Date: October 23, 2026

Session: 🇺🇸 New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

📰 SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- US Federal Reserve's Stance: Recent hawkish rhetoric from Fed officials suggests a longer-than-anticipated period of elevated interest rates, curbing inflation expectations but raising concerns about economic growth deceleration. Markets are pricing in a lower probability of rate cuts in early 2027.
- ECB & BoE Commentary: European Central Bank (ECB) and Bank of England (BoE) officials echoed similar sentiments, emphasizing data dependency for future policy adjustments amidst persistent inflation pressures in the Eurozone and UK.
- Yen Volatility: The Japanese Yen continues to trade near multi-decade lows against the USD, prompting verbal intervention from Japanese finance officials, though no direct action has been taken yet.

2. US & European Markets

- Wall Street Futures Mixed: S&P 500 and Nasdaq futures are showing modest gains pre-market, recovering slightly from yesterday's broader market dip. Focus remains on upcoming earnings and Fed speeches.
- Mega-Cap Tech Movers: NVDA is up significantly pre-market following optimistic analyst reports on AI chip demand. MSFT shows steady gains on cloud growth prospects. TSLA is under pressure after reports of production slowdowns in a key overseas factory.
- Semiconductor Sector Resilience: Despite broader market concerns, the semiconductor sector, buoyed by AI and data center demand, continues to demonstrate strong performance, with several chip stocks showing pre-market strength.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Nifty 50 Outlook: Indian equities are expected to open flat to positive, tracking global cues. Recent foreign institutional investor (FII) outflows have tempered some domestic enthusiasm.
- Corporate Earnings Season: Key Indian corporate earnings announcements are in focus, with several major IT and banking sector reports due this week, potentially dictating sectoral momentum.
- FII/DII Flows: Data from yesterday showed continued FII selling, largely offset by robust domestic institutional investor (DII) buying, indicating underlying domestic liquidity support.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil Volatility: WTI Crude Oil is seeing increased volatility amid renewed geopolitical tensions in the Middle East and upcoming OPEC+ production meeting expectations. Inventories data due later today.
- Gold's Safe-Haven Appeal: Gold prices are firming up as global economic uncertainty and geopolitical risks enhance its appeal as a safe-haven asset. USD strength is providing a counter-balance.
- Crypto Regulatory Scrutiny: Major cryptocurrencies are experiencing mild pressure as regulatory discussions intensify globally, particularly concerning stablecoins and DeFi protocols. Bitcoin is holding above the $65,000 level.
