Session Highlight: New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Lead Quantitative Strategist & Institutional Portfolio Manager: [Your Name/Firm Name]

Session News Focus: Heavy emphasis on Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- The US Federal Reserve has a policy meeting scheduled for this Wednesday, which will be keenly watched by markets. While only a 30% chance of a rate hike is currently priced in, the Fed's statements and projections, and comments from the FOMC, have the potential to significantly move the US Dollar.
- The Japanese Yen remains near multi-decade lows against the US Dollar, primarily due to the wide interest rate differential between the US Federal Reserve and the Bank of Japan. The carry trade remains active, overwhelming the Bank of Japan's tightening efforts. USD/JPY recently cleared the 162 intervention line and extended to fresh multi-decade highs near 164.
- The Euro climbed back above $1.14, rebounding from near one-year lows, driven by easing tensions between the US and Iran and a sharp decline in oil prices, which improved overall risk sentiment. Despite a recent move higher, the EUR/USD has been trading sideways for several months and shows signs of a potential sustained move lower, with a pivotal point identified around $1.1398. The ECB Chief Economist indicated that the current inflation shock remains moderate, warranting some additional policy tightening but not an aggressive response.

2. US & European Markets

- US stock futures are showing strong gains in pre-market trading, with the S&P 500 up 0.97%, Nasdaq 100 up 1.61%, and Dow Jones up 1.05%. SPDR S&P 500 (SPY), Invesco QQQ Trust (QQQ), and SPDR Dow Jones Industrial Average (DIA) are also showing significant advances.
- Several stocks are moving significantly higher in pre-market, including Matinas BioPharma Holdings, Inc., T3 Defense Inc., and Forte Biosciences, Inc., indicating positive sentiment ahead of the New York session open.
- The broader market backdrop is unambiguously risk-on, with the equity rally reflecting confidence in diplomatic resolutions rather than just growth acceleration.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian equities snapped a five-session losing streak, with the Sensex jumping 776 points (1.02%) to close at 76,835.78, and the Nifty 50 gaining 229 points (0.96%) to end at 23,995.95 on Monday.
- The rally was broad-based, with almost all sectoral indices trading in positive territory, led by Nifty Media, IT, and Realty. Nifty Midcap 100 and Smallcap 100 indices also recorded healthy gains.
- Improving relations between Iran and the US, coupled with softer crude oil prices, boosted investor confidence. Analysts suggest the Nifty 50, being in oversold territory, could stage a pullback towards 24,000 if it holds above 23,600.
- Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) were net sellers in the cash market on Friday, July 24, with a net outflow of ₹3,892.77 crore, while Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIIs) were net buyers with an inflow of ₹5,453.55 crore.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil futures are collapsing today, falling 5.3% to an intraday low of $83.19 and currently trading around $84.58 per barrel. This sharp decline is attributed to diplomatic progress between Washington and Tehran, which has dismantled the war-risk premium, coupled with supply normalization from returning Iranian barrels and a fresh domestic inventory build. The short-term trend for oil has reversed to the downside after prices opened below a key support level.
- Gold (XAU/USD) has retested its key resistance at 4,128–4,113 after hitting a downside target for short positions.
- Bitcoin (BTC) is currently trading around $65,200 to $65,379, showing a modest increase of approximately 0.48% to 1.18% in the last 24 hours. The current market capitalization is around $1.3 trillion USD. Price action indicates a potential bullish bounce off a lower support zone. High volume during a breakout can confirm the strength of price movements in crypto.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Strategy & Selection Reason	Direction	Entry Price	Target	Stop Loss
NVIDIA (NVDA)	Pre-market strength, targeting a 21-day EMA pullback entry. Anticipating a bounce from short-term trend support in a strong overall market. US markets are in a risk-on environment.	Long	$122.50	$127.00	$120.00
Microsoft (MSFT)	Pre-market strength, watching for a confirmed breakout above recent resistance levels, driven by overall tech sector positive sentiment. Potential for continuation into the open.	Long	$452.80	$458.00	$449.50

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Strategy & Selection Reason	Entry Price	Target	Stop Loss
MP Materials (MP)	Mid-cap stock exhibiting a Stage-2 VCP (Volatility Contraction Pattern) setup on the weekly chart, indicating accumulation and readiness for a breakout above overhead supply.	$18.60	$20.00	$17.80
Livent Corp (LTHM)	Small-cap stock with high Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) on the daily chart, showing unusual institutional interest and a potential breakout from a basing pattern.	$10.20	$11.00	$9.70

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Strategy & Selection Reason	Direction	Entry Price	Target	Stop Loss
Bitcoin (BTC/USD)	Following a 4H 21-EMA trend, currently testing this dynamic support after a minor pullback. A bounce off the EMA would confirm continuation of the underlying bullish trend. Bitcoin is up over the last 24 hours.	Long	$65,000	$66,500	$64,200
Ethereum (ETH/USD)	High-volume volatility breakout from a consolidation range on the 4H chart. Price has cleared a key resistance level with significant volume, suggesting further upside potential.	Long	$3,420	$3,550	$3,350

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Strategy & Selection Reason	Direction	Entry Price	Target	Stop Loss
WTI Crude Oil (USCrude)	Prices collapsing due to diplomatic progress and supply normalization. Short-term trend reversed to the downside, with prices below key support. Targeting a retest of Fibonacci extension levels on the downside, initiating short on bounce to resistance.	Short	$85.50	$83.50	$86.80
Gold (XAU/USD)	Retesting key resistance after hitting a downside target. A rejection from the 4,128-4,113 resistance zone would confirm a short opportunity targeting lower Fibonacci retracement levels.	Short	$4,110	$4,044	$4,135

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Strategy & Selection Reason	Direction	Entry Price	Target	Stop Loss
EUR/USD (Short-Term)	Currently trading sideways but showing signs of potential sustained move lower, with a pivotal point around $1.1398. Targeting short on a confirmed break below this pivotal support.	Short	1.1390	1.1320	1.1425
USD/JPY (Macro Carry Swing)	Yen remains weak due to wide rate differentials and the persistence of the carry trade. The pair has cleared 162 and is targeting 165. Long on a pullback to support, maintaining a bullish carry bias.	Long	163.50	165.00	162.80
AUD/USD (Macro Carry Swing)	Pair showing signs of weakness relative to the USD, aligning with a potential unwind in risk sentiment if Fed rhetoric turns hawkish. Looking for continuation of short-term downtrend.	Short	0.6720	0.6650	0.6755

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Index	Strategy & Selection Reason	Option Type	Strike	Expiry	Direction
Nifty 50	15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB) strategy: Waiting for a clear breakout above the initial 15-minute high or below the low to confirm intraday direction.	Call/Put	ATM	Weekly	Long/Short (based on ORB)
BankNifty	15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB) strategy: Observing the first 15-30 minutes for range formation and then trading the breakout with volume confirmation.	Call/Put	ATM	Weekly	Long/Short (based on ORB)
