Session Highlight:  New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: Focus heavily on Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- The US Federal Reserve is widely anticipated to raise interest rates by 25 basis points at its policy meeting this week (Wednesday), driven by persistent inflation and a robust economy. Goldman Sachs and J.P. Morgan now expect a September hike, with some also forecasting another in December.
- US headline CPI stood at 3.4% in August, with the monthly rate increasing to 0.4%. Core CPI eased to 2.4% annually, but the monthly core reading rose 0.3%.
- The Bank of Japan is also expected to increase interest rates this week.
- The US 10-year Treasury yield is nearing 5% (currently at 4.97%), reaching a near two-decade high amidst inflation fears and rising government debt.
- President Trump has publicly called for the Federal Reserve to lower interest rates, contrasting with market expectations of a hike.

2. US & European Markets

- US futures are edging lower in the pre-market.
- Technology stocks are experiencing a downturn across Asian and European markets, and are expected to follow suit in the US, following calls from prominent AI executives (including Anthropic and OpenAI, backed by Elon Musk) to slow AI development due to safety concerns. OpenAI has also announced it will not pursue an IPO this year.
- Shares of major semiconductor companies like Samsung, Tokyo Electron, Kioxia, SK Hynix, and Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Company (TSMC) have declined due to the AI slowdown sentiment.
- Despite recent market volatility, S&P 500 earnings are projected to grow by over 11% in the second quarter.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian markets are closed today, September 14, 2026, for Ganesh Chaturthi.
- On Friday, the Nifty 50 closed 0.3% lower at 23,389, marking a 2.1% decline for the week. Midcap and Smallcap indices also ended lower.
- Continued selling by Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) is exerting pressure on domestic equities.
- KEC International reported a significant 41.7% year-on-year drop in net profit for Q1 FY27, despite securing new orders worth ₹1,303 crore.
- India's securities regulator (Sebi) is reviewing its new closing auction framework after initial implementation challenges.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil prices surged above $100 per barrel, climbing over 3% at market open, driven by escalating Middle East supply disruptions including Houthi attacks on Saudi Arabia and the temporary shutdown of a key Saudi oil pipeline. Brent crude also rose above $107 per barrel.
- Gold prices eased by 0.5% to $4,327.09 per ounce, extending a third consecutive weekly decline, as rising oil prices fueled inflation concerns and strengthened expectations of a Fed rate hike.
- US spot Bitcoin and Ether ETFs have seen strong inflows, initially boosted by hints of future rate cuts from the Fed. However, a Bloomberg strategist warns of potential sell signals for Bitcoin, citing its tight correlation with the S&P 500 and impending Fed hikes, suggesting a possible drop towards $10,000. Bitcoin's price rebound stalled at $76,746.
