Daily Multi-Asset Trading Blueprint & Level Execution Manual

Date: Tuesday, September 8, 2026

Session Highlight: London Session Pre-Open Briefing (08:22 AM BST)

Session News Focus: Heavy emphasis on European macroeconomic releases, ECB/BOE news, Forex short-term futures (EUR/USD, GBP/USD), and Gold (XAU/USD) supply/demand zones.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- ECB Interest Rates: The European Central Bank is widely anticipated to raise its key deposit rate by 25 basis points to 2.50% this Thursday, September 10, responding to eurozone inflation, which reached 3.3% in August. The market's focus will primarily be on the forward guidance provided by the ECB regarding future rate hikes. While some analysts suggest this hike might conclude the tightening cycle, money markets continue to price in additional increases by December and into 2027.
- US Federal Reserve: Strong August nonfarm payroll data, which saw an increase of 162,000 jobs, has elevated the probability of a September Fed rate hike to approximately 58%. The upcoming US August CPI release on Friday, September 11, will be crucial ahead of the Fed's interest rate decision on September 16.
- Bank of Japan (BoJ): The Japanese Yen has notably strengthened against the US Dollar, driven by market expectations of a hawkish stance from the BoJ and a potential rate hike in the coming week.
- Global Bond Markets: Government borrowing costs are soaring across developed nations, with the US 10-year Treasury yield nearing 4.8% and Japan's 10-year government bond yield surpassing 3% for the first time since 1996, reinforcing the "higher for longer" interest rate narrative.

2. US & European Markets

- US Equities: US markets reopened today after the Labor Day holiday on Monday. S&P 500 and Nasdaq futures are trading mixed to lower in the pre-open, reflecting caution due to escalating Middle East conflicts and rising crude oil prices, though optimism around AI continues to provide some underlying support.
- European Equities: European markets are showing a mixed performance, with energy sector stocks outperforming. However, rate-sensitive sectors are lagging, impacted by higher energy costs and anticipations of tighter monetary policy from the ECB.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Index Performance: Indian equity benchmarks, Sensex and Nifty 50, are trading lower for the second consecutive session today, with the Sensex down over 250-330 points and Nifty below the 23,750 mark. This decline is attributed to escalating geopolitical tensions in the Middle East and sustained increases in crude oil prices. Broader market indices are mixed.
- FII/DII Flows: Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) were net buyers in the Indian cash market on September 7, 2026, purchasing equities worth ₹280.13 crore, indicating a reversal of recent selling. Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIs) also remained net buyers, injecting ₹566.76 crore into the market on the same day.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- Crude Oil: Brent crude is fluctuating near $95-$100 per barrel amidst heightened geopolitical tensions in the Middle East, including the ongoing Iran-US conflict and Houthis attacks on oil facilities. OPEC+ has decided to maintain its October 2026 crude oil output levels unchanged from September, as the alliance assesses market conditions and prepares for a broader review in 2027.
- Gold (XAU/USD): Gold prices have rebounded, currently trading above $4,430 per ounce, up 0.6%-0.73% on Tuesday as the US dollar weakened. XAU/USD is consolidating within a range of $4,376-$4,441, with significant resistance noted around the $4,449-$4,450 level. Geopolitical events and a softer dollar are supportive, but strong employment data and high oil prices introduce an element of risk.
- Crypto: Fuze Finance has expanded its operations to Switzerland, offering regulated crypto-asset infrastructure and stablecoin settlement services to meet institutional demand. In the US, regulators are pushing for clearer frameworks; the SEC has proposed "Regulation Crypto Assets," and the CFTC plans to issue crypto rules if Congress does not pass the CLARITY Act. The global circulation of USDT stood at approximately 183.4 billion on September 8, 2026.

|----------------|------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------|-----------|
| XAU/USD (Gold) | $4,432 (Long Bias)          | Consolidating above a key Fibonacci support level following a rebound, with potential to test resistance at $4,450. Geopolitical tensions provide underlying support. | $4,425 - $4,435 | $4,400   |

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Short-Term

| Ticker  | Current Price (Illustrative) | Strategy & Selection Reason                                                                                                                                                                      | Entry Range     | Stop Loss |
|---------|------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|-----------|
| EUR/USD | 1.0780 (Short Bias)          | Anticipation of ECB hawkishness is offset by robust USD strength following strong US jobs data, making a short entry attractive on rallies towards resistance.                                   | 1.0790 - 1.0810 | 1.0840    |
| GBP/USD | 1.2530 (Short Bias)          | Consolidating below mid-1.3500s with US Dollar strength and global uncertainties providing headwinds despite some technical bullish potential. A dip below support could initiate a short trade. | 1.2520 - 1.2500 | 1.2560    |

Long-Term Carry Swing

| Ticker  | Current Price (Illustrative) | Strategy & Selection Reason                                                                                                                               | Entry Range     | Stop Loss |
|---------|------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|-----------|
| USD/JPY | 155.20 (Short Bias)          | Yen strengthening on BoJ hawkishness and potential intervention. A short position on USD/JPY capitalizes on carry reversal as dollar weakens against JPY. | 155.30 - 155.50 | 156.00    |
| AUD/USD | 0.6680 (Long Bias)           | Commodity-linked currency, could see support if risk sentiment stabilizes or commodity prices maintain strength; seeking a long entry on deep pullbacks.  | 0.6670 - 0.6690 | 0.6640    |

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

| Ticker                  | Strike/Expiry (Illustrative) | Strategy & Selection Reason                                                                                                                       | Entry Range | Stop Loss |
|-------------------------|------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|-----------|
| Nifty 50 (Put Option)   | 23700 SEP 8 PUT              | Nifty 50 opened lower; anticipating a 15-minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB) to the downside, indicating continued bearish momentum for intraday. | @ ₹120-130  | @ ₹90     |
| BankNifty (Call Option) | 52000 SEP 8 CALL             | If BankNifty shows an ORB to the upside after initial volatility, a call option can capitalize on a quick recovery or short-covering bounce.      | @ ₹150-160  | @ ₹120    |
