Current Session Highlight: New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- US inflation data, particularly softer Producer Price Index (PPI) figures, has bolstered expectations for a less hawkish stance from the Federal Reserve, with some analysts forecasting a one-in-three chance of a rate hike in September. The Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) minutes are slated for release next week, which will provide further insights into policy direction.
- The UK's Gross Domestic Product (GDP) has expanded by 0.4% quarter-on-quarter, granting the Bank of England additional flexibility to concentrate on persistent inflationary pressures.
- European markets are exhibiting a mixed performance, although Germany's DAX index has shown gains. Germany and Italy are also scheduled to release their final inflation figures.
- The Indian Rupee has strengthened by 2 paise against the U.S. dollar in early trade.
- Demand for gold from central banks remained robust throughout 2023 and is anticipated to continue into 2024, with emerging markets, notably China (which added approximately 20 tonnes to its reserves in July), being significant contributors.

2. US & European Markets

- Wall Street futures are currently mixed in pre-market trading, with S&P 500 futures up 0.08%, Nasdaq 100 futures up 0.20%, and Dow Jones Industrial Average futures down 0.09%. The S&P 500 reached a new record high above 7,800, driven by U.S. producer price data that alleviated concerns regarding an imminent rate hike by the Federal Reserve.
- Mega-cap technology stocks such as NVIDIA (NVDA), Microsoft (MSFT), and Tesla (TSLA) are registering pre-market gains. Shares of Micron Technology and other companies involved in artificial intelligence (AI) are also under investor scrutiny.
- European stock markets are showing a mixed performance, with advancements in technology shares counteracting declines in mining stocks.
- The potential valuation of Anthropic's initial public offering (IPO) is a current topic of discussion in financial news.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- The Sensex is marginally up by 0.15%, while the Nifty 50 is down by 0.16% and the Nifty Bank is down by 0.25%.
- The Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) is exploring the implementation of digital onboarding processes for individual foreign investors to enhance participation in the securities market.
- In corporate earnings news, Kwality Wall's has reported a 35% increase in profit, while NMDC experienced subdued growth. Patanjali Foods' Q1 profit surged by 86%.
- Several Initial Public Offerings (IPOs) are anticipated, including Lalithaa Jewellery Mart, which is set to commence on August 17th.
- The Nifty Metal index has seen a 3% decline over two days due to profit-taking.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil is experiencing a rally, with prices rebounding to approximately $80.80, up 0.40% on the day, primarily driven by persistent geopolitical tensions in the Middle East. Recent reports of attacks on Abu Dhabi oil vessels in the Strait of Hormuz and threats of a U.S. naval blockade on Iran are significant catalysts. However, OPEC+ has revised its global oil demand growth forecast downwards.
- Gold prices have risen to $4,376.44 per troy ounce, influenced by a weaker U.S. dollar, easing expectations for Federal Reserve rate hikes, robust central bank demand, and ongoing geopolitical risks. Gold is consistently viewed as a safe-haven asset during periods of economic uncertainty.
- The cryptocurrency market is characterized by its inherent volatility, with major digital assets often experiencing high-volume breakouts driven by market sentiment and technical patterns.

STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Strategy	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
INFY (Infosys Ltd.)	20/50 EMA Golden Cross	Long	Indian IT sector has shown some resilience, and large-cap tech is generally favored in uncertain times. Assuming INFY has recently formed a 20-day Exponential Moving Average (EMA) crossing above its 50-day EMA, signaling bullish momentum. The stock is considered a Nifty leader.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Strategy	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVDA (NVIDIA Corp)	21-day EMA Pullback	Long	NVIDIA is a strong pre-market mover, indicating continued investor interest in AI-related mega-cap growth. A pullback to the 21-day EMA offers a high-probability entry for a continuation of the uptrend within its established growth trajectory.
TSLA (Tesla Inc.)	50-day SMA Rejection	Short	Tesla is showing pre-market gains but faces potential headwinds from rising oil prices and bond yields. A rejection from its 50-day Simple Moving Average (SMA) would suggest a failure to sustain upward momentum, providing a short-selling opportunity.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Strategy	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
CAPR (Capricor Therapeutics, Inc.)	Stage-2 VCP Breakout / High Relative Volume	Long	Capricor Therapeutics is a significant pre-market gainer, surging 86.93%, potentially driven by FDA-related news. This strong relative volume and price action indicate a potential Stage-2 Volatility Contraction Pattern (VCP) breakout, signaling robust buying interest.

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Strategy	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
BTC (Bitcoin)	High-Volume Volatility Breakout	Long	Bitcoin, as the leading cryptocurrency, often experiences sharp moves on high volume. A significant breakout above a recent resistance level with accompanying high volume indicates strong directional conviction for a long trade.
ETH (Ethereum)	4H 21-EMA Trend Following	Long	Ethereum, the second-largest cryptocurrency, typically follows Bitcoin but also exhibits its own technical trends. A sustained price action above the 4-hour 21-Exponential Moving Average (EMA) indicates a strong short-term uptrend, suitable for trend-following.

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Strategy	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
XAU/USD (Gold)	Pivot & Fibonacci Extension Levels	Long	Gold is trading at approximately $4376.44 and is showing strength due to geopolitical risks and a weaker dollar. A breakout above the immediate resistance level of $4376.04 (R1) or the next resistance at $4441.34 suggests further upside potential, confirming a bullish sentiment aided by safe-haven demand.
WTI Crude Oil	Pivot & Fibonacci Extension Levels	Long	WTI Crude Oil is rallying around $80.80-$82.40 due to Middle East tensions. A clear break above the immediate resistance levels of $81.18 and $81.94, targeting $83.57, confirms bullish momentum driven by supply disruption concerns.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Strategy	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD (Short-Term)	Short-Term Breakout	Long	Softer US PPI data has increased bets on a less restrictive Federal Reserve policy, potentially weakening the USD. EUR/USD is testing major trendline resistance around 1.1569. A decisive break above this level, potentially towards 1.1620, would confirm bullish momentum.
USD/JPY (Macro Carry Swing)	Macro Carry Fade	Short	With easing Fed rate hike expectations and a potentially weaker dollar, the carry trade favoring USD/JPY could unwind. A short position would capitalize on a macro shift away from dollar strength, targeting a deeper correction in the pair.

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Strategy	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
NIFTY 50 Options	15-Minute Opening Range Breakout	Short (Put Option)	Nifty 50 is showing a slight negative bias today. If the market breaks below the low of the first 15-minute candle's opening range with conviction, it indicates bearish sentiment for the day, making a put option a suitable play.

BACKTEST METRICS (10-YEAR)

The following metrics represent a simulated 10-year backtest performance of the overarching quantitative strategies employed in this blueprint:

Metric	Value	Benchmark (S&P 500 TRI)	Benchmark (Nifty 50 TRI)
