Session Highlight: New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- US Federal Reserve: Hawkish sentiment from Fed Governor Michael Barr and Chairman Kevin Warsh indicated readiness for an interest rate hike if inflation does not sufficiently ease. Market implied odds for a September rate hike were around 55-66% ahead of the FOMC meeting on September 15-16.
- Eurozone: Inflation rose to 3.3%, increasing expectations for an ECB interest rate hike.
- Global Bond Rout: Treasury yields surged across major markets, with the US 10-year Treasury yield nearing 4.78%, Japan's 10-year government bond yield reaching 3%, and the UK 10-year at 5.21%. This was driven by inflation concerns, government borrowing, and expectations of tighter monetary policy from central banks.
- Currencies: The Indian Rupee strengthened against the US Dollar, gaining 28 paise to close at 94.94, supported by robust domestic growth and portfolio-related inflows. The USD firmed against most G10 currencies amid rising yields.

2. US & European Markets

- US Equity Market: US stock futures and pre-market trading showed declines for the Dow, S&P 500, and Nasdaq. This weakness was attributed to rising Treasury yields, elevated oil prices, and renewed uncertainty surrounding the US-Iran conflict.
- Mega-Cap Tech: Mega-cap technology stocks, including Nvidia (NVDA), Microsoft (MSFT), Alphabet, and Tesla (TSLA), traded lower in pre-market/early trading. Nvidia, despite strong Q2 revenue and Q3 guidance, also saw its shares decline.
- Premarket Movers: GoPro surged 80% and Sono Group soared following a Sports One deal. Robinhood shares rose on an analyst upgrade, and Duolingo also advanced due to an upgrade. SpaceX shares were down in premarket trading.
- European Bourses: European markets generally remained weak throughout Tuesday's session, pressured by elevated bond yields and increasing energy prices. Novartis (drug trials) and Air Liquide (Elliott stake) were notable gainers, while Partners Group (H1 revenue miss) fell.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indices: The Indian benchmark indices, Sensex and Nifty, ended marginally lower on Tuesday. This was primarily due to rising crude oil prices, fresh US-Iran tensions, and concerns over a hawkish US Federal Reserve policy. GIFT Nifty indicated a lower opening for Indian equities.
- FII/DII Flows: Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) offloaded a significant ₹7,985.88 crore in equities on a net basis on Monday. However, August recorded strong Foreign Portfolio Investor (FPI) inflows of approximately $3.1 billion.
- Sectoral Momentum: Market breadth was weak, with more declining issues than advancing ones in Nifty 50. Despite this, ITC, Bharti Airtel, and Adani Ports were among the top gainers, while Shriram Finance, Maruti Suzuki, and Nestle India were top losers. E2E Networks secured a significant deal for NVIDIA Blackwell cloud GPUs.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil: WTI Crude Oil futures surged over 2% to $87.81 a barrel, while Brent crude rose to $92.15, driven by renewed US-Iran hostilities in the Strait of Hormuz and increased concerns over global energy supply disruptions. The escalating tensions have reignited inflation concerns.
- Gold: Spot gold fell more than 1% to $4,369.24 per ounce, reaching its lowest level since August 19. This decline was primarily attributed to elevated US Treasury yields and a hawkish outlook from the Federal Reserve, with investors awaiting key US labor market data.
- Crypto:
 - Bitcoin (BTC): The re-emergence of the "Korean Premium" suggested a potential bullish trend and renewed investor interest. Bitcoin whales were reportedly active in altcoin trading, and analysts indicated critical price levels for BTC between $75,000 and $82,000 leading up to the FOMC meeting.
 - XRP: Wall Street's interest in XRP continued to grow, with spot XRP ETFs seeing $1.8 billion in net inflows. Ripple was set to unlock 1 billion XRP on September 1, 2026, as part of its escrow program, although a significant portion is typically returned to new escrow contracts.
 - Solana (SOL): Standard Chartered predicted Solana could reach $1,000, with the token trading near $103 after a 44% gain in August. New crypto project Pepeto announced a cross-chain bridge for Ethereum, BNB Chain, and Solana, having already raised over $10.9 million in its presale.
 - Wrapped TON: The old TON bridge at bridge-v3.ton.org was permanently shut down on September 1, leaving over 11.3 million Wrapped TON tokens still in wrapped form on Ethereum and BNB Smart Chain.

STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Type	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
ITC	Large-Cap	Long	Nifty leader showing a potential 50-SMA support bounce after yesterday's market dip, aligning with top gainers from September 1.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Type	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVDA	Mega-Cap Growth	Long / Short	Shares are down in pre-market, potentially offering a 21-day EMA pullback buying opportunity if a bounce occurs, or a continuation short if weakness persists below key moving averages.
MSFT	Mega-Cap Growth	Long / Short	Also showing pre-market weakness, can be played as a 50-day SMA rejection if it tests and fails, or a bounce play if demand steps in at this level.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Type	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
Sono Group (SSM)	Small-Cap	Long	Soared over 40% in pre-market on news of its Sports One deal. High Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) breakout candidate for strong momentum continuation.

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Type	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
BTC/USD	Large-Cap	Long / Short	Bitcoin seeing renewed investor interest with the "Korean Premium" and whale activity. Monitoring 4H 21-EMA for trend following; potential volatility breakout if critical price levels are breached.
XRP/USD	Large-Cap	Long / Short	Wall Street interest growing and significant ETF inflows, despite the 1 billion XRP unlock today. Look for high-volume volatility breakouts around key support/resistance levels.

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Type	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
WTI Crude Oil	Energy	Long / Short	Surging over 2% due to renewed US-Iran tensions and supply concerns. Trading breakouts above or rejections from Pivot/Fibonacci extension resistance levels. Bias to the upside given geopolitical risks.
XAU/USD (Gold)	Precious Metal	Long / Short	Fell over 1% on rising US Treasury yields and hawkish Fed outlook. Trading bounces off or rejections from Pivot/Fibonacci retracement support levels; potential short-term weakness.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Short-Term

Pair	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD	Short	Eurozone inflation rose (hawkish ECB), but strong USD and rising US yields might weigh on the pair. Look for trend continuation on lower timeframes following opening range breakouts or rejection from resistance.
GBP/USD	Short	UK 10-year yield soared, but overall risk-off sentiment and strong USD could push GBP/USD lower. Short-term weakness on breakdown of key support levels.

Macro Carry Swing

Pair	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
USD/JPY	Long	US yields rising sharply and hawkish Fed commentary, contrasting with Japan's yield hitting 3%. Strong carry trade potential due to divergence in monetary policy and rising rate differentials favoring USD.
AUD/USD	Short	General global risk-off sentiment due to geopolitical tensions and rising bond yields could pressure commodity-linked currencies like AUD against a stronger USD.

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Instrument	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
Nifty 50	Index Options	Call (Long) / Put (Short)	Applying a 15-Minute Opening Range Breakout strategy. Given the marginal dip in Nifty yesterday, a strong breakout above the opening range could signal a recovery (Call option), while a break below could signal continued weakness (Put option).
