Daily Multi-Asset Trading Blueprint & Level Execution Manual

Date: August 12, 2026

Session Highlight: London Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: Heavy emphasis on European macroeconomic releases, ECB/BOE news, Forex short-term futures (EUR/USD, GBP/USD), and Gold (XAU/USD) supply/demand zones.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- US CPI Data Looms: The July US Consumer Price Index (CPI) is the main focus for global markets today. Forecasts suggest annual inflation may slow to 3.4% from 3.5%, with core CPI at 2.5%. Weaker-than-expected figures could strengthen Federal Reserve easing expectations and pressure the US Dollar, while stronger figures could provide support.
- Fed Policy Outlook: Following a weaker-than-expected July jobs report (-23K payrolls), the probability of a September Fed rate hike has decreased to 44%. Softer inflation data could further reinforce the case for the Fed to hold rates.
- ECB & BOE Stance: The British Pound is demonstrating strength, supported by a hawkish Bank of England (which recently held rates) and a weakening US Dollar. The EUR/USD pair is consolidating ahead of the US CPI release, with the Euro's resilience potentially maintained if US labor market cooling continues.
- Global Liquidity: New research from Commonwealth Bank indicates abundant global monetary liquidity in 2026, acting as a tailwind for global shares and financial assets.
- MSCI Index Review: MSCI Inc. is scheduled to announce the results of its August 2026 Index Review today, which will lead to changes in various MSCI Equity Indexes effective at the close of August 31, 2026.

2. US & European Markets

- European Futures Cautious: Pan-region Euro Stoxx 50, German DAX, and FTSE futures are trading slightly lower or flat in the pre-open, reflecting a cautious sentiment ahead of the crucial US CPI data.
- US Stock Performance: US stock futures for the S&P 500 are slightly up today, although US stocks had slipped on Tuesday, moving away from recent record highs. Technology stocks notably led gains last week, indicating a broadening market trend.
- Mega-Cap Tech Earnings: Reported S&P 500 earnings-per-share growth is significantly influenced by "other income" from mega-cap technology companies, such as Nvidia, which are booking paper gains on their equity investments.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Mixed Opening for Indian Indices: Indian benchmark indices, Sensex and Nifty, opened mixed to lower on Wednesday, influenced by geopolitical uncertainty and rising crude oil prices. The Nifty 50 was under pressure, while the Sensex showed a mixed tone.
- Corporate Earnings in Focus: Several companies, including Larsen & Toubro, Tata Motors, Hindustan Aeronautics, Grasim Industries, Siemens, Apollo Hospitals, and IRCTC, are in focus due to recent Q1 earnings reports and corporate developments. Finolex Cables and TD Power Systems reported strong Q1 performances.
- Sectoral Flows & Momentum: Selling pressure was observed in FMCG, IT, private banks, healthcare, and consumer durables sectors. PSU banks and metals demonstrated outperformance, while realty, financial services, and cement stocks experienced pressure.
- Rupee Stability: The Indian Rupee remained largely stable against the US Dollar, trading around 95.420.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- Crude Oil Surges: Brent crude prices have risen for a sixth consecutive session, approaching $90 per barrel. This surge is attributed to heightened geopolitical tensions (including Red Sea attacks and uncertainty around a US-Iran deal) and OPEC+ supply caps. Higher oil prices are raising concerns about inflation globally and for India's import bill.
- Gold (XAU/USD) as Safe Haven: Gold continues its recent upward trend, trading around $4,387-$4,414, driven by increased demand for safe-haven assets amid macroeconomic and geopolitical uncertainties. Technical levels indicate immediate resistance around $4,444 and the 200-day SMA at $4,500.55, with strong support at the 100-day SMA near $4,388.40. Central banks, notably China, are consistently accumulating gold reserves, reinforcing a bullish long-term outlook.
- Crypto Regulatory Focus: The US SEC is holding a critical open meeting today (August 12, 2026) to discuss the need for tailored rules for crypto asset investment contracts, including proposals for streamlined offerings and registration exemptions. The CLARITY Act is delayed. This represents a significant regulatory development for the crypto market.

STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Screen Nifty leaders using 50-SMA support bounces or 20/50 EMA golden crosses.

Ticker	Price (Approx)	Strategy	Selection Reason
Finolex Cables (FINCABLES)	₹1250	50-SMA Support Bounce	Reported strong Q1 performance with revenue crossing ₹2,000 crore, leading to a 10% jump in shares. This fundamental strength makes it a candidate for a technical bounce from key moving averages if price pulls back to support.
TD Power Systems (TDPOWERSYS)	₹280	20/50 EMA Golden Cross	Q1 profit jumped 72% YoY, leading to a rally of up to 16% in shares. This strong momentum could lead to a golden cross formation, signaling sustained bullish trend.
Hindalco Industries (HINDALCO)	₹650	50-SMA Support Bounce	Outperforming in the Metal sector, which showed positive momentum today. A pullback to the 50-SMA, if it occurs, would present a potential long entry.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Screen using 21-day EMA pullbacks or 50-day SMA rejection strategy on mega-cap growth leaders.

Ticker	Price (Approx)	Strategy	Selection Reason
Nvidia (NVDA)	$217.58	21-Day EMA Pullback	Mega-cap tech leader with significant influence on S&P 500 earnings. Recently saw a slight decline. A pullback to its 21-day EMA would provide a potential entry for a bounce given its strong growth profile and recent leadership.
Microsoft (MSFT)	$450	50-Day SMA Rejection	Consistent mega-cap growth stock. If a rally towards the 50-day SMA encounters rejection, it could signal a short opportunity, particularly if broader market sentiment (post-CPI) turns bearish.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Screen using Stage-2 VCP or High Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) breakouts.

Ticker	Price (Approx)	Strategy	Selection Reason
Enphase Energy (ENPH)	$130	Stage-2 VCP Breakout	Renewable energy sector showing growth potential. Look for consolidation patterns (VCP) after a strong uptrend (Stage-2) and a breakout above resistance on increased volume for a long entry.
Palantir Technologies (PLTR)	$28	High Relative Volume Breakout	Data analytics and AI leader, a sector of interest for growth. A breakout on RVOL > 2.0 signals strong institutional accumulation and conviction in the move.

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Screen using 4H 21-EMA trend following and high-volume volatility breakouts.

Ticker	Price (Approx)	Strategy	Selection Reason
Bitcoin (BTC/USD)	$63,590	4H 21-EMA Trend Following	Regulatory news from the SEC meeting today could induce volatility. A clear trend above/below the 4H 21-EMA would indicate bullish/bearish momentum for trend following, combined with volume for confirmation.
Ethereum (ETH/USD)	$1,866	High-Volume Volatility Breakout	Often follows BTC but can have independent breakouts. The upcoming SEC meeting and overall market sentiment could lead to significant volatility. Look for strong volume accompanying price breaks above/below key ranges.

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Gold (XAU/USD) and WTI Crude Oil using Pivot & Fibonacci extension levels.

Ticker	Price (Approx)	Strategy	Selection Reason
Gold (XAU/USD)	$4,387-$4,414	Pivot & Fibonacci Levels	Currently rallying as a safe-haven asset, trading near $4,387. Resistance is at $4,444 and the 200-day SMA at $4,500.55. Support near $4,388.40 (100-day SMA). Trading based on anticipated reactions at these key technical levels, especially with US CPI data due.
WTI Crude Oil (CL=F)	$84.28	Pivot & Fibonacci Levels	Rising due to geopolitical tensions and supply concerns, with Brent crude nearing $90. WTI rose 1.31% today. Identify key pivots and Fibonacci extensions from recent highs to anticipate potential resistance/support for intraday trades. The EMA50 is providing positive support for its bullish trend.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Short-Term (EUR/USD, GBP/USD) & Macro Carry Swings (USD/JPY, AUD/USD)

Ticker	Price (Approx)	Strategy	Selection Reason
EUR/USD	1.1550	Short-Term Volatility Play	Consolidating below 1.1550 ahead of US CPI data. The pair is in a narrow range of 1.1500-1.1580, awaiting a fresh impulse. Technical analysis suggests a possible test of the lower boundary (1.1500). Volatility expected post-CPI, allowing for scalp trades around key support/resistance.
GBP/USD	1.3500	Short-Term Volatility Play	Holding near 1.3500, awaiting US CPI data for fresh impetus. The Pound is generally strong due to hawkish BOE, but highly sensitive to US inflation. Look for breakouts or reversals around the 1.3500 psychological level based on CPI outcome.
USD/JPY	159.45	Macro Carry Swing (Bullish Bias)	Yen slid to 159.45, weakest since recent intervention, due to Fed rate prospects. Short-term bias is bullish. Potential for carry trade as long as interest rate differentials favor the USD, or for swing trades on significant pullbacks.
AUD/USD	0.6650	Macro Carry Swing (Neutral Bias)	RBA delivered a hawkish hold on policy rates. Neutral short-term bias. Monitor for shifts in commodity prices (like copper and gold which affect AUD) and US CPI impact on USD, for potential swing opportunities.

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Nifty 50 / BankNifty 15-Minute Opening Range Breakouts (Call for Long, Put for Short).

Ticker	Price (Approx)	Strategy	Selection Reason
Nifty 50 (NIFTY)	24,423	15-Minute Opening Range Breakout	Nifty opened lower today but is sensitive to global cues and domestic earnings. High intraday volatility is expected. An ORB strategy capitalizes on the initial directional move post-open.
BankNifty (BANKNIFTY)	57,340	15-Minute Opening Range Breakout	Bank Nifty also traded lower in early trading, showing intraday price action. Due to its high liquidity and volatility, it is suitable for ORB strategies to capture momentum.

10-Year Backtest Metrics (Hypothetical Multi-Asset Strategy)
