📰 SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- The International Monetary Fund (IMF) projects India's GDP growth at 7% for both FY 2026-27 and FY 2027-28, reinforcing India's economic momentum despite global challenges like geopolitical tensions and rising oil prices.
- The IMF also stated that global growth should pick up next year, boosted by AI investment, but warned that the world economy is nearing its resilience limits due to persistent energy squeeze and financial risks.
- Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman stated that the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) will continue its efforts to curb rupee volatility, not to fix its value, with rupee depreciation largely driven by external factors.
- The RBI has introduced new foreign exchange rules, including restrictions on derivative contract rebooking and a 20% foreign exchange risk reserve for certain import-related transactions exceeding $2 million, aiming to raise hedging costs for importers and ease pressure on the rupee. These measures are expected to sterilize around 0.4-0.6% of net demand and time liabilities (NDTL) and have pushed bond yields higher.
- The rupee strengthened significantly, appreciating by 82 paise to 94.96 against the US dollar in early trade on Tuesday.
- The European Central Bank (ECB) raised its three key interest rates by 25 basis points on September 10, with the deposit facility rate increasing to 2.50%. The ECB forecasts average euro area inflation of 3.0% and economic growth of 0.9% in 2026, with the outlook remaining uncertain. Euro area annual inflation rose to 3.2% in August 2026, with significant differences among major economies.
- Signals from derivatives markets indicate a low chance of an ECB rate hike in October, but a near-70% chance at the December meeting.
- The ECB will hold workshops later this month and in November to explain its Integrated Reporting Framework (IReF), which began its implementation phase on October 1, 2026, aiming to standardize statistical reporting across the banking sector.
- The digital euro pilot is planned to begin in the second half of 2027 and run for 12 months, with 36 payment service providers selected across the euro area.

2. US & European Markets

- US stock futures were mixed ahead of Tuesday's market open, as investors awaited third-quarter earnings from major banks and assessed the outlook for AI infrastructure companies.
- The S&P 500 futures were muted, while Dow E-minis were up and Nasdaq 100 E-minis were down.
- Chip producers extended their slump on signs that China's CXMT made progress on a new memory architecture, potentially threatening Korean and US rivals. Broadcom CEO Hock Tan warned against exaggerated investments in AI labs that may not deliver returns, likening AI investors to "casino gamblers".
- Memory-chip makers like SK hynix plunged 10.1% and Samsung Electronics fell 7.4% in Asian markets due to concerns over an overheated AI trade, rising financing costs, and growing Chinese competition. US-listed chipmakers like Micron, Marvell, SanDisk, Intel, Nvidia, and AMD also retreated.
- Goldman Sachs jumped 2.5% after reporting strong results from equity traders. JPMorgan slumped 3% after posting a rare earnings miss on weaker fixed-income trading and rising expenses, although it raised its net interest income forecast. UnitedHealth Group gained 2.8% in premarket trading after raising its 2026 profit forecast.
- European shares largely rose Tuesday, although technology stocks declined due to the intensified AI selloff. European semiconductor companies like ASML Holding and ASM International were down.
- Tower Semiconductor announced its third-quarter 2026 earnings release for November 2, 2026.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian stock markets ended Tuesday's trading session on a strong note, with the Sensex surging 1,109.10 points (1.54%) to 73,033.78 and the Nifty 50 rallying 358.60 points (1.6%) to 22,721.95. This marked the best single-day gains in four months for Sensex and over two months for Nifty.
- The rally was bolstered by strong buying across IT, financial services, auto, FMCG, and metal stocks.
- The Nifty IT index led the gains, surging over 5% as IT stocks witnessed strong buying interest following better-than-expected Q2 results from Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) and HCLTech. HCLTech jumped 8.28% and TCS rose 6.59%. Infosys also gained 4.44% and Tech Mahindra advanced 4.90%.
- Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman's remarks on the long-term capital gains (LTCG) tax and securities transaction tax (STT) also lifted investor sentiment.
- Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) offloaded equities worth ₹1,708.48 crore on Monday, October 12, while Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIs) bought equities worth ₹3,045.02 crore.
- Companies like ICICI Prudential Life Insurance Company, Tata Elxsi, and Hero Motors were slated to declare Q2 earnings today.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- Oil prices slipped on Tuesday after gaining nearly $2 a barrel in the previous session. Brent crude futures fell 1.05% to $105 a barrel, and US West Texas Intermediate (WTI) crude futures declined 1.05% to $93 a barrel.
- Traders weighed supply risks following attacks on Saudi Arabia and oil tankers near the Strait of Hormuz against the prospect of increased Russian diesel supplies. President Donald Trump said Russia had agreed to supply diesel to global markets, and his administration temporarily eased sanctions on Russian fuel.
- OPEC sharply downgraded its 2026 oil-demand growth forecast from 1.4 million bpd to just 400,000 bpd, reflecting weak demand and deferring consumption into 2027.
- Gold futures rose 0.47% to $4,210.40 an ounce in early trading. Silver futures edged up 0.18% to $60.62 an ounce.
- The global selloff in semiconductor stocks, intensified by concerns over an overheated artificial intelligence trade and Chinese competition, has impacted crypto-related equities due to the overlap in technology and investor sentiment.

🎯 STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Current Price / Level (INR)	Strategy & Selection Reason	Entry Levels (INR)	Target Levels (INR)	Stop Loss (INR)
HCLTech	1,320.10	50-SMA Support Bounce & Q2 Earnings Beat: Stock rallied over 8% on strong Q2 results and positive IT sector momentum, indicating a bounce from potential underlying support. Looking for consolidation near 50-SMA for further long entry.	~1,290 - 1,300	1,350 / 1,380	1,270
TCS	2,269.30	20/50 EMA Golden Cross & Sectoral Momentum: TCS rallied over 6% driven by Q2 results and IT sector strength. A golden cross suggests bullish momentum, eyeing entries on minor pullbacks.	~2,240 - 2,250	2,300 / 2,330	2,210
Hindustan Unilever (HUL)	1,876.60	50-SMA Support Bounce & FMCG Sector Strength: Part of the FMCG sector which closed positive, and HUL showed gains. A bounce from its 50-SMA indicates underlying buying interest.	~1,860 - 1,870	1,900 / 1,925	1,845

US EQUITIES

Ticker	Current Price / Level (USD)	Strategy & Selection Reason	Entry Levels (USD)	Target Levels (USD)	Stop Loss (USD)
NVIDIA (NVDA)	(Illustrative: 470)	Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL) - 21-day EMA Pullback (Short): NVDA was down 1.3% yesterday and chip stocks continue to face selling pressure due to AI jitters and Chinese competition. A rejection from its 21-day EMA after a rally could signal a short opportunity.	~475 - 480	460 / 450	485
Microsoft (MSFT)	(Illustrative: 330)	Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL) - 50-day SMA Rejection (Short): Given the mixed sentiment in tech and broad AI selloff warnings, a strong rejection from the 50-day SMA after failing to break higher would be a bearish signal.	~332 - 335	325 / 320	338
UnitedHealth (UNH)	389	Mid-Cap (LONG-ONLY) - High Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) Breakout: UNH jumped 2.8% premarket after beating earnings expectations and raising its 2026 profit forecast. This strong news-driven momentum with high volume could signal a breakout.	~390 - 392	400 / 405	385

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Current Price / Level (USD)	Strategy & Selection Reason	Entry Levels (USD)	Target Levels (USD)	Stop Loss (USD)
Bitcoin (BTC/USD)	(Illustrative: 62,500)	4H 21-EMA Trend Following (Long): If BTC consolidates above the 4-hour 21-EMA following recent volatility, a trend continuation could be anticipated. High-volume volatility breakouts indicate strong directional moves.	~62,000 - 62,200	63,500 / 64,500	61,500
Ethereum (ETH/USD)	(Illustrative: 3,500)	4H 21-EMA Trend Following (Long): Similar to BTC, ETH following the 4H 21-EMA after a high-volume breakout implies sustained buying pressure.	~3,480 - 3,500	3,580 / 3,650	3,450

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Current Price / Level	Strategy & Selection Reason	Entry Levels	Target Levels	Stop Loss
Gold (XAU/USD)	4,210.40 (futures)	Pivot & Fibonacci Extension Levels (Long/Short): Gold futures rose 0.47% in early trading. Observing reaction around key pivot points and Fibonacci extensions to determine directional bias. Given broader macro uncertainty, a break above pivot resistance could signal a long.	Long: ~4,200 (Above Pivot) | Short: ~4,180 (Below Pivot)	Long: 4,230 / 4,250 | Short: 4,160 / 4,140	Long: 4,185 | Short: 4,195
WTI Crude Oil	93 (futures)	Pivot & Fibonacci Extension Levels (Short): WTI fell 1.05% today as Russian diesel supply inflows offset geopolitical risks. A rejection from a pivot resistance or a break below a key Fibonacci support could indicate a short trade.	Short: ~93.50 (Below Resistance) | Long: ~92.50 (Above Support)	Short: 92.00 / 91.50 | Long: 94.00 / 94.50	Short: 94.00 | Long: 92.00

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Current Price / Level	Strategy & Selection Reason	Entry Levels	Target Levels	Stop Loss
EUR/USD (Short-Term)	(Illustrative: 1.0750)	Opening Range Breakout (Short-Term): European bourses set for a slightly lower open. Observing the 15-minute opening range breakout for short-term directional moves, considering underlying sentiment from ECB actions and inflation data.	Long: >1.0760 | Short: <1.0740	Long: 1.0780 / 1.0800 | Short: 1.0720 / 1.0700	Long: 1.0745 | Short: 1.0755
USD/JPY (Long-Term Carry Swing)	(Illustrative: 152.00)	Macro Carry Swing (Long): Given the divergence in central bank policies and the Japanese Yen strengthening despite softer producer price data, a long carry trade on USD/JPY could be considered on pullbacks, focusing on interest rate differentials.	Buy dips at ~151.80 - 151.90	152.50 / 153.00	151.50

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Index	Current Level	Strategy & Selection Reason	Entry Levels	Target Levels	Stop Loss
Nifty 50	22,721.95	15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (Call for Long, Put for Short): Nifty 50 rallied significantly today. For intraday, a breakout above the 15-minute opening high would trigger a Call buy, while a breakdown below the opening low would trigger a Put buy.	Call Buy: Above Opening High | Put Buy: Below Opening Low	Target 1: +0.25% | Target 2: +0.50%	Opposite Side of Range Break
BankNifty	55,481.05	15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (Call for Long, Put for Short): BankNifty also advanced today. Applying the same 15-minute opening range breakout strategy for Calls (long) or Puts (short) to capture initial directional momentum.	Call Buy: Above Opening High | Put Buy: Below Opening Low	Target 1: +0.25% | Target 2: +0.50%	Opposite Side of Range Break
