Current Session Highlight: New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- The US Federal Reserve held its benchmark rate steady at 3.5%-3.75% in July, but a deepening split among policymakers suggests a minority favors raising rates due to five years of persistent high inflation. Federal Reserve Governor Lisa Cook expressed readiness to hike rates if inflation does not ease.
- A weaker-than-expected US jobs report for July, showing an unexpected loss of 23,000 jobs, combined with the slowest wage growth in nearly five years, has led to scaled-back expectations for immediate Fed tightening, with less than a 50% probability of a rate hike in September.
- The European Central Bank (ECB) maintained its key interest rates unchanged at its July 23, 2026 meeting, with Eurozone inflation remaining above its 2% target. Strong German factory orders, which surged 3.1% month-on-month in June, provided some support for the Euro.
- Europe faces a potential diesel shortage this winter, with fuel prices rising by nearly 40% and stockpiles down 30%, largely attributed to the Middle East conflict, damage to Persian Gulf refineries, and strikes on Russian refineries.
- The US dollar exhibited a mixed reaction, edging higher from a six-week low but its upside was capped by the weak jobs report, potentially offset by hawkish Federal Reserve comments.

2. US & European Markets

- The S&P 500 achieved a record high and its best week since April, propelled by the softer US labor market data, which alleviated concerns about aggressive Fed tightening, and hopes of a de-escalation in the US-Iran conflict.
- US pre-market trading shows positive momentum, with SPDR S&P 500 (SPY) up +0.31%, Invesco QQQ Trust (QQQ) up +0.72%, and SPDR Dow Jones Industrial Average (DIA) up +0.15%.
- Mega-cap tech stocks are active: NVIDIA (NVDA) is up +1.27% to +3.4% pre-market, along with AMD (+1.78%), Intel (+2.28%), Oracle (+1.58%), and Micron (+2.59%), benefiting from the ongoing AI infrastructure boom. Microsoft (MSFT) is slightly down -0.55% pre-market. Amazon (AMZN) is highlighted for increased AI spending and strong trading volume.
- Global equity funds recorded inflows for an eleventh consecutive week, driven by optimism over a strong earnings season, with approximately 75% of MSCI World constituent companies beating analysts' forecasts. However, US equity funds experienced outflows, while European and Asian funds saw inflows, and technology fund inflows eased.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian markets show mixed signals, with the Nifty at 24,559.85 (-0.31%) and Sensex at 78,518.55 (-0.55%) in one report, while another indicates Nifty at 24,636.00 (+11.35) and Sensex at 78,954.76 (+373.76). D-Street is generally poised for a positive start with GIFT Nifty signaling gains.
- The Singapore Stock Exchange (SGX) announced it will discontinue India-linked single-stock futures from October, a move expected to redirect foreign investor activity towards GIFT City.
- Bharti Airtel shares jumped 4% following its Q1 results, indicating strong corporate performance in specific sectors.
- The USD/INR pair is trading at 95.24.
- Gold (MCX) is currently at Rs/10g 150,480.0, up 1622.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- Crude Oil: WTI Crude Oil is trading around $81 per barrel. Key technical levels for WTI are resistance near $83.50 and support around $79.80. Brent crude hovers near $85. The market remains rangebound, balancing potential supply disruptions from the US-Iran conflict, Strait of Hormuz constraints, and refinery damage against demand concerns. EIA data revealed a 2.1 million barrel draw last week, signaling firmer demand. Citi has raised its Q3 2026 Brent crude forecast to $80/barrel.
- Gold: Spot gold is holding above $2,350 per ounce, underpinned by central bank buying, inflation concerns, and persistent safe-haven demand amidst geopolitical instability and a relatively weaker dollar. Key resistance is identified at $2,380 and support at $2,320.
- Crypto: General market sentiment suggests that elevated oil-driven inflation risks and increased safe-haven flows into gold could dampen risk appetite, potentially posing headwinds for crypto token performance and adoption. Bitcoin and Ethereum are noted among top cryptocurrencies, but no specific market-moving news or regulatory headlines are available for today.

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
BHARTIARTL.NS (Bharti Airtel)	Long	Selected based on strong Q1 results leading to a 4% jump in share price, indicating positive momentum. Will monitor for a 20/50 EMA golden cross or a bounce off the 50-SMA for entry.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Screen using 21-day EMA pullbacks or 50-day SMA rejection strategy on mega-cap growth leaders.

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVDA (NVIDIA)	Long	Strong pre-market gains (+1.27% to +3.4%) and high trading volume, driven by continued AI infrastructure demand and positive sentiment following MSFT and AMZN earnings. Targeting further upward momentum.
AMZN (Amazon)	Long	Demonstrating "strong conviction volume" and increased AI spending. Positioned to benefit from the AI boom and positive earnings sentiment.
MSFT (Microsoft)	Short (Conditional)	Slightly down pre-market (-0.55%). Will observe for a weak open or rejection from a 50-day SMA resistance, initiating a short position on confirmation of a pullback or rejection pattern.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Screen using Stage-2 VCP or High Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) breakouts.

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
VECO (Veeco Instruments)	Long	Raised FY26 revenue outlook, citing rising AI demand as a key growth driver. This strong fundamental catalyst makes it a candidate for a Stage-2 VCP breakout or high Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) entry.

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Screen using 4H 21-EMA trend following and high-volume volatility breakouts.

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
BTC/USD (Bitcoin)	Bi-directional	Will apply a 4H 21-EMA trend following strategy, looking for high-volume volatility breakouts. Macro headwinds from oil inflation and safe-haven flows into gold suggest cautious trading.
ETH/USD (Ethereum)	Bi-directional	Similar to Bitcoin, will use 4H 21-EMA trend following and monitor for high-volume volatility breakouts.

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Gold (XAU/USD) and WTI Crude Oil using Pivot & Fibonacci extension levels.

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
CL=F (WTI Crude Oil)	Bi-directional	Currently trading around $81. Key resistance at $83.50, support at $79.80. Strategy involves long positions on bounces from support or short positions on rejections from resistance, considering geopolitical tensions and EIA inventory data.
XAU/USD (Spot Gold)	Bi-directional	Trading above $2,350, driven by safe-haven demand. Key resistance at $2,380, support at $2,320. Will look for long entries on dips towards support and short entries on failure to break resistance.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Short-Term

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD	Bi-directional	Experienced a modest decline despite a weak US jobs report, primarily due to hawkish Fed comments capping Euro gains. Will employ short-term range trading, with potential shorts if dollar strength persists, and longs on strong Eurozone economic data.
USD/JPY	Long	The US dollar edged higher from a six-week low, and there were reports of the US selling Euros to buy Yen. This suggests potential for continued dollar strength against the Yen.

Long-Term Carry Swing

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
AUD/USD	Bi-directional	Candidate for a carry trade, given Australia's higher interest rate (4.35%) compared to the US Fed's rate (3.5%-3.75%). Will seek long opportunities if positive rate differentials remain favorable or widen, but remain aware of potential Fed hawkishness.

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Nifty 50 / BankNifty 15-Minute Opening Range Breakouts (Call for Long, Put for Short).

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
NIFTY50 Options	Bi-directional	Indian markets are showing mixed to slightly positive pre-open signals, indicating potential for strong opening range movements. Will utilize the 15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB) strategy: Buy Call if the 15-minute high is broken, Buy Put if the 15-minute low is broken.
BANKNIFTY Options	Bi-directional	Similar to Nifty 50, BankNifty is highly liquid and often exhibits clear opening range breakouts. Will apply the 15-Minute ORB strategy, buying Calls or Puts based on the break of the initial 15-minute high or low.
