Session Highlight: 🇺🇸 New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

📰 SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- US Federal Reserve Chair Kevin Warsh declined to offer specific rate guidance ahead of the October 27-28 policy meeting, maintaining monetary policy uncertainty. Despite hotter-than-expected CPI and PPI data, the dollar weakened, with traders pricing only about a 30% chance of an October rate hike.
- Eurozone inflation has reached a three-year high of 3.8%.
- The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) recently raised its repo rate by 25 basis points to 5.50% and adopted a calibrated tightening policy stance, contributing to elevated volatility in Indian markets.
- Persistent foreign institutional investor (FII) outflows, elevated crude oil prices, and rising global bond yields continue to exert pressure on Indian market sentiment.

2. US & European Markets

- Nvidia (NVDA) showed relative strength in pre-market trading, rising 0.4% despite a broader semiconductor sector sell-off. This was driven by new AI model announcements and CEO Jensen Huang's reiteration of strong AI chip demand.
- Tesla (TSLA) surged 4.7% in pre-open trading, buoyed by the unveiling of its second-generation Roadster with advanced thruster technology and increasing speculation regarding a potential merger with SpaceX.
- Microsoft (MSFT) also saw a pre-market increase of 0.71% (as of Oct 13 data), with investor focus on Azure cloud growth and Copilot momentum ahead of its Q1 2027 earnings report on October 28.
- US stock futures generally indicated a modestly positive open, following a rebound from an earlier AI-driven sell-off this week. The AI rout appears to be slowing as investors "buy the dip" in tech.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian benchmark indices, Nifty 50 and Sensex, declined in early trade on Friday, October 16. As of 9:18 AM IST, the Nifty fell 0.15% to 22,962.90, and the Sensex was down 0.26% to 74,125.68, with auto and financial services stocks being among the top losers.
- This follows a strong previous session on October 15, where the Nifty 50 gained 1.66% and the Sensex advanced 2.11%.
- Indian IT stocks have staged a significant comeback this week, adding ₹2.6 lakh crore in market value and becoming the best-performing index. This recovery is largely attributed to better-than-expected Q2 earnings and positive management commentary. Tech Mahindra reported a 32.74% year-on-year increase in consolidated Q2FY27 net profit.
- Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) have been net sellers in 2026 (₹4.07 Lakh Crore), while Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIs) have been net buyers (over ₹7 Lakh Crore).
- Market analysts suggest India's equity market is currently "vulnerable" amidst global uncertainty, with market momentum concentrated in a few chipmakers, despite strong underlying investment appeal and a Nifty 50 P/E of 19.6x.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil futures technical analysis as of October 15, 2026, indicated a "Strong Buy" summary based on moving averages and technical indicators. Key Fibonacci pivot resistance is around 97.42, with support at 97.32. The WTI Classic Pivot Point is noted at 96.91, with R1 at 97.25 and S1 at 96.68.
- Gold (XAU/USD) is trading with a bullish bias above $4,176 support as of October 16, 2026. The key pivot point is at $4,118.65, with resistance (R1) at $4,163.75 and support (S1) at $4,066.80.
- In the crypto futures market, several tokens showed significant 24-hour gains, including VST (+49.51%), OCN (+63.20%), and ZEREBRO (+51.61%).
- Solana (SOL) is highlighted for its fast growth, large ecosystem, and institutional interest, making it a highly volatile option for day traders. AI-driven blockchain technology is also a significant trend.

🎯 STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

(Ticker selections are illustrative based on current news and general market sentiment for October 16, 2026, to demonstrate strategy application. Real-time technical conditions would require live charting and screening tools.)

1. INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
TECHM.NS (Tech Mahindra)	Long	Indian IT stocks are performing well post Q2 earnings. Hypothetically, TECHM.NS is showing a strong bounce from its 50-SMA support on the daily chart, indicating renewed buying interest in line with the sector's recovery.

2. US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVDA (Nvidia)	Long	NVDA bucked a broader semiconductor sell-off in pre-market, supported by new AI model announcements and strong demand. Hypothetically, NVDA experienced a 21-day EMA pullback overnight and is showing a bullish engulfing candle on the hourly chart in pre-market, suggesting a bounce from a key support level.
TSLA (Tesla)	Short	TSLA surged pre-market on its Roadster reveal and M&A speculation, indicating high volatility. Hypothetically, TSLA gapped up significantly pre-market and is showing a rejection from its 50-day SMA on a higher timeframe, indicating potential exhaustion of buying momentum for an intraday fade.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
Hypothetical Small-Cap X	Long	Hypothetically, Small-Cap X exhibits a Stage-2 VCP (Volatility Contraction Pattern) setup on the daily chart with today's pre-market action showing significantly high relative volume (RVOL > 2.0), breaking out of the pattern, indicating strong accumulation and breakout potential.

3. CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
SOLUSDT (Solana)	Long	Solana is a fast-growing blockchain with high volume and institutional interest. Hypothetically, SOLUSDT on the 4-hour chart has crossed and is trending above its 21-EMA, showing a high-volume volatility breakout from a consolidation range, indicating strong upward momentum.
VST/USDT	Short	VST/USDT is a top gainer in crypto futures today. Hypothetically, it has experienced an unsustainable high-volume spike in the last 4 hours and is showing signs of exhaustion with bearish divergence on the Relative Strength Index (RSI), making it a candidate for a short-term reversal (fade the rally).

4. COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
XAU/USD (Gold)	Long	Gold is trading with a bullish bias above $4,176 support. Long entry above the R1 pivot point of $4,163.75, targeting Fibonacci extension levels (e.g., $4,202.40, $4,254.97). Stop loss below the daily pivot point ($4,118.65) or S1 ($4,066.80).
WTI Crude Oil (CL=F Futures)	Short	WTI Crude Oil shows a "Strong Buy" summary, but could present intraday reversal opportunities. Short entry if it rejects R1 at 97.53 (from yesterday's data), targeting S1 at 97.25 and Fibonacci support levels (e.g., 96.68). Stop loss above R2 (97.70).

5. FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Short-Term

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD Futures	Long	EUR/USD shows a bullish bias above 1.1201 and is trading around 1.1238, with eurozone inflation at a three-year high. Long entry on a confirmed break above the 1.1277 resistance level, targeting 1.1312. Stop loss below 1.1201.

Macro Carry Swing

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
USD/JPY Futures	Long	The US Dollar remains strong against many G10 currencies, supported by ongoing rate differentials. Hypothetically, USD/JPY is consolidating near a multi-year high, offering a potential carry-trade entry on a slight pullback to a key support level, anticipating continued yield differential benefits and a further appreciation of the USD.

6. INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
Nifty 50 Options (NIFTY)	Short (Buy Put)	Nifty 50 declined in early trade today, indicating potential weakness. Implement a 15-minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB) strategy. If the Nifty 50 closes a 15-minute candle (9:15-9:30 AM IST) below its initial range low, buy an At-The-Money (ATM) Put Option. Stop loss at the range high, target 1.5-2 times the range width.
