CURRENT SESSION HIGHLIGHT: New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

SESSION NEWS FOCUS: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- The trailing 12-month Consumer Price Index (CPI) in the US stands at 3.36%, with the annual inflation rate at 2.79% for September 2026, as per the Bureau of Labor Statistics. The July 2026 inflation rate was 3.4%, a slight decrease from 3.5% in June.
- The Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) meeting is scheduled for September 15-16, with the interest rate decision due on September 16, 2026.
- Cleveland Fed President Beth Hammack's recent hawkish comments, coupled with a stronger jobs report, have increased the odds of a Fed rate hike at the September meeting to over 60%. The Fed's policy stance has reportedly shifted to hiking rates unless data explicitly warrants a pause.
- A quarter-point interest rate hike is the anticipated outcome for the European Central Bank's (ECB) September meeting.
- Other major central banks like the Bank of Canada and Bank of England are leaning towards maintaining current rates, while the Reserve Bank of New Zealand and Bank of Japan are expected to consider rate increases.
- Central banks globally are showing increased interest in gold; the Bank of Korea has announced an official gold allocation via ETFs, and the National Bank of Poland continues to accumulate gold.

2. US & European Markets

- US stock index futures are indicating a lower open for the US market on September 7, influenced by stronger-than-expected August US jobs data and heightened concerns over potential interest rate hikes.
- The US stock market is closed today, September 7, for Labor Day, with trading set to resume on Tuesday, September 8.
- Upcoming key events for the US market include the Apple product event on September 9, August Producer Price Index (PPI) data and Oracle's earnings on September 10, and the August CPI figures on September 11.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian equity benchmarks, Sensex and Nifty 50, opened lower on September 7, with the Sensex dropping and Nifty trading below 23,900.
- This market decline is primarily attributed to elevated crude oil prices, escalating US-Iran hostilities, and renewed concerns regarding a potential US interest rate hike.
- Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) were net sellers on September 4, with an outflow of ₹3,111.94 crore in the cash segment, while Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIs) demonstrated strong buying, with inflows of ₹8,930.12 crore.
- Top losers in the Nifty50 index included Infosys, Tech Mahindra, and Bajaj Auto, while sectors such as IT, Realty, and PSU Bank experienced the most significant declines. Conversely, the Nifty Pharma and Healthcare sectors showed gains.
- Mid-cap indices experienced a slight decline, while small-cap indices recorded a marginal rise.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- Brent crude oil is trading near $97.89 per barrel and WTI crude oil near $92.30 per barrel as of September 7. These prices are being driven by renewed strikes between the US and Iran in the Strait of Hormuz, raising concerns about potential supply disruptions.
- OPEC+ members decided on September 6 to maintain October oil production targets at September levels, following an increase in production for September. Geopolitical tensions continue to underpin crude oil prices.
- In the cryptocurrency space, the CLARITY Act, a crucial bill for crypto regulation, is scheduled for a Senate cloture vote on September 15. However, the Polymarket odds for the bill passing into law in 2026 have significantly dropped to 16%. The act aims to establish a tailored securities offering and regulatory framework for crypto assets. Passage is currently hindered by three unresolved disputes concerning ethics rules, DeFi developer liability, and stablecoin yield provisions.

STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

Indian Equities (Strictly Long-Only)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
SUNPHARMA	Long	Selected from the Nifty Pharma sector, which showed resilience today. Demonstrating a recent bounce off its 50-SMA on daily charts, indicating potential upward momentum.

US Equities (For September 8th Opening)

Large-Cap (Bi-Directional)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVDA	Short	Pre-market weakness observed across growth stocks and mega-caps, indicating a potential 50-day SMA rejection after an extended rally, especially with rising rate hike concerns.
MSFT	Long	Strong underlying business fundamentals. A potential pullback towards its 21-day EMA could offer a dip-buying opportunity if broader market sentiment improves post-open.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (Strictly Long-Only)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
ETSY	Long	Exhibiting high relative volume (RVOL > 2.0) on recent strong sessions, signaling potential Stage-2 breakout continuation.

Crypto Futures (Bi-Directional)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
ETH/USD	Long	Following a confirmed 4H 21-EMA uptrend with increasing volume, indicating continuation of bullish momentum despite regulatory uncertainties around the CLARITY Act.
SOL/USD	Short	High-volume volatility breakout to the downside, breaking below the 4H 21-EMA, suggesting a short-term bearish reversal.

Commodities (Bi-Directional)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
XAU/USD (Gold)	Long	Holding above a key Fibonacci support level, supported by ongoing geopolitical tensions and increased central bank gold accumulation.
WTI Crude Oil (USOUSD)	Long	Sustained rally above daily pivot points driven by escalating US-Iran conflict and supply disruption fears in the Strait of Hormuz, targeting next Fibonacci extension levels.

Forex Futures (Bi-Directional)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD Futures	Short (Short-Term)	Anticipation of Fed hawkishness and potential for interest rate divergence with the ECB's slightly less aggressive stance, testing key short-term resistance levels.
USD/JPY Futures	Long (Macro Carry Swing)	Widening interest rate differentials favoring the USD due to potential Fed rate hikes and a comparatively dovish Bank of Japan outlook, making it suitable for a long-term carry trade.

Indian Options (Bi-Directional)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
NIFTY50 PUT (Current Week Expiry)	Short	Nifty 50 breaking below its 15-minute opening range low on elevated volume, signaling strong intraday bearish momentum.
