SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- US Federal Reserve & Inflation: US stock futures are flat as investors await the July Consumer Price Index (CPI) report due on Wednesday, which is expected to provide critical clues on the Federal Reserve's interest rate path. A weaker-than-expected July jobs report has already tempered bets on a near-term Fed rate hike, with probabilities for a September hike now around 45%. The inflation report is taking on added importance, especially with elevated oil prices that could rekindle price pressures.
- Other Central Banks: The People's Bank of China (PBOC) has authorized Deutsche Bank as an RMB clearing bank in Frankfurt, reflecting efforts to expand the global use of the renminbi and prudently advance high-level financial opening-up. The Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) is expected to hold rates today, with economists anticipating revisions to unemployment forecasts and trimmed inflation projections, suggesting a "wait and see" approach. The Central Bank of Kenya (CBK) is scheduled to hold its Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) meeting today, August 11, 2026.
- Currency Drivers: The Philippine Peso has gained against the greenback following weak US jobs data, with traders awaiting US inflation figures for further direction. The Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) is prepared to tighten policy further if needed to curb inflation.

2. US & European Markets

- Wall Street Performance & Futures: US stock futures are subdued after a weak Monday session, with the S&P 500 down 0.1%, NASDAQ Composite losing 0.3%, and Dow Jones Industrial Average slipping 0.1%. This is largely attributed to persistent uncertainty surrounding efforts to reopen the Strait of Hormuz and elevated oil prices. Nasdaq 100 futures, however, have partially rebounded overnight.
- Mega-Cap Tech & Semiconductors: Nvidia (NVDA) shares fell by 2.9% on Monday, partly due to higher oil prices. Intel (INTC) also dropped by 4.1% after announcing a $15 billion share offering. Nvidia is reportedly seeking $500 billion in financing to turn its AI chips into a new asset class. TSMC's July sales reportedly rose to a record.
- Earnings & Momentum: Earnings reports are expected today from companies like Cardinal Health, CoreWeave, and Super Micro Computer. The S&P 500 is projected to show 15% revenue growth for Q2 2026.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Opening & Momentum: Indian stock market benchmark indices, Sensex and Nifty 50, are expected to open weak today due to rising Brent crude oil prices and global geopolitical uncertainty. Gift Nifty trends also indicate a negative start. However, the broader outlook remains sideways to bullish, with the Nifty 50 consolidating near a key technical hurdle.
- Corporate Earnings: Q1 earnings season is a key driver for stock-specific movements. Several companies are scheduled to release quarterly results today, including Bata India, Zydus Lifesciences, MRF, Siemens, and Delta Corp. Strong demand drove revenue growth in Q1 for consumer-focused segments, though higher input costs impacted profitability.
- FII/DII Institutional Flows: Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) were net buyers, with inflows of approximately ₹2,071 crore on Monday, while Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIs) were net sellers with outflows of around ₹1,312 crore. DIIs have crossed ₹5 lakh crore in net equity investments for the third consecutive year, providing significant support to Indian markets amid fluctuating foreign capital flows.
- Sectoral Momentum: Sectoral performance was mixed on Monday, with Nifty Private Bank, Consumer Durables, IT, Financial Services, and Metal sectors showing strength. Nifty PSU Bank was the biggest laggard.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- Crude Oil Geopolitics: Oil prices rose on Tuesday as negotiations between the US and Iran over a peace deal and the reopening of the Strait of Hormuz reached an impasse. US President Donald Trump demanded compensation from Iran, while Tehran seeks reparations, complicating efforts to reopen the crucial waterway. Brent crude futures edged up to $88.00 per barrel, and US crude futures ticked up to $82.45. Uncertainty over the Strait of Hormuz continues to exert upward pressure on oil prices.
- OPEC+ Updates: Eight OPEC+ members, including Russia, agreed to increase oil production by 548,000 barrels per day (bpd) in August, and sources indicate another 548,000 bpd increase is likely for September. This rising supply coincides with fears that new US tariffs could dampen global economic growth and oil demand, creating a mismatch between supply and demand.
- Gold Supply/Demand Drivers: Gold and silver futures were trading higher on Tuesday, with gold up 1.51%. Geopolitical tensions and concerns over inflation often drive demand for safe-haven assets like gold.
- Major Crypto Regulatory/Adoption Headlines: Spot Bitcoin ETFs recorded their best week since April, with $853.5 million in net inflows from August 3-7. BlackRock's IBIT alone captured 81% of the total. Bitcoin is holding above $65,000 for the fourth consecutive day. Wednesday's CPI print is the week's biggest catalyst for crypto markets, as a cooler reading could extend the risk-on sentiment.

STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY across Large, Mid, Small)

Nifty leaders using 50-SMA support bounces or 20/50 EMA golden crosses.

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
CHOLAFIN	Long	CholaFin has shown a strong thrust above its value area resistance (1850) and a fresh breakout from sideways consolidation. RSI support indicates a strong upward move potential.
MAZDOCK	Long	Mazagon Dock Shipbuilders has seen steady buying interest on pullbacks around the 2250-2280 zone, with a rounding pattern and steady volumes indicating reviving trends after absorbing negative results.
POLYMED	Long	Poly Medicure witnessed a strong breakout from recent sideways consolidation, finding support near the 200-Day EMA, backed by a noticeable volume spike. Sustaining above key EMAs reflects improving trend strength.
BRIGADE	Long	Brigade Enterprises delivered a strong breakout above the 200-Day EMA resistance, supported by a decisive sideways range breakout and volume expansion, indicating renewed buying interest.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL): Screen using 21-day EMA pullbacks or 50-day SMA rejection strategy on mega-cap growth leaders.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY): Screen using Stage-2 VCP or High Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) breakouts.

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
MSFT	Short (Monitor for 50-day SMA rejection)	Mega-cap tech stocks, including Microsoft, are facing pressure due to higher oil prices and broader market uncertainty. A potential rejection at the 50-day SMA could signal further downside in the current market environment.
NVDA	Short (Monitor for 21-day EMA pullback breakdown)	Nvidia experienced a 2.9% drop on Monday. Continued geopolitical concerns and rising inflation fears could lead to further weakness. A breakdown below the 21-day EMA on a pullback would confirm a short entry.
SMCI	Long (Pre-earnings momentum, RVOL > 2.0)	Super Micro Computer is reporting earnings today. Positive sentiment around AI infrastructure and potential for a high relative volume breakout preceding earnings could offer a long opportunity, assuming strong pre-market action.

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL across Large, Mid, Small)

Screen using 4H 21-EMA trend following and high-volume volatility breakouts.

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
BTCUSD	Long (4H 21-EMA Trend Following)	Bitcoin has held above $65,000 for four consecutive days and Spot BTC ETFs saw significant inflows recently. A sustained move above the 4-hour 21-EMA with increasing volume could indicate continued bullish momentum.
ETHUSD	Long (High-volume volatility breakout)	Following Bitcoin's positive sentiment and strong ETF inflows, Ethereum could see a high-volume volatility breakout if it decisively clears a key resistance level, especially if macro conditions remain favorable (post-CPI).

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Gold (XAU/USD) and WTI Crude Oil using Pivot & Fibonacci extension levels.

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
XAU/USD	Long (Pivot Level Bounce)	Gold is trading higher. Geopolitical tensions and inflation concerns tend to support gold as a safe haven. A bounce from a key pivot support level could signal a continuation of the upward trend.
WTI Crude Oil	Long (Fibonacci Retracement Support)	WTI Crude Oil prices are elevated due to US-Iran tensions and Strait of Hormuz uncertainty. The price has broken above a descending trend line and is testing the 200 SMA. A bounce from a Fibonacci retracement support level (e.g., 61.8% or 50% Fib between $77.44 and $78.40) on any pullback would indicate a long opportunity towards $82.49 or higher.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Short-Term (EUR/USD, GBP/USD) & Macro Carry Swings (USD/JPY, AUD/USD).

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD	Short (Weak US Jobs Data Follow-through, CPI anticipation)	While the weak US jobs report initially eased Fed hike fears, overall market uncertainty and the upcoming CPI data could weigh on risk sentiment, potentially strengthening the USD against the EUR if CPI comes in hot.
GBP/USD	Short (Global Macro Headwinds)	Similar to EUR/USD, global macro headwinds, particularly from elevated oil prices and persistent inflation concerns, could lead to a stronger USD and weaker GBP, especially ahead of crucial US inflation data.
USD/JPY	Long (Carry Trade - Sustained Yield Differential)	Despite Fed rate hike tempering, the significant yield differential between US and Japanese bonds (carry trade) could continue to support USD/JPY, especially if risk-off sentiment prevails due to geopolitical events.
AUD/USD	Short (RBA on Hold, Commodity Price Sensitivity)	The RBA is expected to hold rates today. While commodity prices are generally strong, AUD/USD could face pressure if global growth concerns intensify or if the RBA's outlook is more cautious.

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Nifty 50 / BankNifty 15-Minute Opening Range Breakouts (Call for Long, Put for Short).

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
Nifty 50 Options	Bi-directional (15-Min Opening Range Breakout)	Nifty 50 is expected to open weak. A break above the 15-minute opening range would signal a potential intraday long (Call option), while a break below would indicate a short (Put option). Immediate resistance is at 24,650-24,700, and support at 24,500.
BankNifty Options	Bi-directional (15-Min Opening Range Breakout)	Bank Nifty has been range-bound, with 58,000 acting as a key hurdle. Similar to Nifty, an opening range breakout above resistance (e.g., 58,100 for long) or below support (e.g., 57,400 for short) would trigger option trades.
