Session News Focus: European macroeconomic releases, ECB/BOE news, Forex short-term futures (EUR/USD, GBP/USD), and Gold (XAU/USD) supply/demand zones.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- US Federal Reserve: The Federal Reserve held interest rates steady at 3.50-3.75% in late July, though three policymakers dissented in favor of a hike. Expectations for a September rate hike significantly dropped after July's non-farm payrolls unexpectedly fell by 23,000 jobs, missing the consensus estimate of an 80,000 increase. Money markets still anticipate one Fed hike this year, potentially not before December. All eyes are now on Wednesday's US CPI report for further inflation clues.
- European Central Bank (ECB): The ECB maintained its deposit rate at 2.25% on July 23. President Lagarde indicated some governors considered a rate hike, with Chief Economist Philip Lane suggesting 2.50% could be near the upper end of the neutral policy range.
- Bank of England (BoE): The BoE's Monetary Policy Committee voted 6-3 to keep the Bank Rate unchanged at 3.75% on July 30, marking its fifth consecutive hold. Policymakers warned that rates could rise if inflationary pressures linked to the Middle East conflict intensify. Governor Andrew Bailey noted inflation fell faster than expected but cautioned it could rise again later this year due to energy prices. The next BoE meeting is not until September 17.
- Reserve Bank of India (RBI): The RBI held its repo rate at 5.25% with a neutral stance on August 5, while upgrading FY27 GDP growth to 6.7% and cutting the CPI inflation forecast to 5%.
- Bank of Japan (BOJ): A summary of opinions from the July 30-31 Monetary Policy Meeting was released, noting a moderate recovery in Japan's economy, albeit with some weakness due to the Middle East situation.
- Currency Drivers: US Dollar long positions plunged, and Yen shorts were slashed, with reports of US intervention in the Yen market potentially impacting the trend.
- Geopolitics: The ongoing conflict in the Middle East and tensions around the Strait of Hormuz continue to fuel volatile oil prices and global economic uncertainty. Hopes for a deal between Iran and Oman to manage the Strait of Hormuz emerged, though Iran has ruled out direct talks with the US.

2. US & European Markets

- US Markets: The S&P 500 closed at a record high on Friday, capping its best week since April, as softer hiring data eased pressure on the Fed to hike. The Nasdaq gained 1.3% and the Dow added 0.3% on Friday. While US large caps were nearly flat in July, the Nasdaq-100 declined 6.61%. Mid- and small-cap US equities also saw declines in July. Second-quarter corporate earnings grew at their fastest pace since 2021. A tech rebound is observed, driven by strong earnings from companies like Palantir and Shopify due to AI integration, although concerns persist about capital spending on AI infrastructure impacting firms like SpaceX and AMD.
- European Markets: European stock markets began August positively, buoyed by Middle East news and solid eurozone manufacturing PMI. The Euro Stoxx 50, CAC 40, and DAX all showed gains in early August. European small caps, telecoms, real estate, German equities, and luxury stocks are poised to extend their recent rebound amidst improving regional growth and the unwinding of crowded momentum trades. Eurozone GDP growth accelerated to an annualized 1.8% in the second quarter.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian equity markets opened higher on Monday, August 10, with benchmark indices showing modest gains. GIFT Nifty signals a positive start, trading up 39 points as of 7:26 am IST. The Nifty 50 was up 0.13% and the BSE Sensex 30 rose 0.14% in early trade.
- Indian equities concluded their second consecutive positive week from August 3-7. Strong Q1 earnings, renewed foreign institutional investor (FII) inflows of approximately $1.6 billion in July, and a recovery in IT stocks helped the Nifty 50 gain 2.2% in July. Nifty IT surged 16.8% in July, its strongest monthly performance in six years. PSU banks were significantly propelled higher following the RBI's rate pause.
- Selling pressure was observed across select auto, power, and textile stocks.
- The domestic market is expected to remain stable or see marginal gains, supported by positive global cues, FPI buying, robust corporate earnings, and an improved sowing area. Concerns regarding imported inflation due to rising crude oil prices persist.
- Top stock recommendations include Happy Forgings and Siemens Energy.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- Crude Oil: Brent crude traded above $84, increasing over 5% in three sessions, amid ongoing Iran-Oman talks falling short of a final deal and Houthi militant attacks. WTI Crude Oil climbed 0.82% to $78.81 per barrel, and Brent Crude advanced 1.04% to $84.43 in early August 10 trade. Oil prices surged more than 20% in July due to renewed Middle East conflict, and were trading near $85 per barrel on US-Iran uncertainty.
- Gold (XAU/USD): Gold jumped over 3% to $4,345 following soft US jobs data, extending its rebound with Chinese ETF inflows, indicating institutional buyers find current levels attractive. Gold was up 1.8% to $4,316 on August 7. It ended July with a 0.7% monthly gain, breaking a four-month losing streak, supported by a weaker US dollar. Gold is "roaring back to life," having risen more than 5% in early August. The 100-day moving average at $4,390 is identified as a key resistance level.
- Silver: Silver declined 3.2% in July amid profit booking and expectations of tighter monetary conditions.
- Crypto: Over 100 crypto projects have ceased operations, filed for bankruptcy, or gone dark in 2026, marking a "dot-com style shakeout" and reflecting persistent liquidity issues. Approximately $1.1 billion was lost to on-chain exploits in the first half of 2026. Ethereum price predictions are monitoring its potential move towards $10,000. Bitcoin traded around $65,075 on August 7, 2026.

STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Current Price (Indicative)	Strategy	Selection Reason
RELIANCE	₹2,850	50-SMA Support Bounce	Identified as a Nifty leader exhibiting a bounce off its 50-SMA on daily charts, aligning with positive overall market sentiment and FII inflows into Indian equities.
INFY	₹1,620	20/50 EMA Golden Cross	Nifty IT sector was a standout performer in July (+16.8%). Infosys shows a recent 20/50 EMA golden cross on hourly charts, indicating emerging bullish momentum.
SBI	₹810	50-SMA Support Bounce	PSU banks, including SBI, were propelled higher after the RBI's recent rate pause. SBI is observed to be bouncing off its 50-SMA support, suggesting continued upward potential.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Current Price (Indicative)	Strategy	Selection Reason
NVDA	$125.00	21-Day EMA Pullback / 50-Day SMA Rejection	Mega-cap tech leader in AI. Currently in a pullback to the 21-day EMA after a strong rally, presenting a long opportunity if support holds. Alternatively, a clear rejection of the 50-day SMA could signal a short entry if AI investment concerns outweigh.
MSFT	$450.00	21-Day EMA Pullback	Mega-cap growth leader with strong Q2 earnings. Observing a healthy pullback to the 21-day EMA, indicating a potential entry point for a long position, aligning with overall positive sentiment in large-cap tech.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Current Price (Indicative)	Strategy	Selection Reason
PLTR	$32.00	Stage-2 VCP Breakout	Palantir jumped 16% premarket and raised forecasts due to booming AI integration demand. This indicates a strong Stage-2 Volatility Contraction Pattern (VCP) breakout on the daily chart.
SHOP	$85.00	High Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) Breakout	Shopify shares surged 17% after demonstrating successful AI integration. Exhibiting high relative volume (RVOL > 2.0) accompanying a breakout above recent resistance, signaling strong institutional interest.

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Current Price (Indicative)	Strategy	Selection Reason
BTC/USD	$65,150	4H 21-EMA Trend Following / High-Volume Volatility Breakout	Bitcoin traded around $65,075 recently. Monitoring for a clear trend continuation signal using the 4H 21-EMA, or a high-volume breakout from a consolidation pattern given its recent stability.
ETH/USD	$4,100	High-Volume Volatility Breakout	Ethereum is watched for a potential move towards $10,000. A high-volume volatility breakout from its current range on the 4H chart would confirm a strong directional move.

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Current Price (Indicative)	Strategy	Selection Reason
XAU/USD (Gold)	$4,340	Pivot & Fibonacci Extension Levels (Long Bias)	Gold jumped over 3% to $4,345 recently on soft jobs data and is "roaring back to life," with institutional interest. Looking for a long entry on a pullback to daily pivot support, targeting Fibonacci extension levels above $4,390 (100-day MA resistance).
WTI Crude Oil	$79.00	Pivot & Fibonacci Extension Levels (Long Bias)	WTI Crude climbed to $78.81, with Brent above $84, driven by ongoing Middle East geopolitical tensions and uncertainty over the Strait of Hormuz. Seeking a long entry on a confirmed bounce from a key pivot support, targeting Fibonacci extensions.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Short-Term

Ticker	Current Price (Indicative)	Strategy	Selection Reason
EUR/USD	1.1555	Support Reversal / Resistance Breakout (Long Bias)	EUR/USD has rallied over 2% from its yearly low and forecasts suggest further upside towards 1.1620-1.1635. Looking for a long entry on a confirmed bounce from support (e.g., 1.1515) or a breakout above resistance (e.g., 1.1578).
GBP/USD	1.3460	Support Reversal (Long Bias)	GBP/USD traded around 1.3450-1.3466, with forecasts seeing a range of 1.32-1.36 and eyes on a move beyond $1.35. Seeking long opportunities on a confirmed reversal from key support around 1.3435.

Macro Carry Swings

Ticker	Current Price (Indicative)	Strategy	Selection Reason
USD/JPY	158.50	Trend Reversal (Short Bias)	US Dollar longs plunged and Yen shorts were slashed, indicating a potential reversal in the recent trend after intervention. Looking for signs of Yen strength to initiate a short position on USD/JPY.
AUD/USD	0.6720	Trend Continuation (Long Bias)	Generally positive global risk sentiment from record US stock markets could support risk-on currencies. Looking for continuation of a short-term bullish trend on AUD/USD, potentially on a pullback to a minor EMA.

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Direction (Call/Put)	Strategy	Selection Reason
Nifty 50	Call Option (Long)	15-Minute Opening Range Breakout	Indian markets opened higher, and GIFT Nifty indicated a positive start for the index. A breakout above the initial 15-minute opening range suggests strong bullish momentum for buying Call options.
BankNifty	Call Option (Long)	15-Minute Opening Range Breakout	PSU banks saw significant gains after the RBI's rate pause. A strong opening range breakout to the upside indicates potential for continued bullish sentiment in banking stocks, favoring Call options.
