Session Highlight: New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- The Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) held the federal funds rate steady at 3.50%–3.75% in its July 2026 meeting, in line with expectations, despite some market participants assigning a one-in-three probability to a rate hike. The committee noted solid economic activity but persistent elevated inflation due to supply shocks, including energy.
- Federal Reserve Chair Kevin Warsh, in his inaugural Jackson Hole speech today, stated that the Fed's predominant focus remains on prices, and they "have work to do" if underlying inflation is not clearly moving towards the 2% target at a sufficient speed. He also highlighted the potential for substantially higher growth due to artificial intelligence, but emphasized that inflation remains the immediate concern.
- The European Central Bank (ECB) has noted that geopolitical risks can influence commodity and oil prices through negative global demand shocks and higher risks to future oil supply.
- Global inflation is projected to steadily decline from 6.8% in 2023 to 5.9% in 2024 and 4.5% in 2025, with advanced economies expected to reach their inflation targets sooner.

2. US & European Markets

- US stocks opened mostly flat today, with traders awaiting Fed Chair Warsh's Jackson Hole speech, following an Nvidia-fueled rally in the previous session.
- On Thursday, mega-cap technology shares surged, anchored by Nvidia's blockbuster quarterly results and guidance, which saw its stock rise 8.74%. Nvidia's revenue reached $96.22 billion in Q2 FY27, up 106% year-over-year, with data center revenue accounting for $89.02 billion.
- Other mega-cap tech stocks like Tesla (TSLA) advanced 2.60% and Microsoft (MSFT) added 1.72% on Thursday.
- Institutional investors increased their exposure to technology following a strong Q2 rally, but mega-cap technology remains under-owned relative to its S&P 500 weighting, with Nvidia showing the largest gap.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian equities rebounded on Friday, snapping a two-session losing streak, primarily led by gains in heavyweight IT stocks. The Nifty rose 0.35% to 24,175.65, and Sensex gained 0.43% to 77,264.51.
- Analysts anticipate consolidation amidst mixed global cues and ongoing geopolitical uncertainty.
- Mid and small-cap stocks continue to see investor interest due to strong earnings momentum.
- FII/DII institutional flows have shown mixed trends recently, with significant DII inflows in August.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- Crude oil prices are slightly lower today, with WTI trading around $83.28 per barrel, as traders balance ongoing US-Iran tensions against signs of improved oil flows from the Persian Gulf. Reports of the Strait of Hormuz remaining open, as stated by US President Donald Trump, have eased supply concerns.
- Geopolitical tensions, particularly regarding the Strait of Hormuz, continue to impact oil markets, with recent incidents causing price fluctuations.
- Gold prices are influenced by factors such as interest rates, monetary policy, geopolitics, risk aversion, currency markets, and inflation. Live gold price for 1 ounce in USD was $4,659.39 as of August 26, 2026.
- In crypto news, the U.S. Senate passed the GENIUS Act, a bipartisan, White House-backed bill to create a comprehensive federal framework for stablecoin regulation. The SEC also proposed "Regulation Crypto Assets," a new regulatory framework for certain investment contracts involving crypto assets, which aims to reduce compliance costs and provide clarity.
