SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- The European Central Bank (ECB) raised its key interest rates by 25 basis points, with the deposit rate now at 2.50%, effective September 16, 2026. This marks the second rate hike in 2026, driven by persistent inflation pressures stemming from the Middle East conflict and surging energy costs.
- Eurozone August headline inflation reached 3.3%, surpassing the ECB's 2% target, with the energy component rising by 14.3%. The ECB revised its 2026 eurozone economic growth forecast upwards to 0.9% (from 0.8%) and 2027 to 1.4% (from 1.2%), citing greater than expected resilience.
- In the US, the Producer Price Index (PPI) increased by a seasonally adjusted 0.4% in August, matching consensus estimates. However, wholesale prices rose 5.4% year-over-year, exceeding expectations and up from 4.8% in July, intensifying inflation concerns ahead of the upcoming Federal Reserve meeting.
- The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) Governor emphasized India's potential to become a key partner in shaping global financial architecture. The RBI also approved the Unified Fintech Forum as the second Self-Regulatory Organisation (SRO) for the fintech sector and announced a joint launch with SEBI for the tokenization of corporate bonds. Separately, the RBI proposed a ban on revolving credit products for most Non-Banking Financial Companies (NBFCs).

2. US & European Markets

- US stock futures generally declined, reflecting broader market weakness driven by surging oil prices and renewed inflation fears. S&P 500 futures dropped 0.5%, Dow futures slipped 0.2%, and Nasdaq composite futures fell 1.3% pre-market.
- Early Wall Street trading saw the S&P 500 down 0.59%, the Dow Jones Industrial Average down 0.35%, and the Nasdaq Composite down 0.97%.
- Macy's (M) shares declined despite reporting stronger-than-expected quarterly earnings and raising its full-year outlook, as the retailer highlighted macroeconomic and geopolitical factors influencing consumer spending.
- Notable pre-market movers included Chemours Co. (CC) gaining 6.6% on a PFAS settlement, SS&C Technologies Holdings (SSNC) up 5% following a UBS price target increase, and Fox Corp. (FOXA) advancing 4.5% on positive reactions to its pending acquisition of Roku. Conversely, Cooper Companies (COO) tumbled 17.3% on a revenue miss and lowered outlook, and American Eagle Outfitters (AEO) fell 14.21%.
- NVIDIA (NVDA) experienced a $5.38 decline to approximately $218.04. Despite this, GuruFocus' valuation model indicates NVDA is significantly undervalued by 43.4% against its GF Value of $385.27. CEO Jensen Huang is scheduled to participate in a fireside chat at Goldman Sachs' Communacopia + Technology Conference today.
- European stock indexes also saw declines, with Germany's DAX down 0.6% and France's CAC-40 down 1.3%.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian equity benchmarks, Sensex and Nifty, opened flat but managed to close with gains, snapping a three-day losing streak. The Sensex advanced 138 points, while the Nifty 50 gained 46 points (0.20%) to close at 23,477.80, primarily led by buying in banking stocks.
- Top Nifty 50 gainers included HDFC Life Insurance Company (HDFCLIFE) up 2.36%, Power Grid Corporation of India (POWERGRID) up 2.22%, and Oil and Natural Gas Corporation (ONGC) gaining 1.39%.
- Among the top Nifty 50 losers were HCL Technologies (HCLTECH) down 1.85%, Hindalco Industries (HINDALCO) down 1.26%, and Tata Steel (TATASTEEL) falling 1.04%.
- The Indian Rupee weakened against the US Dollar, opening 14 paise lower at 95.25.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil surged above $100 per barrel for the first time since May, trading around $100.10, while Brent crude jumped above $105.37 per barrel. This sharp increase is largely attributed to escalating geopolitical tensions from the US-Iran conflict and attacks on Gulf shipping, intensifying fears of supply disruptions through the Strait of Hormuz.
- WTI crude has broken out of a symmetrical triangle formation, suggesting an uptrend. While potentially heading higher beyond $97.79, a pullback to Fibonacci retracement levels (e.g., $90.98, $88.88, $86.78) is anticipated to gather bullish momentum.
- Gold futures saw a decline, falling 0.75% to $4,427.40 an ounce in early trading.
- There is no significant live news on major crypto regulatory or adoption headlines.

🎯 STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
HDFCLIFE	Long	Top Nifty 50 gainer for the day, indicating strong upward momentum. Selected based on a hypothetical 50-SMA support bounce or 20/50 EMA golden cross signal.
POWERGRID	Long	Second highest Nifty 50 gainer. Strong relative strength within the Indian market. Hypothetically identified due to a sustained move above its 50-SMA.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVDA	Short (Intraday) / Long (Swing)	Intraday Short: Experienced a pre-market decline and the broader market is falling. This provides an opportunity for a potential 21-day EMA rejection or breakdown below key support levels for an intraday short. Swing Long: Despite intraday weakness, GuruFocus identifies NVDA as 43.4% undervalued (GF Value: $385.27 vs. current ~$218). The CEO's conference appearance today could provide a catalyst for a rebound, making it a value play on a deeper pullback.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
CULP	Long	Significant pre-market gain (+17.48%) following strong fiscal first-quarter results and improved cash generation. This indicates high Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) breakout potential at market open.
SSNC	Long	Cloud-based software company with a 5% pre-market jump after UBS raised its price target. This suggests positive institutional sentiment and high relative volume.

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
BTC/USD	Long (Illustrative)	Hypothetical 4H 21-EMA trend following. Assuming a recent bounce off the 4H 21-EMA with accompanying high buying volume, indicating a continuation of the uptrend.

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
WTI Crude Oil	Long	WTI Crude has surged above $100/barrel due to escalating US-Iran conflict and supply disruption fears. It has broken out of a symmetrical triangle. A long position is favored on a potential pullback to Fibonacci support levels (e.g., $90.98 or $88.88) before resuming its climb towards new highs above $97.79.
Gold (XAU/USD)	Short	Gold futures fell 0.75% in early trading, indicating immediate downward pressure. A short trade could be considered targeting key pivot support levels after a retest of resistance.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Short-Term (EUR/USD, GBP/USD)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD	Short	Despite the ECB's rate hike, the Euro weakened slightly against the US Dollar. This suggests the hike was priced in or overshadowed by persistent inflation concerns. An intraday short position could be established upon a 15-minute trend reversal or rejection from a key resistance level.

Macro Carry Swing (USD/JPY, AUD/USD)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
USD/JPY	Short	News indicates a yen recovery driven by Bank of Japan tightening bets and US pressure. This suggests a potential unwind of carry trade positions, favoring a long-term short on USD/JPY.

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
Nifty 50 (Call)	Long	Nifty 50 closed higher for the day, and banking stocks showed strength, indicating positive market sentiment. A long call option can be initiated on a confirmed 15-minute Opening Range Breakout to the upside, targeting continuation of positive momentum.
