Session News Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- US Federal Reserve: Traders are pricing in a high probability (85-90%) of a 25 basis point interest rate hike this week, likely on Wednesday, September 16, ending a nine-month holding pattern. This expectation is driven by persistent inflation, with US core inflation rising 0.3% in August, and strong jobs data. Elevated oil prices are adding to inflation concerns, pressuring the Fed to act. Interestingly, President Trump has publicly urged the Fed to cut rates, setting up a test of central bank independence.
- European Central Bank (ECB): The ECB already implemented a 25 basis point rate hike on September 10. Further tightening remains a possibility given the eurozone economy's unexpected resilience and rising headline inflation, partly influenced by higher oil prices.
- Bank of Japan (BOJ): The BOJ is widely anticipated to raise its policy rate by 25 basis points to 1.25% this week, prompted by inflation exceeding its target and a weakening Yen.
- Global Bond Markets: The US 10-year Treasury yield is near 4.963% and recently reached a two-decade high, fueled by inflation fears and increasing government debt. This surge in yields could elevate borrowing costs and potentially intensify foreign portfolio investment (FPI) outflows from emerging markets.

2. US & European Markets

- US Stock Futures: Futures for the Nasdaq 100 (-1.79%), S&P 500 (-0.77%), and Dow Jones Industrial Average (-0.26%) are notably down in pre-market trading, as of 5:35 a.m. EDT.
- AI Sector Downturn: Concerns over a potential AI slowdown and rising oil prices are impacting investor sentiment. Mega-cap AI-related stocks, including Nvidia (NVDA), Advanced Micro Devices (AMD), Micron (MU), and Intel (INTC), saw pre-market declines of 3-6.4%. Other tech giants like Amazon (AMZN), Microsoft (MSFT), Alphabet (GOOGL), and Meta Platforms (META) also experienced losses. Calls from prominent AI executives for a slower pace of innovation due to safety risks are contributing to the sector's jitters.
- Previous Week Performance: Major US indices closed last week lower, with the Dow Jones down 1.6%, S&P 500 0.8%, and Nasdaq Composite 0.7%, primarily due to elevated oil prices.
- European Markets: European indices are trading lower, affected by high energy prices, anticipated rate hikes, and the general sentiment of an AI slowdown.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Market Holiday: Indian stock exchanges (NSE and BSE) are closed today, September 14, 2026, for Ganesh Chaturthi. Trading in equities and equity derivatives will resume on Tuesday, September 15.
- Commodity Market: The Multi Commodity Exchange (MCX) will be closed for the morning session (9 a.m. to 5 p.m.) but will reopen for the evening session (5 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. / 11:55 p.m.).
- Recent Trends: Indian benchmark indices concluded the previous week lower for the fifth consecutive week.
- FII/DII Flows: Foreign institutional investors (FIIs) have been net sellers in Indian equities, offloading Rs 14,475 crore in September, a trend linked to rising oil prices and global bond yields.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil: WTI crude oil has surged, trading above $100 per barrel, currently around $102.58 - $103.58, representing a 2.5-3.5% increase. Brent crude is also trading strongly above $107.
- Oil Catalysts: The significant price rise is attributed to escalating Middle East tensions, including recent Houthi attacks on Saudi Arabia and reports of a vessel being hit in the Strait of Hormuz. Crucially, the temporary shutdown of Saudi Arabia's East-West oil pipeline, with a capacity of 7 million barrels per day, is exacerbating supply concerns and is a key driver for the price surge.
- Gold (XAU/USD): Spot gold is trading around $4,306.79 - $4,319.40 per ounce, showing a slight decrease of 0.43-1.3%.
- Bitcoin (BTC): Bitcoin is trading around $77,230 - $77,777, facing pressure from rising oil prices, continuous ETF outflows, and the impending Federal Reserve interest rate decision. Bitcoin ETFs recorded outflows for four consecutive days last week, totaling over $462 million.
- Crypto Regulation/Adoption: The crypto exchange Toobit has released its September Proof of Reserves, demonstrating over 100% backing for major assets like BTC, ETH, USDT, and USDC. Fitch Ratings anticipates gradual development of crypto offerings in Islamic finance, with jurisdictions like Malaysia and the UAE leading the way through supportive regulations. A recent report also highlights 135,694 crypto millionaires globally, with 92,272 holding Bitcoin.

 STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

INDIAN EQUITIES & OPTIONS (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Note: Indian stock markets (NSE & BSE) and options markets are closed today, September 14, 2026, due to Ganesh Chaturthi. Trading will resume on September 15, 2026. Therefore, no ticker selections or trades are possible for these asset classes today.

US EQUITIES

The US market is in pre-open. Current sentiment is cautious with futures down, especially in the AI sector, due to oil price concerns and AI slowdown worries.

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Current Price (Illustrative)	Key Levels (Illustrative)	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVDA	$215.50	Resistance: $220.00 (50-day SMA), Support: $210.00	Strategy: 50-day SMA Rejection (Short). Pre-market selling pressure is significant (down ~3%), with overall AI sector concerns. A bounce towards the 50-day SMA, followed by clear rejection, could confirm a short entry with a tight stop above the SMA, targeting recent lows.
MSFT	$492.00	Resistance: $498.00 (21-day EMA), Support: $485.00	Strategy: 21-day EMA Pullback (Long, conditional). MSFT is down pre-market (~0.69%). If initial market open sees a strong flush that holds above previous support levels and stages a convincing rebound back to and holds the 21-day EMA, a long entry could be considered on confirmation of strength, anticipating a recovery from the AI sector's broad sell-off.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Current Price (Illustrative)	Key Levels (Illustrative)	Strategy & Selection Reason
SMCI	$980.00	Breakout Zone: Above $985.00, Support: $960.00	Strategy: Stage-2 VCP Breakout. Hypothetically, SMCI shows a strong base formation (VCP pattern) on the daily chart, with contracting volatility and tightening price action. A high-volume breakout above the $985.00 pivot, indicating institutional accumulation, would signal a Stage-2 uptrend initiation.

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Bitcoin is under pressure from macro factors, including the upcoming Fed decision and ETF outflows, despite slight intraday gains.

Ticker	Current Price (Illustrative)	Key Levels (Illustrative)	Strategy & Selection Reason
BTC/USD	$77,500	Resistance: $78,000 (4H 21-EMA), Support: $76,500	Strategy: 4H 21-EMA Trend Following (Short). Given the overall market pressure on BTC and continuous ETF outflows, a rejection from the 4H 21-EMA, especially after a failed attempt to push higher, would present a short opportunity, following the short-term bearish trend. Target key support levels with a tight stop above the EMA.

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

WTI Crude Oil is significantly bullish due to Middle East tensions and pipeline disruptions. Gold is slightly down.

Ticker	Current Price (Illustrative)	Key Levels (Illustrative)	Strategy & Selection Reason
WTI Crude Oil (CL=F)	$103.00	Pivot: $101.50, R1: $104.20 (Fibonacci 127.2% Ext.), R2: $106.50 (Fibonacci 161.8% Ext.)	Strategy: Pivot & Fibonacci Extension (Long). WTI is strongly bullish due to geopolitical supply disruptions and the Saudi pipeline closure. A long entry on a pullback to the daily pivot or on a strong breakout above immediate resistance, targeting Fibonacci extension levels, aligns with the clear upward momentum.
Gold (XAU/USD)	$4,310.00	Pivot: $4,325.00, S1: $4,295.00 (Fibonacci 38.2% Retracement), R1: $4,345.00	Strategy: Pivot & Fibonacci Retracement (Short/Range-Bound). Gold is slightly down today. A short entry if price rejects the daily pivot or previous resistance, targeting the Fibonacci retracement levels as support. Alternatively, observe for a bounce off S1 for a quick long scalp if momentum shifts.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

The US Dollar is expected to strengthen with an impending Fed rate hike.

Ticker	Current Price (Illustrative)	Key Levels (Illustrative)	Strategy & Selection Reason
Short-Term Futures
EUR/USD	1.0725	Resistance: 1.0750, Support: 1.0690	Strategy: Trend Following (Short). Anticipated Fed rate hike strengthens the USD, pushing EUR/USD lower. Look for short entries on bounces to minor resistance or failed breakout attempts, targeting fresh lows as the US Dollar gains strength.
GBP/USD	1.2480	Resistance: 1.2500, Support: 1.2450	Strategy: Trend Following (Short). Similar to EUR/USD, the strong USD outlook favors a bearish bias. Short on rallies towards overhead resistance with tight stops, expecting continued depreciation.
Macro Carry Swing Futures
USD/JPY	148.70	Support: 148.20, Resistance: 149.00 (Previous High)	Strategy: Carry Trade (Long). Despite a potential BOJ rate hike, the dominant USD strength due to Fed tightening and carry differential could support USD/JPY. A long entry on pullbacks to support, aiming to benefit from interest rate differentials and further USD appreciation against JPY.
AUD/USD	0.6520	Resistance: 0.6550, Support: 0.6480	Strategy: Trend Following (Short). Risk-off sentiment from global macro concerns (oil, AI) combined with a stronger USD from the Fed hike likely puts downward pressure on risk-sensitive currencies like AUD. Seek short opportunities on rejection of resistance levels.
