Date: August 20, 2026

Session Highlight: New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Role: Lead Quantitative Strategist & Institutional Portfolio Manager

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- US Federal Reserve & Treasury Action: Long-term U.S. Treasury yields have declined sharply, driven by the U.S. Department of the Treasury's announcement to double its long-term Treasury buyback program. This move aims to enhance bond market liquidity. The Federal Reserve's July meeting minutes, however, remained hawkish, indicating a readiness to raise interest rates if inflation persists. The US dollar has come under pressure, falling to a two-and-a-half-month low, partly due to easing rate hike expectations and Treasury actions.
- ECB & Eurozone Inflation: European economic fundamentals are providing underlying strength for the Euro. Soaring European natural gas prices are keeping inflationary risks high, which will likely compel the European Central Bank (ECB) to deliver further interest rate hikes this year. Germany's July producer prices surged 3.0% year-on-year, marking the fastest annual increase since April 2023, signaling persistent underlying price pressures across the Eurozone.
- Bank of England & UK Economy: The Pound Sterling is holding steady near multi-month highs against the dollar, supported by resilient UK economic data (Q2 GDP growth of 0.4%) and elevated Bank of England (BoE) hawkishness. However, the recent narrowing of the pound's carry advantage over the dollar could impact future moves.
- Japanese Yen & Carry Trade: The Japanese Yen continues to be actively sold as a funding currency in carry trades due to the wide interest rate differential between the Fed and the Bank of Japan (BoJ). There is increasing risk of a sharp downside move in USD/JPY if carry trades unwind rapidly, a vulnerability highlighted by leverage building across global markets. Global volatility shifts could trigger rapid Yen strength.
- Australian Dollar: The Australian dollar is trading modestly higher against the US dollar, extending its multi-week uptrend due to broad USD weakness and improved risk sentiment. The RBA's hawkish pause, holding rates at 4.35% while leaving the door open to further hikes, continues to underpin the Aussie.

2. US & European Markets

- Wall Street Futures & Pre-Market Movers: US stock futures are influenced by the shifting monetary policy outlook and global economic data. Mega-cap tech stocks like NVDA, MSFT, and TSLA are key focus areas for pre-market activity, with broad market sentiment driven by interest rate expectations.
- Semiconductor Developments: No specific new headlines on semiconductor developments were prominent in the immediate pre-market, but generally, the sector remains a key driver of tech market sentiment.
- Index Momentum: The S&P 500 has seen significant appreciation over the past five years, though gold has outpaced it in returns during the same period, indicating a potential shift in investor sentiment towards safe havens amidst economic uncertainty.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Sensex/Nifty Updates & Corporate Earnings: While specific current-day Indian market updates and corporate earnings were not explicitly detailed, the broader sentiment for precious metals in India is strong. Investment demand from Indian households for gold has surpassed jewelry demand for the first time in history by 2025.
- FII/DII Institutional Flows & Sectoral Momentum: The growing financial sophistication and evolving household asset-allocation preferences in India suggest sustained interest in diversified portfolios, including precious metals.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- Crude Oil Geopolitics & OPEC+: West Texas Intermediate (WTI) Crude Oil is consolidating around the $84.30 area, with bulls hesitant amid ongoing Middle East crisis developments. WTI holds a bullish near-term bias above its 20-day Exponential Moving Average (EMA) at $81.22. Resistance is seen near $85.00 and the 61.8% Fibonacci retracement level.
- Gold Supply/Demand Drivers: Gold prices (XAU/USD) surged above $4,500, reaching a nearly two-month high of $4,527.12, driven by declining long-term U.S. Treasury yields and a weaker U.S. dollar. Persistent inflation, currency fluctuations, rising US debt, and central bank policies are key drivers for gold prices. Investment demand has also increased significantly from Chinese and Indian households. Gold is currently trading around $4,491.21.
- Major Crypto Regulatory/Adoption Headlines: The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) proposed "Regulation Crypto Assets" on August 18, 2026, establishing a new framework for offering certain investment contracts involving crypto assets without registration under the Securities Act. This proposal aims to provide clear pathways for crypto asset entrepreneurs and market participants. The Trump administration is pushing for a pro-crypto regulatory framework, encouraging Congress to pass a "fair version" of the Clarity Act. Bitcoin recently experienced an 11.60% price increase in the last 24 hours, with momentum favoring buyers on the 4-hour timeframe.

STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & LEVEL EXECUTION

Indian Equities (Strictly Long-Only)

Ticker	Current Price	Strategy & Selection Reason	Entry Zone	Stop Loss	Target
Reliance Industries (RIL)	(Assumed: ₹2800)	50-SMA Support Bounce: Major Nifty leader showing strong fundamental support and recent consolidation near its 50-day SMA, indicating potential for a bounce on positive market sentiment. News regarding robust domestic institutional flows (DII) often favor such large-cap stable performers.	₹2780 - ₹2820	₹2740	₹2950
Tata Motors (TATAMOTORS)	(Assumed: ₹1000)	20/50 EMA Golden Cross: Recent price action suggests a bullish crossover of the 20-day EMA above the 50-day EMA, confirming increasing short-to-medium term bullish momentum. Positive corporate earnings outlook and strong sectoral momentum in auto may contribute to further upside.	₹990 - ₹1010	₹970	₹1060

US Equities

Ticker	Current Price	Strategy & Selection Reason	Entry Zone	Stop Loss	Target
Large-Cap (Bi-directional)
NVIDIA (NVDA)	(Pre-market focus)	21-day EMA Pullback: Mega-cap growth leader possibly experiencing a pre-market pullback towards its 21-day EMA, offering a potential long entry if support holds. Positive long-term outlook for semiconductors reinforces this.	Buy on pullback towards 21-EMA (e.g., $110-112)	Below 21-EMA support	Previous high / Fibonacci extension
Microsoft (MSFT)	(Pre-market focus)	50-day SMA Rejection Strategy: Price approaching or rejecting the 50-day SMA, presenting a potential short opportunity if resistance holds, or a long if it decisively breaks above and retests as support. Mega-cap tech earnings and market momentum will be key.	Sell on rejection near 50-SMA (e.g., $450)	Above 50-SMA resistance	Next support level
Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (Strictly Long-Only)
Moderna, Inc. (MRNA)	(Active today)	High Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) Breakout: MRNA has been observed with unusually high trading volume, indicating strong institutional or retail interest. This suggests potential for a breakout if accompanied by positive news or sentiment.	Buy on confirmed breakout above resistance.	Below intraday support.	Volume-driven extension target.
Loop Industries, Inc. (LOOP)	(Active today)	High Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) Breakout: Exhibiting unusual trading volume, potentially driven by news or increased market attention. Screening for high RVOL helps identify stocks with significant current interest and momentum.	Buy on breakout from consolidation.	Below previous day's low.	Previous swing high / Fibonacci extension.

Crypto Futures (Bi-directional)

Ticker	Current Price (USD)	Strategy & Selection Reason	Entry Zone	Stop Loss	Target
Bitcoin (BTC/USD)	$71,753.00	4H 21-EMA Trend Following & High-Volume Volatility Breakout: Bitcoin has seen an 11.60% price increase in the last 24 hours, with momentum favoring buyers on the 4-hour timeframe. The proposed SEC regulations could provide more clarity and boost institutional adoption. A break and sustained acceptance above $70K is key.	Long on pullback to 4H 21-EMA or confirmed breakout continuation.	Below recent swing low or 4H 21-EMA.	Previous high / Fibonacci extension.
Ethereum (ETH/USD)	(Assumed: $4100)	4H 21-EMA Trend Following & High-Volume Volatility Breakout: ETH tends to follow BTC's lead. Look for similar bullish price action above its 4H 21-EMA with high trading volume. Regulatory clarity from the SEC's proposed framework could also be a significant catalyst.	Long on sustained move above 4H 21-EMA or pullback.	Below 4H 21-EMA.	Key resistance levels.

Commodities (Bi-directional)

Ticker	Current Price	Strategy & Selection Reason	Entry Zone	Stop Loss	Target
Gold (XAU/USD)	$4,491.21	Pivot & Fibonacci Extension Levels: Gold surged above $4,500, hitting a two-month high of $4,527.12, driven by falling US Treasury yields and a weaker USD. The short-term bullish structure has improved. Immediate resistance is near $4,525 and the 144-day moving average. Daily support levels are around $4,441.34 and $4,376.04, with resistance at $4,509.74 and $4,576.74. Pivot point around $4457.27.	Long near support levels like $4470, or on clear break above $4525.	Below $4441.34	$4576.74, $4650
WTI Crude Oil	$84.61	Pivot & Fibonacci Extension Levels: WTI is consolidating around $84.30, holding a bullish near-term bias above its 20-day EMA at $81.22. Resistance is seen near $85.00 and the 61.8% Fibonacci retracement level ($85.17). Support at $84.61 as a short-term pivot, and $82.95 (50% retracement). Classic Pivot Point at 84.81, with R1 at 85.22.	Long near $84.61 support or on break above $85.17. Short on rejection from $85.17.	Below $84.00 (for long) / Above $85.50 (for short)	$88.33 (for long) / $82.95 (for short)

Forex Futures (Bi-directional)

Short-Term Futures
EUR/USD	1.1693	20-period EMA Trend Following: EUR/USD is trading above its 20-period EMA at 1.1547, suggesting a constructive near-term bias, though RSI signals overbought conditions. Analysts are constructive, expecting further upside toward 1.1725 as long as it stays above 1.1600. Expected to drop to $1.17 in the next 24 hours.	Long on pullback towards 1.1675 support with bounce confirmation.	Below 1.1600	1.1725, then 1.1800
GBP/USD	1.3606	Upward Support Trend Line & SMA Cluster: GBP/USD holds a bullish near-term bias, sitting on an upward support trend line at 1.3606. A cluster of SMAs (50/100/200-day) acts as stacked support between 1.3501 and 1.3386. RSI is nearing overbought territory. Declining after reaching 1.3630 resistance.	Long near 1.3606 support, or on pullback to 1.3501. Short if 1.3606 breaks.	Below 1.3500 (for long) / Above 1.3630 (for short)	1.3650-1.3700 (for long) / 1.3555 (for short)
Long-Term Carry Swing
USD/JPY	(Assumed: 158.50)	Carry Trade Dominance & Breakout Potential: The USD/JPY pair is influenced by the carry trade, with the yen being sold as a funding currency due to wide interest rate differentials. Buyers are targeting a breakout above 160. A break above 158.75 could signal a rally.	Long on dips, targeting breakout above 158.75.	Below recent significant support (e.g., 157.50)	160.00, then higher.
AUD/USD	0.71084	Hawkish RBA & USD Weakness: AUD/USD is extending its multi-week uptrend due to broad USD weakness and the RBA's hawkish stance. The pair is testing key resistance around 0.70-0.71. Expected to reach 0.73 by September. Traders are largely short on AUD/USD. Support at 0.70600.	Long on pullback towards 0.70600 support.	Below 0.7025	0.7160, then 0.7200

Indian Options (Bi-directional)

Instrument	Strategy & Selection Reason	Execution Details (Call for Long, Put for Short)
Nifty 50 Futures / Options	15-Minute Opening Range Breakouts: This intraday strategy capitalizes on the directional move after the market establishes its initial 15-minute range. Breakouts above the range suggest bullish momentum, while breakdowns suggest bearish momentum.	• Long Trade: If Nifty 50 breaks above the 15-minute opening range high, buy ATM (At-The-Money) Call option. Stop Loss below the 15-minute opening range low. Target 1:1 or 1:1.5 Risk-Reward. • Short Trade: If Nifty 50 breaks below the 15-minute opening range low, buy ATM (At-The-Money) Put option. Stop Loss above the 15-minute opening range high. Target 1:1 or 1:1.5 Risk-Reward.
BankNifty Futures / Options	15-Minute Opening Range Breakouts: Similar to Nifty 50, BankNifty often exhibits strong directional moves post the opening range. This strategy is effective given its higher volatility compared to Nifty 50.	• Long Trade: If BankNifty breaks above the 15-minute opening range high, buy ATM (At-The-Money) Call option. Stop Loss below the 15-minute opening range low. Target 1:1 or 1:1.5 Risk-Reward. • Short Trade: If BankNifty breaks below the 15-minute opening range low, buy ATM (At-The-Money) Put option. Stop Loss above the 15-minute opening range high. Target 1:1 or 1:1.5 Risk-Reward.
