DAILY MULTI-ASSET TRADING BLUEPRINT & LEVEL EXECUTION MANUAL

Date: Thursday, September 3, 2026

Current Session Highlight: London Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: Focus heavily on European macroeconomic releases, ECB/BOE news, Forex short-term futures (EUR/USD, GBP/USD), and Gold (XAU/USD) supply/demand zones.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- Eurozone Inflation & ECB: Eurozone annual inflation accelerated to 3.3% in August 2026, marking its highest level for the year, primarily driven by elevated energy prices. Financial markets are pricing in an "almost nailed-on" 25 basis point interest rate hike by the European Central Bank (ECB) at its upcoming September 10th meeting, which would bring the deposit rate to 2.50%. ECB officials have signaled support for this hike.
- UK Inflation & BoE: The UK's inflation rate rose to 2.90% in July 2026, up from 2.60% in June. Forecasts suggest UK headline inflation could peak at 3.6% in September due to higher wholesale energy prices. The Bank of England (BoE) maintained its base rate at 3.75% in July, with its next decision scheduled for September 17th. While some economists anticipate rate cuts later in 2026, others highlight the risk of further increases, with markets pricing in a BoE hike by year-end but a lower probability for the September meeting itself.
- US Federal Reserve: Market sentiment regarding a September rate hike by the Federal Reserve has been mixed. Initially, odds for a hike were scaled back to around 35%, but recent hawkish remarks from Fed Chair Kevin Warsh on tackling inflation at Jackson Hole have pushed market-implied odds back up to approximately 60%. Inflation remains above the Fed's target, with elevated long-term Treasury yields and geopolitical tensions contributing to market complexity.

2. US & European Markets

- US Equities: Wall Street futures indicate a positive tone after US indices broke a three-session losing streak, largely supported by gains in mega-cap technology stocks and a slight easing in long-dated Treasury yields. The S&P 500 and Nasdaq Composite recorded strong performances in August, with the S&P 500 gaining 2.6% and Nasdaq Composite rising 3.9%. Despite historical tendencies for September to be a challenging month for equities, a strong year-to-date performance might temper this effect.
- European Equities: European economies are demonstrating notable resilience amidst ongoing geopolitical conflicts and elevated energy prices, contributing to a constructive, albeit selective, market outlook.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Market Open: Indian equity benchmarks, including the Sensex and Nifty, opened higher today, reversing a three-session losing streak. This positive start tracked gains across Asian markets and a partial rebound in US equities.
- Key Drivers & Concerns: The domestic recovery was boosted by a pause in the global bond selloff and steadier crude oil prices. A strengthening Indian Rupee (USD/INR down 0.65%) provided some relief against imported inflation. Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) and Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIs) were reported as net buyers. However, elevated crude oil prices and rising global bond yields remain significant concerns for investor sentiment. The geopolitical situation, particularly US-Iran hostilities, adds a layer of fragility.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- Crude Oil: Crude oil prices were largely stable on Thursday, with Brent crude around $95.50 a barrel and WTI at approximately $91.05. Geopolitical tensions stemming from the US-Iran conflict and potential disruptions in the Strait of Hormuz continue to underpin prices, maintaining a bullish near-term bias for WTI. J.P. Morgan forecasts Brent crude to average $86 per barrel in Q3 2026.
- Gold (XAU/USD): Gold traded in the range of $4,333-$4,475 per ounce on September 2-3, 2026, significantly below its January record high of around $5,589. The precious metal experienced a strong rally in August but has since retreated. Its price action is currently influenced by competing forces: potentially higher interest rates and a strong dollar weighing on prices, contrasted with support from economic uncertainty and ongoing geopolitical risks, particularly the Strait of Hormuz crisis. Key technical support levels are identified around $4,400 and $4,300.
- Crypto: The US Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) proposed "Regulation Crypto Assets" in August 2026, aiming to create a clearer pathway for public funding of blockchain projects and to bring crypto innovation back onshore. This proposal includes new offering exemptions and a conditional Safe Harbor. Concurrently, the CLARITY Act is under Congressional consideration, which could further reshape the US crypto regulatory landscape. The CFTC's Innovation Advisory Committee also held its inaugural meeting, focusing on crypto assets, AI, and prediction markets.

STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

Indian Equities (Strictly Long-Only)

Screen Nifty leaders using 50-SMA support bounces or 20/50 EMA golden crosses.

Ticker	Sector	Strategy & Selection Reason
RELIANCE	Diversified / Energy	Hypothetically showing a bounce from its 50-SMA support on improved market sentiment, coupled with steady oil prices which support its energy segment.
ICICIBANK	Financials	Positive momentum in the banking sector due to RBI's forex mobilization. Hypothetically demonstrating a recent 20/50 EMA golden cross, indicating upward trend confirmation.

US Equities

Large-Cap (Bi-Directional)

Screen using 21-day EMA pullbacks or 50-day SMA rejection strategy on mega-cap growth leaders.

Ticker	Sector	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVDA	Technology / Semiconductors	Long opportunity: Hypothetically pulling back to its 21-day EMA after recent strong AI-driven performance, offering a dip-buying opportunity in a sector showing renewed strength on Wall Street.
TSLA	Automotive / Technology	Short opportunity: Hypothetically rejecting its 50-day SMA after failing to sustain upward momentum, potentially due to competitive pressures or minor news that signals weakness.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (Strictly Long-Only)

Screen using Stage-2 VCP or High Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) breakouts.

Ticker	Sector	Strategy & Selection Reason
SMCI	Technology / Servers	Hypothetically exhibiting a strong Stage-2 VCP (Volatility Contraction Pattern) breakout on high relative volume (RVOL > 2.0), driven by continued demand for AI infrastructure.
NET	Technology / Cloudflare	Hypothetically demonstrating a high Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) breakout above a key resistance level, indicating strong buying interest and positive news flow.

Crypto Futures (Bi-Directional)

Screen using 4H 21-EMA trend following and high-volume volatility breakouts.

Ticker	Category	Strategy & Selection Reason
ETH/USD	Large-Cap Crypto	Long opportunity: Hypothetically trading above its 4H 21-EMA with strong bullish momentum following a high-volume volatility breakout, supported by a more constructive regulatory outlook in the US.
SOL/USD	Mid-Cap Crypto	Short opportunity: Hypothetically breaking down below its 4H 21-EMA with significant selling pressure, indicating a shift in short-term trend following a high-volume volatility breakout to the downside.

Commodities (Bi-Directional)

Gold (XAU/USD) and WTI Crude Oil using Pivot & Fibonacci extension levels.

Ticker	Commodity	Strategy & Selection Reason
XAU/USD	Gold	Long opportunity: Hypothetically bouncing strongly off a key Fibonacci support level (e.g., 61.8% retracement at ~$4300) combined with geopolitical risk premium remaining elevated, suggesting a potential rebound.
WTI_F	Crude Oil	Long opportunity: Hypothetically holding above the 50% Fibonacci retracement level at $86.86 and the 100-day SMA, with a bullish near-term bias due to persistent US-Iran tensions in the Strait of Hormuz. Target resistance at $91.58 or $98.31.

Forex Futures (Bi-Directional)

Short-Term

EUR/USD, GBP/USD

Ticker	Currency Pair	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD	Euro / US Dollar	Short opportunity: Hypothetically showing weakness on the London pre-open as market participants "sell the rumor" ahead of the widely expected ECB rate hike, or if concurrent US data proves surprisingly strong, causing a rejection of short-term resistance.
GBP/USD	British Pound / US Dollar	Short opportunity: Hypothetically exhibiting weakness if the market interprets the BoE's stance as more dovish relative to the ECB despite high inflation, or due to ongoing UK economic headwinds and political uncertainty.

Macro Carry Swings

USD/JPY, AUD/USD

Ticker	Currency Pair	Strategy & Selection Reason
USD/JPY	US Dollar / Japanese Yen	Long opportunity: Hypothetically benefiting from widening interest rate differentials as global bond yields rise and the Federal Reserve maintains a relatively hawkish stance compared to the Bank of Japan's accommodative policy.
AUD/USD	Australian Dollar / US Dollar	Short opportunity: Hypothetically facing downward pressure if commodity prices show signs of weakness or if global growth concerns escalate, reducing demand for risk-sensitive currencies like the AUD, while the USD acts as a safe-haven.

Indian Options (Bi-Directional)

Nifty 50 / BankNifty 15-Minute Opening Range Breakouts (Call for Long, Put for Short).

Ticker	Index	Strategy & Selection Reason
NIFTY50_CE	Nifty 50	Call Option Long: Hypothetically trading a breakout above the 15-minute opening range high, capitalizing on the positive domestic market open and broad-based buying interest.
BANKNIFTY_PE	BankNifty	Put Option Short: Hypothetically trading a breakdown below the 15-minute opening range low, despite some banking sector support, if initial profit-taking or weakness in heavyweights triggers a downside move.
