Session Highlight: New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- The Federal Reserve (Fed) policy announcement is scheduled for Wednesday, July 29, 2026, with investors widely expecting interest rates to remain unchanged in the range of 3.50%-3.75%. However, there's an unusually high level of uncertainty, with some analysts predicting a surprise hike and the CME FedWatch tool indicating an 80.8% chance of a September hike.
- The European Central Bank (ECB) is expected to maintain its hawkish stance, with some policymakers suggesting at least one more rate increase may be needed to curb inflation, despite a weaker economic outlook.
- The Bank of England (BoE) is also set to announce its monetary policy on Thursday, with expectations for rates to remain steady at 3.75%.
- The Bank of Japan (BoJ) is expected to leave interest rates unchanged on Friday, maintaining an accommodative stance that continues to pressure the Japanese Yen (JPY).
- The US Dollar (USD) remains resilient, supported by expectations of a restrictive Fed policy and geopolitical risk premiums, despite oil price declines.

2. US & European Markets

- Wall Street futures indicate a cautious pre-market open amid mixed global cues and ongoing uncertainty surrounding the Fed's policy decision.
- Mega-cap US tech stocks, including those in the semiconductor sector, are experiencing a global sell-off driven by doubts about AI spending and profit-taking. This has led to a "chip rout" that has deepened in Asian markets and exerted pressure on US tech valuations.
- Concerns over stretched AI valuations and mega-IPO liquidity are weighing on sentiment in the technology sector.
- European equities have shown some resilience, potentially benefiting from lower oil prices.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian equity benchmark indices, Sensex and Nifty, opened flat to slightly lower today amid mixed global cues and FII selling pressure.
- Crude oil prices extending their decline due to US-Iran peace talks provided some relief.
- The Nifty 50 is trading below 24,000, with 23,800-23,900 as immediate support and 24,100-24,200 as key resistance.
- The Nifty IT sector has notably gained, outperforming its peers, amid a broader rout in global chip stocks.
- Corporate earnings are in focus, with some companies reporting varied Q1 results (e.g., Radico Khaitan's profit rose, Ambuja Cements' dropped).
- FIIs (Foreign Institutional Investors) are reportedly exiting domestic markets, contributing to uncertainty.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil prices are sliding, falling to around $81.16 a barrel, after a significant drop on Monday. This is largely due to cautious optimism surrounding potential US-Iran peace talks, easing geopolitical risk premiums that had been priced in.
- However, concerns about Gulf shipping disruptions and tight physical supplies persist, with net crude and refined-product exports via the Strait of Hormuz remaining well below normal levels.
- Gold is under pressure as the USD rebounds ahead of the FOMC meeting.
- In the crypto market, Bitcoin has fallen sharply towards $63,000, triggering significant liquidations, as investors reduce exposure ahead of the Federal Reserve meeting.
- Regulatory news includes Franklin Templeton, BlackRock, and Fidelity backing the Clarity Act for clearer crypto regulation. However, the New York Attorney General is urging Congress to strengthen crypto regulations, warning against proposed federal legislation that could weaken state consumer protection.
- Brazil's crypto-based cross-border flows, largely driven by stablecoins, have overtaken traditional capital movements, though the IMF notes deficiencies in custody and travel rule compliance.
- Flipster, a global cryptocurrency trading platform, has secured a full operational Exchange license from Dubai's VARA, enabling regulated virtual asset services in the UAE.

STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Current Sentiment	Strategy & Selection Reason
TCS (Tata Consultancy Services)	Bullish	Exhibiting strong momentum, leading gains in Nifty IT sector which is outperforming despite global tech rout. Potential 50-SMA support bounce or 20/50 EMA golden cross forming, indicating continued upside.
Infosys	Bullish	Similar to TCS, Infosys is showing strength in the IT sector. Screening for a confirmed 20/50 EMA golden cross or a bounce off 50-SMA as part of Nifty leaders.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Current Sentiment	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVDA (NVIDIA Corp)	Bearish / Volatile	Affected by "chip rout" and AI spending doubts. Monitoring for a 21-day EMA pullback for a potential long entry if support holds, or a 50-day SMA rejection for a short opportunity if bearish sentiment deepens.
MSFT (Microsoft Corp)	Neutral to Bearish	Part of the mega-cap growth leaders potentially facing profit-taking. Watching for a 21-day EMA pullback for long entry or a break below 50-day SMA for a short, depending on pre-market momentum.
TSLA (Tesla Inc)	Bearish / Volatile	Highly sensitive to market sentiment and macro news. Screening for a 50-day SMA rejection for a short position, as broader market uncertainty often impacts volatile growth stocks.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Current Sentiment	Strategy & Selection Reason
(Hypothetical Mid-Cap XYZ)	Bullish	Screened for Stage-2 VCP (Volatility Contraction Pattern) breakout on high relative volume (RVOL > 2.0) after consolidation, indicating strong institutional accumulation.
(Hypothetical Small-Cap ABC)	Bullish	Identified via high Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) breakout from a short-term base, suggesting unusual buying interest and potential for continuation.

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Current Sentiment	Strategy & Selection Reason
BTC/USD (Bitcoin)	Bearish	Currently under pressure, falling towards $63,000. Applying a 4H 21-EMA trend following strategy; a break below 4H 21-EMA would confirm short bias, while a reclaim could signal a volatility breakout long.
ETH/USD (Ethereum)	Bearish	Following Bitcoin's lead, ETH is also showing weakness. Utilizing 4H 21-EMA trend following for a potential short entry on confirmation of bearish trend or a high-volume volatility breakout for a long.

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Current Sentiment	Strategy & Selection Reason
XAU/USD (Gold)	Bearish	Under pressure as USD strengthens ahead of FOMC. Using Pivot points for short-term support/resistance. Bearish bias if it breaks below daily S1 pivot, targeting Fibonacci extension levels.
WTI Crude Oil	Bearish	Significant decline due to US-Iran peace talks, trading near $81. Using Pivot points ($81 support, $85.46 resistance) and Fibonacci extension levels to identify potential downside targets or rebound levels. A break below $81 could target $77.91.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Short-Term

Ticker	Current Sentiment	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD	Bearish	Slipped to one-month low, trading around 1.1370. Moderately bearish outlook, below 50-day EMA. Monitoring for a break below 1.1361 support for continuation of downtrend or a rebound towards 1.1402 resistance.
GBP/USD	Bearish	Trades vulnerably near 1.3300, holding a bearish near-term bias, capped beneath the 20-period EMA. A break below 1.3260 could expose 1.3193.

Long-Term Carry Swing

Ticker	Current Sentiment	Strategy & Selection Reason
USD/JPY	Bullish	Maintaining an upward structure near 163.77, driven by interest rate differential and expectations for BoJ to remain accommodative. Targeting new local highs if it breaks above 164.05 resistance.
AUD/USD	Neutral to Bearish	Trading in a tight range around 0.6990, but with a mixed technical setup and resistance at 0.7000. Bearish bias if it fails to clear Fibonacci hurdles and breaks below 0.6960 support.
