DAILY MULTI-ASSET TRADING BLUEPRINT & LEVEL EXECUTION MANUAL

Date: September 12, 2026

Current Session Highlight:  New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- The European Central Bank (ECB) raised its key interest rates by 25 basis points on September 10, 2026, marking the 10th consecutive hike. The deposit facility rate increased to 2.50%, the main refinancing operations rate to 2.65%, and the marginal lending facility rate to 2.90%, effective September 16, 2026. This move aims to quell persistent inflation pressures, especially those driven by the ongoing Middle East conflict.
- The ECB's growth forecast for the euro area was revised upwards for 2026 and 2027, reflecting greater-than-expected economic resilience.
- Markets are anticipating a 25 basis point rate hike from the US Federal Reserve at its upcoming policy meeting next week, with fed funds futures indicating a greater than 65% probability.
- US inflation data for August 2026 showed headline CPI holding at 3.4% annually, while core CPI accelerated to 0.3% month-over-month. The Federal Reserve has emphasized a data-dependent approach to future monetary policy decisions.
- The Bank of Japan (BoJ) is also expected to announce a 25 basis point rate hike.
- Global borrowing costs have seen a new surge, fueled by escalating oil prices and increased inflation risks.
- The US Dollar has shown recovery against the Japanese Yen, with the 10-year US Treasury yield approaching the 4.93% level. The Indian Rupee has weakened against the US Dollar, trading around ₹95.60.

2. US & European Markets

- Wall Street futures experienced a decline of 1% on September 11, 2026, amidst broader market jitters, although Friday saw a positive close for many major indices.
- NVIDIA (NVDA): The long-term outlook remains bullish, with Blackwell Ultra continuing to see high demand, Vera Rubin rolling out to customers, and NVIDIA Groq 3 LPX in full production. The company has a clear datacenter product roadmap extending into 2028, and CEO Jensen Huang projects $3 trillion to $4 trillion in annual global AI factory buildout by the end of the decade. Output of NVIDIA Grace Blackwell NVL72 racks increased by 27% month-over-month.
- Microsoft (MSFT): Plans to more than triple its datacenter footprint by 2032.
- Other Semiconductor News: Oracle leadership reported positive sentiments on GPU useful life, with renewals or resales at a 20% premium. Micron announced FY26 rewards for Taiwan employees, and KB Securities anticipates Samsung's HBM market share to reach 40% in Q4, with an earnings boom expected to last through 2028.
- In Europe, Switzerland has proposed a $26 billion capital boost for UBS following its acquisition of Credit Suisse, raising "too big to fail" concerns, which UBS's CEO deems "not acceptable" and "not competitive".

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- The Nifty 50 closed down 0.34% at 23,398.10 in the last trading session, while the Sensex and Nifty gained 0.2% on September 10, 2026.
- Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) were net sellers of ₹931 crore on September 11, 2026, while Domestic Institutional Investors (DII) were net buyers of ₹1,968 crore.
- For September so far, FIIs are marginal net buyers at approximately ₹579 crore, whereas DII buying has reached around ₹24,987 crore. Year-to-date, FII cash-market selling amounts to roughly ₹1.89 lakh crore, contrasting with DII investment of nearly ₹3.51 lakh crore.
- Realty stocks are currently under pressure, while private-sector banks have shown outperformance.
- The NSE IPO is scheduled to open on September 17, 2026, with a price band of ₹1,700-₹1,785 per share, aiming to raise approximately ₹22,662 crore.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil: Surged above $100 per barrel on September 10, 2026, for the first time since May 21st, driven by escalating conflict in the Middle East and increased threats to Red Sea oil flows following the seizure of Yemen's port of Mocha by Iran-aligned Houthis. The October WTI contract settled at $102.48, and Brent at $107.63. WTI crude was trading around $98.50 on Friday, experiencing some profit-taking. Current prices are around $99.99 for WTI and $104.47 for Brent. OPEC has revised its 2026 demand growth forecast downwards but increased its 2027 projection.
- Gold (XAU/USD): Rose to approximately $4,380 an ounce on Friday, but concluded its third consecutive weekly loss, down nearly 1% for the week, primarily due to increased expectations of a Fed rate hike. Current spot price is around $4350.36. Strong investment demand continues, with gold-backed ETFs attracting $18 billion in August 2026, alongside ongoing central bank purchases. Geopolitical uncertainty, inflation concerns, government debt, and equity market concentration are contributing factors to gold's appeal as a diversifier.
- Crypto Regulation: The US Senate passed the GENIUS Act, a bipartisan, White House-backed bill establishing the first comprehensive federal framework for stablecoin regulation, creating a dual-track federal and state system. The SEC proposed new rules, "Regulation Crypto Assets," in August 2026, aiming for a clear framework for investment contracts involving crypto assets. The Department of Justice (DOJ) has refocused its digital asset enforcement priorities and dissolved its crypto-enforcement unit. State regulators, particularly in New York and California, are intensifying oversight of crypto firms operating without required licenses.

🎯 STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

1. INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Screen Nifty leaders using 50-SMA support bounces or 20/50 EMA golden crosses.

Ticker	Type	Strategy & Selection Reason
HDFC Bank	Large-Cap	Showing resilience in private-sector banks sector (outperforming). Screening for 50-SMA support bounce after recent market dip.
Reliance Industries	Large-Cap	Potential 20/50 EMA golden cross forming on daily chart, indicating renewed bullish momentum for a Nifty leader.
Dr. Reddy's Labs	Large-Cap	Recent positive movement. Applying a 50-SMA support bounce strategy as the broader market shows signs of stabilization.

2. US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL): Screen using 21-day EMA pullbacks or 50-day SMA rejection strategy on mega-cap growth leaders.

Ticker	Type	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVDA	Mega-Cap Growth	Strong bullish fundamental news (AI roadmap, datacenter buildout, high demand for Blackwell Ultra). Looking for 21-day EMA pullback for a long entry, anticipating continued upward trajectory.
MSFT	Mega-Cap Growth	Positive news on datacenter expansion. Observing for a 21-day EMA pullback as an entry point for a long trade, leveraging strong underlying growth.
TSLA	Mega-Cap Growth	Could be vulnerable to broader market sentiment shifts. Watching for a 50-day SMA rejection on any attempted rally for a potential short opportunity if momentum fades.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY): Screen using Stage-2 VCP or High Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) breakouts.

Ticker	Type	Strategy & Selection Reason
SMCI	Mid-Cap Tech	Assumed high relative volume (RVOL > 2.0) breakout on strong sector tailwinds from AI and datacenter demand, exhibiting Stage-2 characteristics.
DELL	Large-Cap (Mid-Cap for breakout focus)	Recent strength and focus on AI hardware. Monitoring for a clear Stage-2 VCP breakout with strong volume, indicating accumulation.

3. CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Screen using 4H 21-EMA trend following and high-volume volatility breakouts.

Ticker	Type	Strategy & Selection Reason
BTC/USD	Large-Cap	Potential for volatility breakout given recent regulatory news (GENIUS Act for stablecoins, SEC proposals). Utilizing 4H 21-EMA for trend direction, looking for high-volume move.
ETH/USD	Large-Cap	Following BTC's lead, looking for 4H 21-EMA trend confirmation. High-volume breakouts often occur in tandem with major market leaders.
SOL/USD	Mid-Cap	High-volume volatility breakout candidate, often sees amplified moves relative to larger caps during periods of market excitement or uncertainty.

4. COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Gold (XAU/USD) and WTI Crude Oil using Pivot & Fibonacci extension levels.

Ticker	Type	Strategy & Selection Reason
XAU/USD	Gold	Recent decline and Fed hike bets create volatility. Trading using pivot points for short-term directional bias and Fibonacci extensions for profit targets, given its current price of around $4350.36.
WTI Crude Oil	Energy	Significant volatility due to Middle East geopolitical tensions and supply concerns, pushing prices above $100. Using pivot levels to identify potential reversal points and Fibonacci extensions for key support/resistance after its recent surge to $102.48.

5. FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Short-Term (EUR/USD, GBP/USD) & Macro Carry Swings (USD/JPY, AUD/USD).

Ticker	Type	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD	Short-Term	ECB rate hike news could provide short-term strength for EUR. Looking for quick scalps around key support/resistance levels.
GBP/USD	Short-Term	Reacting to global macro sentiment, particularly US data and central bank expectations. Intraday volatility for swing trades.
USD/JPY	Macro Carry Swing	US 10-year yield rising, coupled with anticipated BoJ rate hike. Potential for yen strength on BoJ news against a strong dollar. Trading the long-term carry differential.
AUD/USD	Macro Carry Swing	Sensitive to commodity prices (including oil and gold movements) and global growth sentiment. Looking for longer-term trends driven by interest rate differentials.

6. INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Nifty 50 / BankNifty 15-Minute Opening Range Breakouts (Call for Long, Put for Short).

Ticker	Type	Strategy & Selection Reason
Nifty 50 Options	Index Options	Utilizing 15-minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB) for directional bias. Call options for upside breakout, Put options for downside breakout, capitalizing on initial market volatility.
BankNifty Options	Index Options	Similar to Nifty 50, BankNifty often exhibits strong directional moves on opening. Applying 15-minute ORB strategy for quick intraday option buying opportunities.
