📰 SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- US Federal Reserve: The FOMC maintained the federal funds rate at 3.75%-4.00% on October 28, with two officials dissenting for a 0.25% hike. Inflation remains elevated at 3.7%, and economic activity is expanding at a strong pace, leading to high expectations for a December rate hike.
- European Central Bank (ECB): Rates were kept unchanged on October 29, but the ECB warned of rising inflation risks due to surging energy costs, signaling a potential December hike. President Christine Lagarde also announced her early resignation.
- Other Central Banks: The Bank of Japan is likely to hold rates, while the Bank of England is expected to hike next week. The Reserve Bank of Australia has already hiked four times this year and has a high chance of another hike in November. Norges Bank also indicated potential for further tightening, and the Bank of Canada delivered its first hike in over three years.

2. US & European Markets

- Wall Street Futures: Pre-market activity on October 30 shows mixed signals, with S&P 500 futures down approximately 0.96% and Nasdaq 100 futures down around 2.41%, while Dow Jones futures are slightly up by about 0.21%.
- Mega-Cap Tech Earnings & Pre-Market Movers: Intel shares plunged 25% pre-market after warning of cash burn and a weak PC market outlook. Amazon fell 6.5% pre-market due to a holiday-quarter sales forecast below expectations. Alphabet shares dropped over 12% on October 29 following missed Q3 earnings and negative free cash flow, contributing to broader concerns about AI investment returns. Microsoft, however, reported better-than-expected results.
- Semiconductor Developments: Intel's significant decline impacts the sector, though earlier in the week, some AI-related chip stocks like Broadcom and Advanced Micro Devices saw gains due to financing deals and partnerships, driving a temporary AI rally. The Philadelphia Semiconductor Index had confirmed a bear market earlier in July.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Sensex/Nifty Updates: Indian equity markets ended higher on October 30, extending the previous session's recovery. The Nifty 50 gained 0.5% to close at 23,053.10, and the BSE Sensex added 0.4% to 74,459.53.
- Corporate Earnings: Mixed corporate earnings results are driving selective buying interest.
- FII/DII Institutional Flows: Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) turned net buyers on October 23, purchasing ₹887.65 crore, while Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIs) bought ₹3,235.36 crore.
- Sectoral Momentum: Information Technology, Pharmaceuticals, and Healthcare sectors led the gains. Conversely, Consumer Durables, Metals, Telecom, Cement, several Financial stocks, and Oil and Gas counters faced selling pressure.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- Crude Oil Geopolitics: WTI crude rose 0.8% to US$102.81 a barrel in early Asian trading on October 30, with Brent crude also showing significant gains. This increase is primarily driven by fears of renewed US military strikes on Iran and a tanker attack in the Strait of Hormuz, maintaining elevated supply risks.
- Gold Supply/Demand Drivers: Gold typically acts as a safe-haven asset during periods of heightened geopolitical uncertainty, suggesting potential support amidst current Middle East tensions.
- Major Crypto Regulatory/Adoption Headlines: Cryptocurrency-linked stocks tumbled following reports of a massive $6.36 billion theft from Binance, identified as the largest cryptocurrency theft on record, impacting overall crypto market sentiment.

SUNPHARMA	Long	Top gainer on October 30, showing strength from Q2 results and a defensive sector preference amidst global technology concerns. Displays potential for a 50-SMA support bounce.

2. US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVDA	Long-Bias	Key beneficiary of the ongoing AI trade, showing resilience and positive momentum despite broader tech headwinds on October 28. Potential for a 21-day EMA pullback entry after recent strength.
GOOGL	Short-Bias	Significant pre-market decline (11.55% down on October 30) following missed Q3 earnings and negative free cash flow. Fits a 50-day SMA rejection strategy for a short entry.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
PCLA	Long	High pre-market gain (37.47% on October 30) with significant volume, indicating strong breakout potential based on high relative volume (RVOL > 2.0).
CVEO	Long	Strong pre-market gainer (21.47% on October 30) with positive momentum, suggesting early-stage Stage-2 VCP or high RVOL breakout characteristics.

3. CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
BTC/USD	Short-Bias	Significant bearish sentiment across the crypto market following reports of a major Binance theft. Anticipate high-volume volatility breakouts to the downside, following 4H 21-EMA trend.
ETH/USD	Short-Bias	Likely to follow BTC/USD due to broader crypto market correlation and sentiment. Expect high-volume, volatility-driven moves following the Binance news, aligning with 4H 21-EMA trend.

4. COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
XAU/USD (Gold)	Long	Geopolitical tensions (Middle East conflict, Strait of Hormuz attacks) traditionally drive safe-haven demand, indicating potential upside, targeting key Fibonacci extension levels from recent swing lows.
WTI Crude Oil	Long	Strong upward momentum fueled by tanker attacks in the Strait of Hormuz and renewed US-Iran tensions, indicating continued rally towards Fibonacci extension resistance levels. Current pivot point around $103.33 with resistance at $105.43.

5. FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Short-Term

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD	Short-Bias	ECB's hawkish hold combined with President Lagarde's resignation announcement creates uncertainty. Potential for short-term bearish divergence if US economic data continues to show strength.
GBP/USD	Long-Bias	Bank of England is expected to deliver its first rate hike of 2026 next week, providing a hawkish catalyst for GBP against the USD, following potential short-term pullbacks.

Macro Carry Swings

Ticker	Direction	Strategy & Selection Reason
USD/JPY	Short-Bias	While BoJ is expected to hold, a hawkish shift in tone or a surprise move could strengthen JPY. Carry trade unwind potential if risk-off sentiment prevails.
