Session Highlight: New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- The U.S. July Consumer Price Index (CPI) indicated easing inflation, reaching its slowest pace since early 2021, which has reduced immediate pressure for Federal Reserve interest rate hikes in September.
- Market attention is now heavily focused on the impending U.S. Producer Price Index (PPI) report, scheduled for release at 8:30 a.m. ET, as the next significant data point for inflation assessment and its implications for the dollar and Fed policy.
- Richmond Federal Reserve President Thomas Barkin stated that whether further rate hikes are necessary remains an "open question" and will depend on incoming economic data, despite many Fed officials currently viewing existing rates as sufficiently restrictive.
- Concerns are emerging among investors regarding the Federal Reserve's streamlined communication strategy under Chair Kevin Warsh, which features less forward guidance, potentially increasing market uncertainty and influencing bond yields.
- The U.S. Dollar Index (DXY) is attempting a recovery from support but faces resistance at its 50-day EMA near $100.29.

2. US & European Markets

- U.S. stock index futures for the Dow, S&P 500, and Nasdaq 100 are indicating a higher open, buoyed by positive corporate earnings and a re-evaluation of inflation and interest rate trajectories.
- Significant pre-market movers include Accelerant Holdings, which surged 44.5% following an acquisition agreement, and Harmonic, up 25% after reporting earnings that significantly exceeded expectations.
- Conversely, Cerebras, Cisco Systems, and Coherent experienced declines in pre-market trading due to missed revenue estimates or disappointing outlooks.
- Investment in Artificial Intelligence (AI) continues to be a factor contributing to rising prices in IT commodities, impacting core goods inflation.
- Yesterday, the S&P 500 and Nasdaq Composite indices saw gains, partly driven by strong performance in AI and semiconductor stocks.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian benchmark indices, the Sensex and Nifty 50, concluded Thursday's trading session mixed after trading within a narrow range; the Sensex gained marginally by 0.15%, while the Nifty 50 registered a slight decline of 0.16%.
- Broader markets, including the Nifty Midcap 100 and Nifty Smallcap 100, closed on a positive note.
- Sectoral performance was varied, with Nifty FMCG and Nifty Media outperforming, while Nifty Cement experienced a decline. Early trading saw the Nifty Auto index as the sole gainer among sectors.
- Key Nifty 50 gainers included Tata Consumer Products, Tata Motors, NTPC, Hindustan Unilever, and Shriram Finance. Notable losers included Hindalco Industries, ICICI Bank, UltraTech Cement, and Grasim Industries.
- Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) were net sellers of Indian equities, divesting Rs 1,002.50 crore on August 12, 2026, while Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIs) were net buyers, acquiring shares worth Rs 5,841.66 crore.
- Concerns about July retail inflation, which rose to a 19-month high of 4.45%, could potentially lead to an RBI rate hike.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil prices declined below $82.50, primarily due to an unexpected and substantial increase in U.S. crude oil inventories, which jumped by 17.422 million barrels for the week ending August 7, contrary to market expectations for a decline.
- Major energy agencies, including OPEC and the IEA, have revised down their global oil demand growth projections, further contributing to downward pressure on crude prices.
- Geopolitical tensions, particularly concerning the Strait of Hormuz and ongoing U.S.-Iran discussions, continue to be significant catalysts for volatility in crude oil prices, which are currently trading around the $81-82 range.
- Gold prices saw a slight increase of 0.16% to $4,415 per ounce on August 13. This rise extends a recent rally fueled by easing U.S. inflation data, which has dampened expectations for a September Fed rate hike, and sustained safe-haven demand amidst geopolitical risks.
- The overall cryptocurrency market capitalization rose by 1.8% to $2.24 trillion, with a 24-hour trading volume of $48.3 billion.
- Top crypto gainers over the past 24 hours include Bitway (+26.70%), Mantle (+5.80%), aPriori (+38.2%), and Velvet (+18.6%), driven by factors such as token buybacks and new exchange listings. In contrast, Bitcoin and Ethereum experienced slight declines of -0.30% and -0.10%, respectively.

STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & LEVEL EXECUTION

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Market Segment	Strategy & Selection Reason
Tata Consumer Products Ltd. (TATACONSUM)	Nifty Large-Cap	Strong performer today (among top Nifty gainers), indicating positive momentum likely supported by 50-SMA support bounce. FMCG sector outperformed.
Shriram Finance Ltd. (SHRIRAMFIN)	Nifty Large-Cap	Leading gainer in today's session with sustained buying interest. Assumed 20/50 EMA golden cross or strong support.
Astral Ltd. (ASTRAL)	Nifty Mid-Cap	Surged on heavy trading activity, aligning with positive sector pockets (chemicals and cement often move with building materials). Assumed recent 20/50 EMA golden cross or strong price action on support.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Market Segment	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVIDIA Corp. (NVDA)	Mega-Cap Tech/AI	Pre-market futures show tech/AI stocks leading gains. Anticipating a potential 21-day EMA pullback offering a buying opportunity on the long side, capitalizing on strong AI earnings sentiment.
Microsoft Corp. (MSFT)	Mega-Cap Tech	Strong performance expected in tech ahead of market open. Observing for a 21-day EMA pullback for potential long entry or 50-day SMA rejection for short if broader market sentiment shifts negatively post-PPI.
Tesla Inc. (TSLA)	Mega-Cap Growth	Known for high volatility and susceptibility to market sentiment. Looking for a clear 21-day EMA pullback for a long entry, or a 50-day SMA rejection for a short entry, especially sensitive to broader market cues today.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Market Segment	Strategy & Selection Reason
Harmonic Inc. (HLIT)	Mid-Cap Tech	Surged 25% premarket on significantly better-than-expected Q2 results and strong broadband demand, indicating a high relative volume (RVOL > 2.0) breakout opportunity.
Accelerant Holdings (ADNT)	Small-Cap InsurTech	Surged 44.5% pre-market due to an acquisition agreement, signifying a strong Stage-2 VCP (Volatility Contraction Pattern) or breakout on news with high relative volume. (Note: Acquisition news can lead to rapid price convergence to offer price).

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Market Segment	Strategy & Selection Reason
Bitcoin (BTC/USD)	Large-Cap Crypto	Following 4H 21-EMA for trend continuation. Despite a slight daily decline, overall crypto market cap rose, suggesting high-volume volatility breakouts could occur, bi-directional based on price action around key levels.
Ethereum (ETH/USD)	Large-Cap Crypto	Similar to BTC, applying 4H 21-EMA trend following. High liquidity allows for effective bi-directional trading on volatility breakouts, especially if related news (e.g., upgrades, regulatory clarity) emerges.
Mantle (MNT/USD)	Mid-Cap Altcoin	Top gainer (+5.80%) in the last 24 hours, indicating strong bullish momentum and potential for high-volume volatility breakouts. Long opportunities on 4H 21-EMA trend following.

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Market Segment	Strategy & Selection Reason
Gold (XAU/USD)	Precious Metal	Inched up on easing inflation concerns and geopolitical safe-haven demand, but awaiting PPI for further direction. Trading off Pivot & Fibonacci extension levels (e.g., Pivot: $4,410, R1: $4,425, S1: $4,395) for bi-directional moves.
WTI Crude Oil (CL=F)	Energy	Declined due to unexpected inventory build but supported by ongoing geopolitical tensions. Trading bi-directionally using Pivot & Fibonacci levels (e.g., Pivot: $81.50, R1: $82.20, S1: $80.80). US-Iran talks and Strait of Hormuz developments are key catalysts.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Market Segment	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD (Short-Term)	Major Currency Pair	Rejected near resistance ($1.1569) and trading modestly flat above $1.1500 as USD stabilizes. Expecting short-term bi-directional trades around $1.1500 support and $1.1569 resistance, with PPI data as a major driver.
GBP/USD (Short-Term)	Major Currency Pair	Slipped below its $1.3515 pivot and trading near $1.3483, indicating weakening momentum. Looking for short opportunities if it fails to reclaim pivot, with downside support at $1.3474-$1.3437.
USD/JPY (Macro Carry Swing)	Major Carry Trade Pair	Dollar holds gains, carry trade still winning, nearing 160 resistance. Intervention risk from Bank of Japan is a factor. Bi-directional, but favoring long positions on pullbacks towards 200-day EMA support unless intervention occurs.
AUD/USD (Macro Carry Swing)	Commodity Currency Pair	Slipped after a rally, but bulls may find support near 0.7050. Interest rate differentials and commodity prices (especially gold) are key drivers. Bi-directional swing trades with resistance near 0.7080 and support at 0.7050.
