbl/d) for September 2026, completing the phased rollback of additional voluntary output cuts. However, sources suggest OPEC+ intends to pause any further increases after this final rise in September. Geopolitical tensions and Middle East conflict continue to add unpredictability to oil prices.
- Gold (XAU/USD): Gold prices experienced a sharp reversal on September 17, rebounding above US$4,300 after the Federal Reserve raised interest rates. Spot gold is trading near $4,380 per ounce. Higher interest rates can put short-term pressure on gold, but the impact may not be straightforward if the hike is priced in. Goldman Sachs projects gold prices to reach $4,900 per ounce by year-end 2026 due to strong central bank demand and scaled-back US rate hike expectations.
- Crypto: US spot crypto ETFs experienced combined net outflows of $70.7 million during the week of September 14-18, mainly due to significant withdrawals from Ether funds. Bitcoin ETFs saw a modest net inflow of $6.1 million, boosted by a strong $433 million inflow on Friday as Bitcoin prices rose above $80,000 following the Federal Reserve rate hike. Solana ETFs attracted $60.7 million.

🎯 STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & LEVEL EXECUTION MANUAL

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Strategy: Screen Nifty leaders using 50-SMA support bounces or 20/50 EMA golden crosses.

Ticker	Current Price (Simulated)	50-SMA/20-EMA/50-EMA (Simulated)	Strategy & Selection Reason
Reliance Industries (RELIANCE)	₹2,850	50-SMA: ₹2,820	Reliance has shown strong support at its 50-day Simple Moving Average (SMA) in recent sessions. A bounce from this key moving average indicates underlying strength and potential for an upward move. Entry on confirmation of bounce, target previous swing high.
HDFC Bank (HDFCBANK)	₹1,620	20-EMA: ₹1,595 50-EMA: ₹1,570	HDFC Bank is exhibiting a bullish setup with its 20-EMA crossing above the 50-EMA (Golden Cross), suggesting increasing short-term momentum. A strong candle close above these EMAs validates the long entry.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL): Screen using 21-day EMA pullbacks or 50-day SMA rejection strategy on mega-cap growth leaders.

Ticker	Current Price (Simulated)	21-EMA/50-SMA (Simulated)	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVIDIA (NVDA)	$222.27	21-day EMA: $218	NVDA has pulled back to its 21-day Exponential Moving Average (EMA) after a strong run. This presents a potential long entry opportunity if the price finds support and shows a reversal candle off the 21-EMA, indicating a continuation of the short-term uptrend.
Microsoft (MSFT)	$493.78	50-day SMA: $505	MSFT is currently trading below its 50-day Simple Moving Average (SMA), which is acting as resistance. A rejection of the 50-SMA with bearish price action would signal a potential short opportunity, targeting recent support levels.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY): Screen using Stage-2 VCP or High Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) breakouts.

Ticker	Current Price (Simulated)	RVOL (Simulated)	Strategy & Selection Reason
Robinhood Markets (HOOD)	$119.82	RVOL: 2.5	HOOD is exhibiting high Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) on a breakout above a consolidation pattern, suggesting strong institutional accumulation and a potential Stage-2 advance. This indicates significant buying interest and momentum.

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Strategy: Screen using 4H 21-EMA trend following and high-volume volatility breakouts.

Ticker	Current Price (Simulated)	4H 21-EMA (Simulated)	Strategy & Selection Reason
Bitcoin (BTC/USD)	$80,200	4H 21-EMA: $79,500	Bitcoin is trending above its 4-hour 21-EMA, indicating a strong short-term uptrend. A high-volume volatility breakout above recent resistance confirms the long entry. Price action suggests continued upward momentum after the recent Fed rate hike.
Ethereum (ETH/USD)	$4,850	4H 21-EMA: $4,900	Ethereum is currently trading below its 4-hour 21-EMA and has shown significant outflows from Ether funds recently. A rejection of the 21-EMA on a retest, coupled with increased selling volume, could signal a short opportunity.

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Strategy: Gold (XAU/USD) and WTI Crude Oil using Pivot & Fibonacci extension levels.

Ticker	Current Price (Simulated)	Key Levels (Simulated)	Strategy & Selection Reason
Gold (XAU/USD)	$4,378.39	Pivot: $4,331.34 R1: $4,396.15 S1: $4,281.62	Gold has rebounded post-Fed rate hike and is trading above its daily pivot. A break above Resistance 1 ($4,396.15) would signal a continuation of the upward momentum, targeting further Fibonacci extension levels. Support at $4,281.62.
WTI Crude Oil	$99.53	Pivot: $104.97 R1: $107.32 S1: $102.76	WTI Crude Oil prices are declining and trading below key pivots. A break below Support 1 ($102.76) with confirming volume could trigger a short trade, targeting lower Fibonacci retracement levels. Geopolitical easing is contributing to downward pressure.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Short-Term (EUR/USD, GBP/USD) & Macro Carry Swings (USD/JPY, AUD/USD).

Ticker	Current Price (Simulated)	Key Levels (Simulated)	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD	1.0850	Daily Resistance: 1.0880 Daily Support: 1.0820	The recent Fed rate hike has strengthened the USD. EUR/USD is showing short-term bearish momentum. A break below the daily support at 1.0820 would confirm a short entry, targeting lower swing lows.
USD/JPY	150.15	Weekly Resistance: 150.50 Weekly Support: 149.80	USD/JPY continues to exhibit strength, driven by the widening interest rate differential in a carry trade scenario. A pullback towards 149.80 (weekly support) presents a long entry opportunity, expecting a rebound towards 150.50 and higher.

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Strategy: Nifty 50 / BankNifty 15-Minute Opening Range Breakouts (Call for Long, Put for Short).

Ticker	Opening Range (9:15-9:30 IST) (Simulated)	Breakout Level (Simulated)	Strategy & Selection Reason
Nifty 50 (Index Options)	High: 22,180 Low: 22,100	Long Entry: Close above 22,180 Short Entry: Close below 22,100	The Nifty 50 is set for an Opening Range Breakout (ORB). A decisive 15-minute candle close above the opening high (22,180) would trigger a Call option purchase. Conversely, a close below the opening low (22,100) would trigger a Put option purchase. Stop loss at the opposite end of the range. This strategy capitalizes on early market momentum.
BankNifty (Index Options)	High: 47,850 Low: 47,700	Long Entry: Close above 47,850 Short Entry: Close below 47,700	BankNifty is highly liquid and volatile, making it ideal for ORB. A strong 15-minute candle close above 47,850 signals a Call option purchase. A close below 47,700 indicates a Put option purchase. Strict risk management (stop loss at the opposite range boundary) is crucial given leverage.
