Current Session Highlight:  London Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: Heavily focused on European macroeconomic releases, ECB/BOE news, Forex short-term futures (EUR/USD, GBP/USD), and Gold (XAU/USD) supply/demand zones.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- The Federal Reserve implemented its first rate hike since 2023 in September, increasing the target range by 25 basis points to 3.75%-4.00%, with projections indicating further tightening and a "higher-for-longer" policy through year-end 2027.
- Fed Chair Kevin Warsh reiterated the commitment to price stability as inflation remains above target for a fifth consecutive year. Markets are pricing in a 66% probability of another Fed hike in October.
- The European Central Bank (ECB) has also raised rates twice this year, bringing the deposit rate to 2.50% amidst persistent inflation and growing growth risks. Euro area flash inflation for September is anticipated to rise to 3.7%, the highest since September 2023, driven by energy prices.
- The Bank of England (BoE) maintained its benchmark interest rate at 3.75% in its recent meeting. However, a significant minority of three members voted for an immediate hike to 4% as headline inflation hit a five-month high of 3.1%, with staff projections suggesting it could approach 4% early next year.
- US 10-year Treasury yields surged to 5.225% (a 2007 high) and 30-year yields reached 5.502% (a 2004 high) on Thursday, fueled by robust economic data, persistent inflation, and subdued demand for government debt.
- The US dollar is currently favored by the Fed's tightening policy. The Japanese Yen strengthened following comments from Japan's Minister of Finance regarding concerns over currency weakness.
- Geopolitical tensions, particularly reports of potential US-Iran truce talks, are impacting crude oil prices, amidst ongoing Middle East conflict.

2. US & European Markets

- US equity market futures indicated a positive open on Friday, September 25, as investors anticipated a rebound after Thursday's sell-off.
- The S&P 500 and Nasdaq were on track for weekly gains (0.7% and 1.6% respectively), primarily driven by mega-cap technology stocks, despite a volatile trading week. The Dow Jones Industrial Average was poised for its fourth consecutive weekly decline.
- Akamai Technologies surged over 15% in pre-market trading on Friday following an $11.6 billion cloud services deal with AI company Anthropic. Synopsys also saw a rise after an HSBC upgrade citing AI benefits.
- European financial markets are facing resilience tests from stretched technology valuations and heightened geopolitical tensions, compounded by persistent inflation and weaker economic growth.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian equity benchmarks closed higher on Friday, September 25, with the Nifty reclaiming the 23,100 mark, although mid-cap stocks underperformed.
- The Sensex rose 315 points to 73,896, and the Nifty gained 77 points to close at 23,141. However, the Nifty registered its seventh consecutive weekly loss, marking its longest losing streak since the COVID-19 period.
- The Realty and Auto sectors demonstrated strong performance, while the IT and Pharma sectors experienced declines.
- Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) were net sellers for the week ending September 25, offloading ₹11,490.03 crore, including ₹3,693.93 crore on Friday. Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIs) remained net buyers, purchasing ₹16,398.15 crore for the week and ₹2,838.17 crore on Friday.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- Crude oil prices declined on Friday amidst conflicting reports of potential US-Iran truce talks and fresh security risks in the Middle East, including a Houthi missile attack on Saudi Arabia. Brent crude fell to $105/barrel and WTI to $93/barrel.
- Gold (XAU/USD) was heading for a weekly loss, trading near $4,300/ounce on Friday, primarily pressured by elevated bond yields and a stronger US dollar.
- Cryptocurrency markets saw significant regulatory developments on September 25. The CFTC is advancing its efforts to regulate digital assets, having submitted a proposal to the White House for review.
- SoFi and Mastercard launched a stablecoin settlement system, and the SEC issued updated guidance on crypto asset classification. Bitcoin (BTC) was trading below $84,000 on Friday, after briefly topping $87,000 earlier in the week.

 STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS (Illustrative Examples)

Note: As this is a simulated briefing on a non-trading day, the tickers below are illustrative examples based on recent market conditions and typical strategy application, rather than real-time data. A live trading environment would require dynamic real-time screening.

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Sector	Strategy & Selection Reason	Key Levels / Entry Criteria
Tata Motors (TATAMOTORS)	Auto	Nifty leader showing a 50-SMA support bounce in a sector exhibiting strong momentum.	Long Entry: On confirmation of bounce from 50-SMA. Stop Loss: Below previous swing low. Target: Previous swing high / resistance.
DLF Ltd (DLF)	Realty	Sectoral leader exhibiting strong relative strength, potentially forming a 20/50 EMA golden cross, indicating upward momentum.	Long Entry: Upon confirmation of 20/50 EMA golden cross. Stop Loss: Below 50-EMA. Target: Extension towards new highs.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Sector	Strategy & Selection Reason	Key Levels / Entry Criteria
Microsoft (MSFT)	Mega-cap Tech	Strong mega-cap growth leader showing a healthy pullback to its 21-day EMA, offering a potential long entry if support holds.	Long Entry: Bounce from 21-day EMA. Stop Loss: Below 21-day EMA. Target: Previous high/resistance.
Nvidia (NVDA)	Semiconductor/AI	Leading AI beneficiary, watching for a 50-day SMA rejection if market sentiment deteriorates, signaling a potential short opportunity.	Short Entry: Rejection from 50-day SMA with bearish confirmation. Stop Loss: Above 50-day SMA. Target: Next support level/EMA.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Sector	Strategy & Selection Reason	Key Levels / Entry Criteria
Akamai Technologies (AKAM)	Cloud Computing	Mid-cap company with recent significant positive news (Anthropic deal) leading to high relative volume (RVOL > 2.0) breakout.	Long Entry: Confirmation of breakout with sustained high volume. Stop Loss: Below breakout level. Target: Price extension based on volume/momentum.
MP Materials (MP)	Materials (Small-Cap)	Potential Stage-2 VCP (Volatility Contraction Pattern) setup on daily/weekly charts, indicating accumulation before a breakout.	Long Entry: Breakout above VCP pivot point on increased volume. Stop Loss: Below VCP base/support. Target: Measured move from VCP.

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Category	Strategy & Selection Reason	Key Levels / Entry Criteria
Bitcoin (BTC/USD)	Large-Cap Crypto	4H 21-EMA trend following. Recent price moderation after early-week gains suggests potential for mean reversion or trend continuation.	Long Entry: Bounce and close above 4H 21-EMA. Short Entry: Rejection and close below 4H 21-EMA. Stop Loss: Beyond EMA/recent swing. Target: Next support/resistance.
Ethereum (ETH/USD)	Large-Cap Crypto	High-volume volatility breakout. Watching for a strong move on significant volume after a period of consolidation, indicating directional conviction.	Long Entry: Breakout above resistance on high volume. Short Entry: Breakdown below support on high volume. Stop Loss: Opposite side of breakout/breakdown. Target: Measured move.

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Instrument	Strategy & Selection Reason	Key Levels / Entry Criteria (Illustrative)
