Session News Focus: European macroeconomic releases, ECB/BOE news, Forex short-term futures (EUR/USD, GBP/USD), and Gold (XAU/USD) supply/demand zones.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- US inflation data for July 2026 showed cooling, with the Consumer Price Index (CPI) at 3.4% and Producer Price Index (PPI) at 0%. This has led to a reduction in expectations for a Federal Reserve rate hike in September, with odds falling from approximately 50% to 40%.
- The Japanese Yen (USD/JPY) is trading near the psychological level of 160, sparking discussions about potential intervention by Japanese authorities if this level is breached. The Yen's weakness continues to offset a softer US Dollar, a dynamic influenced by recent US economic data.
- European stock markets concluded Friday's session lower, ending a four-week streak of gains.
- Geopolitical tensions arising from the ongoing conflict in Ukraine and the US-Iran standoff are projected to have lasting macroeconomic impacts, including an energy shock, potential recessionary pressures, and increased defense spending.

2. US & European Markets

- Despite some profit-taking on Friday, the S&P 500 and Nasdaq indices on Wall Street remained on track for their third consecutive weekly gains.
- Mega-cap technology stocks, which had previously driven the S&P 500 to a record high, exerted downward pressure on Wall Street on Friday.
- Institutional investors significantly increased their positions in semiconductor and AI infrastructure stocks during Q2 2026. Conversely, 44% of institutions reduced their holdings in the "Magnificent Seven" mega-cap stocks.
- Semiconductor Manufacturing International Corp (SMIC), a leading Chinese foundry, announced price increases for its high-demand capacity, attributing this to robust AI-related demand which is expected to continue driving orders.
- The SEMICON Taiwan 2026 forum is expanding to a full-day event, with a primary focus on the future of AI infrastructure and the broader semiconductor ecosystem.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian benchmark indices, Sensex and Nifty, closed slightly lower on Friday. This decline was primarily influenced by rising crude oil prices and persistent geopolitical uncertainties surrounding the US-Iran situation.
- The Nifty 50 demonstrated resilience by successfully defending the 24,325-support level for the second consecutive trading session.
- Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) registered net purchases of ₹1,228.24 crore for the week ending August 15, indicating an improvement in overseas investor sentiment. Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIs) maintained their strong buying trend, with net purchases of ₹9,285.63 crore for the same period.
- Over the past year (August 14, 2025, to August 14, 2026), the Sensex experienced a 3.21% decline, while the Nifty 50 fell by 1.08%.
- Prime Minister Narendra Modi announced that India has initiated production at three semiconductor plants and plans to establish 5-8 more facilities within the next 7-8 years, aiming for increased self-reliance in the sector.
- While the Nifty MidCap index declined 0.53% and the Nifty SmallCap index fell 0.69% on Friday, the mid-cap segment showed overall strength and outperformed the benchmark throughout the week, supported by improved earnings visibility. Consumer durables and realty sectors were notable gainers.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- Crude oil futures, both Brent and WTI, saw gains of over $1 on Friday, poised for significant weekly increases (Brent up 6.0%, WTI up 5.4%). This surge was primarily driven by new tanker attacks in the Strait of Hormuz and stalled peace talks between the US and Iran. Brent crude is currently trading above $88 a barrel.
- The US has threatened to indefinitely extend a naval blockade of Iran and escalate economic pressure, further exacerbating global oil supply concerns.
- A drone attack on Russia's Sheskhari terminal, a key Black Sea export outlet, led to the suspension of crude exports, contributing to the upward movement in oil prices.
- Gold prices found support from a weaker US Dollar, which resulted from a surprising decline in US retail sales. Gold rebounded towards the $4,400 per troy ounce mark on Friday.
- Grayscale predicts a long-term increase in Bitcoin adoption, driven by factors such as government deficits, broader blockchain integration, and evolving portfolio preferences. They project Bitcoin's market capitalization to reach $16 trillion by 2030, implying a price of approximately $761,000 per BTC.
- A US regulator has granted conditional approval for a bank charter to World Liberty Financial, a crypto company backed by President Trump, paving the way for the expansion of its stablecoin operations.
- Users of CyberWallet have until August 15 to withdraw their cryptocurrencies before the platform's interfaces are shut down. Post-shutdown, asset recovery will necessitate direct interaction with underlying smart contracts.
- The crypto market is undergoing a shift towards institutional ownership, marked by a decline in retail trading liquidity. Some cryptocurrency exchanges are experiencing weak liquidity and are diversifying beyond traditional digital token offerings.

STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

Disclaimer: As a text-based AI, real-time market screening and live technical analysis for specific tickers are beyond current capabilities. The tables below illustrate the selection criteria and provide hypothetical examples based on the described strategies and general market trends from the news digest. Actual execution requires access to live charting platforms and data feeds.

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Screen Nifty leaders using 50-SMA support bounces or 20/50 EMA golden crosses.

Ticker	Current Price (Hypothetical)	Strategy & Selection Reason
Reliance Industries	₹2,950	Identified as a Nifty leader demonstrating a bounce off its 50-SMA on strong volume, signaling potential continuation of an uptrend.
ICICI Bank	₹1,100	Exhibiting a bullish 20-day EMA crossing above its 50-day EMA (golden cross), indicating strengthening short-to-medium term momentum.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Screen using 21-day EMA pullbacks or 50-day SMA rejection strategy on mega-cap growth leaders.

Ticker	Current Price (Hypothetical)	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVIDIA (NVDA)	$125.00	Pullback to 21-day EMA after a strong rally, presenting a potential long entry if support holds and bullish momentum resumes. Demand for semiconductors remains strong.
Apple (AAPL)	$210.00	Rejected from its 50-day SMA after a previous attempt to break higher, indicating potential short opportunity if bearish momentum confirms.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Screen using Stage-2 VCP or High Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) breakouts.

Ticker	Current Price (Hypothetical)	Strategy & Selection Reason
Palantir (PLTR)	$28.50	Forming a Stage-2 Volatility Contraction Pattern (VCP) with decreasing volume during contractions, poised for a breakout.
RIVIAN (RIVN)	$18.20	Breaking out above a key resistance level on Relative Volume (RVOL) significantly greater than 2.0, indicating strong institutional interest.

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Screen using 4H 21-EMA trend following and high-volume volatility breakouts.

Ticker	Current Price (Hypothetical)	Strategy & Selection Reason
Bitcoin (BTC/USD)	$70,500	Maintaining a strong uptrend above its 4H 21-EMA, supported by increasing institutional interest and long-term adoption narratives.
Ethereum (ETH/USD)	$3,800	Experiencing a high-volume volatility breakout after a period of consolidation, indicating potential for continued upward movement.

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Gold (XAU/USD) and WTI Crude Oil using Pivot & Fibonacci extension levels.

Ticker	Current Price (Hypothetical)	Strategy & Selection Reason
Gold (XAU/USD)	$4,410	Trading above a key pivot level, with upward momentum supported by a weaker USD and geopolitical uncertainty. Potential target at Fibonacci extension level of $4,435.
WTI Crude Oil	$83.50	Showing strong bullish momentum due to Strait of Hormuz tensions. Entered long position above daily pivot point ($82.80), targeting next Fibonacci extension resistance around $84.20.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Short-Term (EUR/USD, GBP/USD)

Ticker	Current Price (Hypothetical)	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD	1.1570	Challenging 100-day SMA resistance (1.1567). A decisive break above this, potentially targeting 1.1600 and then 1.1629 (200-day SMA), suggests a bullish reversal. Support at 1.1500.
GBP/USD	1.3565	Trading above 50% retracement of 2026 range (1.3503) and firm break above 1.3557, indicating a push towards 1.3589 (61.8% retracement) and potentially 1.3690. Key support at 1.3543.

Macro Carry Swings (USD/JPY, AUD/USD)

Ticker	Current Price (Hypothetical)	Strategy & Selection Reason
USD/JPY	159.45	Holding above 20-period SMA (159.33) but capped by 100-period SMA (160.20) and resistance at 159.59-160.62 zone. Long-term bullish bias maintained if 155.01 support holds.
AUD/USD	0.7085	Edging higher, with positive momentum above 50-day moving average (0.7025). Potential for further rally if 0.7037 support holds and 0.7083 is decisively broken, targeting 0.7183. Resistance around 0.7100.

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Nifty 50 / BankNifty 15-Minute Opening Range Breakouts (Call for Long, Put for Short).

Ticker	Option Type & Strike (Hypothetical)	Strategy & Selection Reason
Nifty 50	24,400 CE / 24,300 PE	Observing the 15-minute opening range. If Nifty breaks above the opening range high, buy 24,400 CE. If it breaks below the opening range low, buy 24,300 PE. Volatility expected around key support/resistance zones.
BankNifty	52,000 CE / 51,800 PE	Applying the 15-minute opening range breakout strategy. Entry on breakout above high for CE, or below low for PE, aiming to capture initial directional momentum.
