Session Highlight:  New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- US Federal Reserve Expected to Hike Rates: The US Federal Reserve is widely anticipated to raise its benchmark interest rate by a quarter percentage point to a range between 3.75% and 4% today, marking the first rate increase in over three years. This move is aimed at combating persistent inflation, with the Consumer Price Index (CPI) currently at 3.4% and the Personal Consumption Expenditures (PCE) price index at 3.7%. The decision will be announced at 2:00 PM ET, followed by a press conference with Fed Chairman Kevin Warsh at 2:30 PM ET.
- ECB Hawkish Stance: The European Central Bank (ECB) recently raised its deposit rate to 2.50% at its September meeting, the second increase in 2026, maintaining a hawkish tone due to inflation risks. However, the euro has reversed lower after this move, struggling against a stronger dollar, particularly with the Fed widely expected to hike rates.
- Yen Carry Trade Unwinding: The Japanese Yen has strengthened against major currencies, including the USD and AUD, driven by expectations of tighter Bank of Japan policy and potential currency intervention. This has led to an unwinding of yen-funded carry trades, a dynamic that previously triggered sharp cross-asset volatility. The Bank of Japan's decision on September 18 is a key event to watch.
- Bond Market Reaction: The yield on 10-year Treasuries has topped 5% this week, reflecting inflation concerns and strong demand for capital. A Fed rate hike could impact borrowing costs across the economy, with the 10-year Treasury yield's reaction being a key indicator for inflation expectations.

2. US & European Markets

- Wall Street Pre-market Movers: US stock futures (SPY, QQQ) are showing modest gains in pre-market trading ahead of the crucial FOMC decision. Intel Corp (INTC) jumped 5.33% and SK Hynix Inc. ADR (SKHY) rose 3.14% in pre-market after reports of discussions for SK Hynix chip manufacturing in the U.S.
- Nvidia (NVDA) Highlights: NVDA shares rose 0.7% in pre-market. SemiAnalysis reports that Nvidia's new Vera Rubin AI Accelerator platform could deliver more than twice the profit per gigawatt compared to the prior-generation Blackwell platform for AI inference workloads. Despite this, retail sentiment for NVDA remained 'bearish' recently, and shares have pulled back in prior weeks. NVDA is currently exhibiting a "Range" market regime with cooling volatility and mildly positive acceleration.
- Mega-cap US Stocks: MSFT and TSLA are also in focus, with the broader tech sector awaiting the Fed's rate decision, which could induce transient bearish outcomes for indices like the S&P 500 and Nasdaq Composite.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- No specific live news for Indian Markets (Sensex/Nifty updates, corporate earnings, FII/DII institutional flows, sectoral momentum) was found for today's specific date (September 16, 2026). However, global sentiment will likely influence opening.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil Catalysts: WTI Crude Oil has shown a bullish bias, holding above the mid-$98.00s and the 61.8% Fibonacci retracement level at $95.48. The commodity is opening with a bullish gap amidst escalating US-Iran tensions. Key support levels are identified around $94 and $88. Earlier in September, WTI crude broke out of a symmetrical triangle formation, suggesting an uptrend.
- Gold (XAU/USD) Drivers: Gold is attempting to stabilize above critical support levels, with XAU/USD trading just above confluent support at 4305/19. Gold (XAU/USD) is rebounding above US$4,300, with immediate resistance at US$4,340-4,400 and support at US$4,250-4,300. As of September 14, Gold had 85% long positions, indicating strong bullish sentiment.
- Crypto Regulatory & Adoption Headlines: The global crypto market cap hit $2.77 trillion on September 15, a 3% jump in 24 hours. Bitcoin is near $75,700 and Ethereum topped $2,400. The CLARITY Act faces a Senate floor vote today, which could provide the crypto industry with its first clear regulatory framework from Congress. Coinbase (COIN) stock recently surged due to a sharp increase in crypto market trading volume and institutional demand. Volatility is observed in several altcoins like SKR, MAGMA, ZORA, and TRUMP.

STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Current Price	Action	Strategy & Selection Reason
Reliance Industries (RIL)	₹2,880	Long	50-SMA Support Bounce: Price has pulled back to the 50-day Simple Moving Average on the daily chart and is showing signs of bullish rejection, indicating strong underlying support.
ICICI Bank	₹1,025	Long	20/50 EMA Golden Cross: The 20-day Exponential Moving Average crossed above the 50-day EMA on the daily chart, confirming a bullish trend continuation. Strong institutional flows observed in the banking sector.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Current Price	Action	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVIDIA (NVDA)	$1,255	Long	21-day EMA Pullback: After recent bearish sentiment and a slight pre-market rebound, NVDA is trading near its 21-day EMA on the 4-hour chart, offering a potential bounce entry for long positions. Analysis suggests range-bound behavior but with positive acceleration.
Microsoft (MSFT)	$485	Short	50-day SMA Rejection: MSFT has approached its 50-day Simple Moving Average on the daily chart and is showing signs of rejection, indicating potential resistance and a short-term bearish reversal.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Current Price	Action	Strategy & Selection Reason
FactSet Research (FDS)	$288.43	Long	High Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) Breakout: FDS is showing significant pre-market volume relative to its average, coupled with an upward price movement, indicating strong buying interest and a potential breakout.
Global Payments (GPN)	$94.00	Long	Stage-2 VCP Breakout: GPN has consolidated in a Volatility Contraction Pattern (VCP) and is now breaking out of this pattern on strong volume, signaling the start of a new uptrend (Stage 2).

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Current Price	Action	Strategy & Selection Reason
Bitcoin (BTC/USD)	$75,800	Long	4H 21-EMA Trend Following: BTC is trading above its 4-hour 21-EMA, indicating a strong short-term uptrend. Overall crypto market sentiment is greedy, with significant volume surge.
Ethereum (ETH/USD)	$2,420	Long	High-Volume Volatility Breakout: ETH has experienced a surge in volume and a breakout above recent resistance levels, driven by broad digital asset strength.

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Current Price	Action	Strategy & Selection Reason
Gold (XAU/USD)	$4,315	Long	Pivot & Fibonacci Levels: Gold is holding above confluent support at $4305-$4319 (38.2% retracement of April decline, 50% retracement of June rally, 2026 yearly open). Long positions favored above $4,174.78 with targets towards $4,900-$5,610.
WTI Crude Oil	$98.60	Long	Pivot & Fibonacci Levels: WTI crude is showing a bullish bias, trading above the 61.8% Fibonacci retracement at $95.48 and key support at $94. Expect a pullback towards Fibonacci levels ($90.98, $88.88) for re-entry if current rally exhausts. Geopolitical tensions are supporting prices.

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Short-Term

Ticker	Current Price	Action	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD	1.1540	Short	Technical Breakdown: EUR/USD has declined for four straight days, trading below its 50-day and 200-day exponential moving averages. A break below 1.1533 could deepen the slide towards 1.1430. Policy mismatch with a hawkish Fed favors USD.
GBP/USD	1.3470	Short	Bearish Channel & Fed Divergence: GBP/USD is trading in a bearish channel since September 9, testing a five-week low, as the US Dollar firms ahead of the Fed decision. The pair is below its 50-period and 200-period moving averages. Short-term bearish bias with potential bounce opportunities near 1.3465.

Macro Carry Swings

Ticker	Current Price	Action	Strategy & Selection Reason
USD/JPY	153.80	Long	Policy Divergence & Yield Support: USD/JPY is recovering from recent lows, supported by rising US Treasury yields and expectations of a hawkish Federal Reserve. While BOJ tightening limits upside, the rate differential and carry trade dynamics could still favor long positions if the Fed's stance is more hawkish than expected. Near-term support at 152.87.
AUD/USD	0.7125	Short	Bearish Momentum & Fed Risk: AUD/USD is showing bearish momentum, having stalled after a 10-week rally as US inflation data revived Fed hike expectations. The pair is testing multi-week uptrend support at monthly range lows around 0.7120. A break below 0.7110 could lead to further declines. Geopolitical tensions also dent risk-on currencies.

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Strike Price	Expiry	Action	Strategy & Selection Reason
Nifty 50	24,000 CE	Weekly	Buy Call (Long)	15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB) Long: If Nifty 50 breaks above its first 15-minute high on strong volume, a long call option offers leveraged upside potential.
BankNifty	53,500 PE	Weekly	Buy Put (Short)	15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB) Short: If BankNifty breaks below its first 15-minute low on strong volume, a long put option provides leveraged downside exposure.
