Session Highlight: New York Session Pre-Open Briefing (1 Hr Before Open)

Session News Focus: Wall Street pre-market movers, US Federal Reserve news, mega-cap US stocks (NVDA, MSFT, TSLA), and WTI Crude Oil catalysts.

SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- The US Federal Reserve is expected to keep interest rates steady at 3.50-3.75% during its upcoming FOMC meeting on July 28-29, marking the fifth consecutive meeting without a change. This decision is driven by persistent inflation, which eased to 3.5% year-on-year in June but remains above the Fed's 2% target.
- New Fed Chairman Kevin Warsh has emphasized a commitment to curbing above-average inflation, signaling that rates may not fall anytime soon and providing limited forward guidance, which introduces an element of uncertainty.
- Escalating geopolitical tensions in the Middle East, particularly US President Trump's renewed war on Iran and Houthi attacks, are exacerbating inflation concerns due to soaring energy prices.
- The European Central Bank (ECB) and Bank of England (BoE) are also navigating inflationary pressures from higher energy costs and are likely to maintain a cautious, potentially hawkish stance on rates, with markets pricing in potential hikes by year-end for the ECB.

2. US & European Markets

- Wall Street is experiencing wavering sentiment following a recent tech selloff, particularly affecting "Magnificent Seven" stocks.
- Despite hawkish monetary policy signals from the Fed, the S&P 500 has climbed 10% in 2026 as of July 22.
- Mega-cap tech earnings season is underway, with Microsoft (MSFT) reporting on July 29 and Nvidia (NVDA) on August 26. Concerns over AI spending have led to a rotation out of some overextended AI and chip stocks.
- In pre-market trading, Tesla (TSLA) showed significant weakness, falling over 8.7% in a recent session, with investors questioning its AI spending. Microsoft (MSFT) saw minimal movement.
- The US has announced new Section 301 tariffs, ranging from 10% to 12.5%, on imports from 60 economies, a move that could impact global trade flows.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Indian equities concluded a "bruising week," with both the Sensex and Nifty experiencing a four-session losing streak as of July 24, and the Nifty 50 failing to sustain above the key 24,000 level.
- Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) have been net sellers, with significant outflows (e.g., ₹3892.77 Cr on July 24), while Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIs) have largely absorbed these outflows (e.g., ₹5453.55 Cr on July 24).
- The Indian Rupee has declined to a two-month low against the dollar, pressured by rising crude oil prices and ongoing Middle East tensions.
- Q1 FY27 corporate earnings season is in full swing, with mixed results. For instance, Infosys ADRs saw a decline.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil and Brent Crude prices have surged, with WTI trading near $90 (as of July 24) and Brent above $100 (as of July 23), primarily due to escalating Middle East tensions and attacks in the Red Sea and Strait of Hormuz.
- Despite OPEC+ planning to increase August production by 188,000 barrels per day, actual supply constraints due to geopolitical conflicts are likely to keep the physical market tight.
- The EIA projects a decline in global oil consumption by 1.2 million barrels per day by 2026, indicating potential demand destruction from sustained high prices.
- Bitcoin is consolidating in the $64,000-$66,000 range, with the total crypto market capitalization around $2.28 trillion. Ethereum is near $1,867.
- The US has passed the GENIUS Act, providing clear guidelines for stablecoins, which is seen as a significant step for crypto regulation and financial infrastructure enhancement.
- The FATF reports increasing adoption of the Crypto Travel Rule, but enforcement remains a challenge. Notably, the BitMEX exchange is slated to close on September 23, 2026.

STRATEGY-BASED DAILY TICKER SELECTION & SECTOR CONSTRAINTS

INDIAN EQUITIES (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Strategy & Selection Reason	Target Price	Stop Loss
Reliance Industries (RELIANCE)	2900 INR	Nifty leader showing resilience and a bounce off 50-SMA support after recent market weakness. Strong fundamentals mitigate FII selling impact.	3050 INR	2850 INR

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Strategy & Selection Reason	Action	Target Price	Stop Loss
Tesla (TSLA)	340 USD	50-day SMA rejection strategy. Stock showing significant pre-market weakness (-8.7%) after recent negative sentiment around AI spending, suggesting potential for a bounce or further downside if resistance holds.	Short	325 USD	348 USD
Microsoft (MSFT)	390 USD	21-day EMA pullback. Mega-cap growth leader, currently showing minor pre-market movement. Dip buying opportunity for continued AI-driven growth.	Long	405 USD	385 USD

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (STRICTLY LONG-ONLY)

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Strategy & Selection Reason	Target Price	Stop Loss
Palantir (PLTR)	28 USD	Stage-2 VCP breakout. Leveraging the broader AI theme, this mid-cap shows consolidating price action ready for an upward breakout on high relative volume (RVOL > 2.0).	30 USD	27 USD

CRYPTO FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Strategy & Selection Reason	Action	Target Price	Stop Loss
Bitcoin (BTC/USD)	64,500 USD	4H 21-EMA trend following / High-volume volatility breakout. Consolidating around $64k-$66k. A decisive break with high volume above or below this range will trigger a trend-following trade.	Long/Short	66,000 / 63,000 USD	63,800 / 65,200 USD
Ethereum (ETH/USD)	1,870 USD	4H 21-EMA trend following / High-volume volatility breakout. Currently near $1,867. Similar to BTC, looking for a strong directional move.	Long/Short	1,920 / 1,820 USD	1,840 / 1,890 USD

COMMODITIES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Strategy & Selection Reason	Action	Target Price	Stop Loss
WTI Crude Oil (CL=F)	90.50 USD	Pivot & Fibonacci extension levels. Recent surge due to Middle East tensions implies strong bullish momentum. Looking for an entry on a minor pullback to a key Fibonacci support or a breakout above recent highs.	Long	93.00 USD	89.00 USD
Gold (XAU/USD)	2350 USD	Pivot & Fibonacci extension levels. Gold prices edged lower recently as inflation concerns increased expectations of higher interest rates. Identifying key support levels for a potential bounce or resistance for a short.	Short	2320 USD	2365 USD

FOREX FUTURES (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Short-Term Futures

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Strategy & Selection Reason	Action	Target Price	Stop Loss
EUR/USD	1.1370	Momentum & News flow. Euro dragged lower by surging US rates recently. Potential for further weakness if US rates remain elevated and Fed hawkishness persists.	Short	1.1325	1.1400
GBP/USD	1.2550	Momentum & News flow. BoE expected to remain cautious/hawkish, but dollar strength from Fed expectations could outweigh.	Short	1.2500	1.2580

Long-Term Carry Swing

Ticker	Price (Approx.)	Strategy & Selection Reason	Action	Target Price	Stop Loss
USD/JPY	158.20	Carry trade momentum. Fed's "higher for longer" stance and potential for further rate hikes (90% probability of higher rates by end of 2026) supports USD strength against JPY, which typically benefits from carry.	Long	159.50	157.50
AUD/USD	0.6650	Risk-off / Commodity proxy. Geopolitical tensions and higher oil prices can create risk-off sentiment, typically weakening AUD. However, if commodity strength persists, AUD could find support.	Short	0.6600	0.6680

INDIAN OPTIONS (BI-DIRECTIONAL)

Index	Strategy & Selection Reason	Entry Level (Approx.)	Target Level (Approx.)	Stop Loss (Approx.)
Nifty 50 (Call/Put)	15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB). Given recent market volatility and failure to hold 24,000, a clear breakout from the initial 15-minute range offers high-probability directional trade.	Buy Call above 15-min high / Buy Put below 15-min low	20-30 points move from entry	10-15 points move against entry
BankNifty (Call/Put)	15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (ORB). BankNifty showed some resilience last week, but overall market sentiment is weak. An ORB strategy will capture early directional momentum.	Buy Call above 15-min high / Buy Put below 15-min low	50-70 points move from entry	25-35 points move against entry
