

Daily Multi-Asset Trading Blueprint & Level Execution Manual

Date: Friday, August 14, 2026
Session: New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)
Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- Softer-than-expected US Producer Price Index (PPI) and Consumer Price Index (CPI) data for July have reduced expectations for a Federal Reserve rate hike in September, with traders now pricing in a two-thirds chance of the Fed holding rates steady.
- Boston Fed President Susan Collins indicated she would be prepared to support a rate increase in September if economic data necessitates tighter policy.
- The US Dollar has weakened following the benign inflation prints, though geopolitical uncertainty is tempering significant downside momentum.
- In Europe, a growing consensus suggests the European Central Bank (ECB) is likely to raise the deposit facility rate by 25 basis points in September, with expectations for rates to remain elevated through 2027.
- Global debt surged to a record $353 trillion in early 2026, driven by government spending, corporate debt, and AI investments, with the US and China as major contributors to widening global imbalances.

2. US & European Markets

- The S&P 500 closed at a fresh record high on Thursday, clearing 7,800 for the first time, with the Nasdaq Composite and Dow Jones Industrial Average also ending higher.
- US stock futures are mixed in pre-market trading, with S&P 500 futures flat and Dow Jones Industrial Average futures down slightly, while Nasdaq futures are edging higher.
- Shares of Reddit (RDDT) soared 12.4% in premarket trading as the social media platform prepares to join the S&P 500 index.
- Mega-cap US stocks showed mixed pre-market movement; the Roundhill Magnificent Seven ETF (MAGS) edged down slightly, while Nvidia (NVDA) showed a modest pre-market gain after a strong rally earlier in the week. SpaceX (SPCX) also saw premarket gains.
- European markets are trading mixed, with Germany's DAX climbing 0.6% while the UK's FTSE 100 and France's CAC 40 were flat. Valneva (VLA FP) jumped 8.3% in pre-market after EMA validated its Lyme disease vaccine candidate.
- US July retail sales fell 0.6%, missing economists' forecasts, but restaurant spending increased, indicating steady nominal growth.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian benchmark indices, Sensex and Nifty, are expected to open lower today amid mixed global cues and persistent geopolitical tensions in the Middle East, particularly the U.S.-Iran impasse pushing crude oil prices higher.
- On Thursday, the Sensex gained 113.61 points, while the Nifty 50 settled 40.10 points lower, closing below the 24,400 level.
- Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) offloaded equities worth ₹510.69 crore on Thursday, marking their third consecutive session of selling, indicating a drag on the domestic market.
- The Nifty 50 managed to defend the 24,325 support zone, maintaining near-term strength despite weakening momentum indicators. The 20-day EMA continues to act as an important short-term support zone for Nifty.
- Sector-wise, Consumer Durables rose nearly 1%, outperforming peers, while Pharma, Bank, and Realty sectors underperformed.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil and Brent Crude prices are rising today and are set for weekly gains after the United States threatened an indefinite naval blockade of Iran, intensifying concerns about disruptions to crude supplies from the Strait of Hormuz. Brent crude is around $88.50 a barrel and WTI at $82.81 a barrel.
- Despite geopolitical tensions, US commercial crude stockpiles surged by 17.4 million barrels last week, the largest weekly build since January 2023, and the IEA cut its 2026 global demand forecast. This presents conflicting pressures on oil prices.
- Gold prices experienced an intraday recovery today after an initial dip, attempting to form a higher low. This comes despite softer US inflation data, as oil-driven inflation risks continue to cap its rally. Gold is trading near $4,376 an ounce.
- The broader cryptocurrency market continues to exhibit volatility, with major digital assets reacting to broader macro sentiment and ongoing regulatory discussions.

STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy	Strategy & Selection Reason
BHARTIARTL (Bharti Airtel)	Long	50-SMA Support Bounce	Selected as a Nifty leader that showed strength yesterday within the Sensex pack. Anticipating a bounce from its 50-SMA as the broader market finds support after a few down days.
TITAN (Titan Company)	Long	20/50 EMA Golden Cross	A strong Consumer Durables stock that may be forming a bullish golden cross, indicating upward momentum continuation after the recent market consolidation.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVDA (NVIDIA Corp.)	Long/Short	21-day EMA Pullback	Following a strong rally earlier in the week, NVDA may experience a healthy pullback to its 21-day EMA, offering a potential long entry. Short opportunity on failure to hold EMA.
MSFT (Microsoft Corp.)	Long/Short	50-day SMA Rejection	Mega-cap leader within the Magnificent Seven. Monitoring for a rejection of its 50-day SMA if upward momentum fades, indicating a short opportunity, or a strong bounce for a long entry.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy	Strategy & Selection Reason
RDDT (Reddit, Inc.)	Long	High Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) Breakout	Soared 12.4% in premarket trading on news of joining the S&P 500. This news is expected to drive high relative volume and potential breakout past premarket highs.
VALN (Valneva SE ADR)	Long	Stage-2 VCP Breakout	European biotech company that jumped 8.3% in pre-market after positive EMA news. Looking for a Stage-2 Volatility Contraction Pattern (VCP) breakout on the daily chart for continued upward momentum after the news catalyst.

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy	Strategy & Selection Reason
BTC/USD (Bitcoin Futures)	Long/Short	4H 21-EMA Trend Following	Major crypto asset, suitable for trend-following. Will utilize the 4-hour 21-EMA to identify short-term bullish or bearish trends for entry and exit points.
ETH/USD (Ethereum Futures)	Long/Short	High-Volume Volatility Breakout	Second-largest crypto by market cap, often exhibiting high-volume volatility. Targeting breakouts above or below consolidation zones on significant volume for directional plays.

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy	Strategy & Selection Reason
XAU/USD (Gold Futures)	Long/Short	Pivot & Fibonacci Extension Levels	Gold is experiencing intraday recovery after softer US inflation data but capped by oil-driven inflation risks. Using daily pivots and Fibonacci extensions to identify key support for long entries or resistance for short entries.
WTI Crude Oil Futures	Long/Short	Pivot & Fibonacci Extension Levels	Crude oil is volatile, rising due to geopolitical tensions but with a large US crude build. Employing pivot points and Fibonacci extensions to pinpoint critical price levels for tactical long or short trades amidst supply and demand conflicting signals.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD Futures	Long/Short	Short-Term Trend Following	USD weakened on softer PPI, with EUR/USD advancing cautiously. Seeking short-term trends on lower timeframes (e.g., 1H, 4H) for tactical trades, capitalizing on momentum shifts.
USD/JPY Futures	Long/Short	Macro Carry Swing	USD weakening generally, but geopolitical uncertainty may temper further downside, potentially impacting carry trade dynamics. Analyzing higher timeframe (Daily/Weekly) for carry trade opportunities based on interest rate differentials and macro drivers.

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy	Strategy & Selection Reason
NIFTY50 Futures (Options)	Call/Put	15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB)	Nifty 50 traded lacklustre yesterday but held 20EMA support; 24,400 is resistance. Will use the 15-minute opening range breakout strategy. A break above the range suggests a Call option entry; a break below suggests a Put option entry.
BANKNIFTY Futures (Options)	Call/Put	15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB)	Bank Nifty opened weak and settled range-bound yesterday, with 57,900-58,000 as immediate resistance. Applying the 15-minute ORB strategy for directional trades, targeting volatility after market open.
