SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- The US Federal Reserve's Beige Book indicated modest economic activity and slight consumer spending growth, but highlighted persistent high inflation driven by elevated energy prices and geopolitical tensions (Iran war). Markets are anticipating a potential interest rate hike by the Fed in mid-September to stabilize the economy.
- The European Central Bank (ECB) is widely expected to raise interest rates by 25 basis points at its September 10th meeting, likely from 2.25% to 2.5%, in response to eurozone inflation accelerating to 3.3% in August (above the 2% target) and rising energy costs. Despite the hike, a "gradual" approach is anticipated.

2. US & European Markets

- US equity futures were mixed, with S&P 500 futures slightly lower due to rising bond yields and inflation concerns. This follows a partial rebound in US markets after a three-day losing streak.
- Notable pre-market movers include Dell Technologies (DELL) which jumped 15.81% on strong Q2 results and raised guidance, AST SpaceMobile (ASTS) climbing 11.83%, and Reddit (RDDT) gaining 9.31%. Snowflake (SNOW) shares surged over 23% premarket due to strong second-quarter results and an increased full-year outlook. Hewlett Packard Enterprise (HPE) shares fell nearly 3% despite better-than-expected earnings, primarily due to ongoing supply constraints.
- In the semiconductor sector, Taiwan is expected to announce an additional US$20-30 billion in US chip investments. The US administration is also considering targeted tariff policies for semiconductors, with tariff relief for companies manufacturing chips domestically. Nvidia (NVDA) stock is showing a modest premarket rise of 0.60%.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian equity benchmarks, Sensex and Nifty 50, opened higher, snapping a three-day losing streak. This positive start was attributed to supportive global cues and a slight pullback in crude oil prices.
- In early trading, the Sensex was up approximately 0.32% at 76,818.88, and the Nifty 50 was up 0.35% at 23,997.40.
- The realty sector significantly outperformed, surging 2.18%, while the IT sector lagged, falling 1.06%. Banking stocks, including ICICI Bank and Axis Bank, were among the top gainers. Foreign Institutional Investor (FII) flows remain subdued, contributing to a cautious broader trend despite intraday momentum.
- India's GDP grew at 7.8% in the first quarter of FY27, maintaining economic momentum despite global uncertainties.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- Crude oil prices are a key market risk, with WTI crude near $91.05 a barrel and Brent crude at $95.50 a barrel, influenced by ongoing US-Iran geopolitical tensions.
- Gold prices remain steady as markets react to US jobs and inflation data, with a focus on upcoming reports.
- In cryptocurrencies, Bitcoin (BTC) is trading around $77,743, demonstrating resilience despite global macroeconomic pressures. Spot Bitcoin ETFs have seen $217 million in net inflows, signaling continued institutional interest.
- XRP surged approximately 3% to $1.37, driven by sustained institutional accumulation through its linked ETFs, which recorded $14.38 million in net inflows on September 2nd.
- The "CLARITY Act," a significant US crypto market-structure bill, faces a crucial Senate vote on September 15th. However, prediction markets currently assign only a 15% probability of it becoming law in 2026.
