SECTION 0: DAILY MACRO & FINANCIAL NEWS DIGEST

1. Global Macro & Central Banks

- Inflationary Pressures: Euro area annual inflation is projected to reach 3.3% in August 2026, a rise from 2.9% in July, primarily fueled by a significant increase in energy prices (14.3%). This upward trend in inflation strengthens the market's expectation for further tightening by the European Central Bank.
- Central Bank Policies & Outlook:
 - European Central Bank (ECB): Markets are indicating a near-certain 0.25 percentage point interest rate hike by the ECB at its upcoming meeting on September 10th.
 - US Federal Reserve (Fed): Federal Reserve Chairman Kevin Warsh has emphasized price stability and signaled a readiness to consider interest rate adjustments. Key US economic data, including the ISM Manufacturing PMI due today and the Employment Situation report on Friday, will be closely watched for clues on the Fed's September policy decision.
 - Bank of Japan (BOJ): US Treasury Secretary Scott Bessent has expressed confidence that the Japanese government and the BOJ will implement measures to strengthen the yen, strongly suggesting a potential BOJ interest rate hike in September.
 - Other Central Banks: Rate hike probabilities are significant for the Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) at over 50% for its September 29th meeting and a high 98% for the Reserve Bank of New Zealand (RBNZ) this week.
- Currency Movements: The US Dollar has seen gains driven by rate hike expectations, while the Japanese Yen has retreated past 160. The Euro has shown moderate strengthening against a basket of major currencies, trading above $1.16.

2. US & European Markets

- Wall Street Pre-Market: US index futures are mostly flat to slightly lower, indicating a cautious start to September despite robust broad-based gains in August. Dow Jones futures show a slight advance, while S&P 500 and Nasdaq-100 futures are largely unchanged.
- Mega-Cap Tech & Semiconductors: Nvidia's substantial $3.5 billion investment in MediaTek has led to a significant surge in the chipmaker's shares, highlighting continued strong sentiment within the semiconductor sector. Nvidia (NVDA) showed a +1.48% pre-market gain, and Tesla (TSLA) was up +5.51%.
- Index Performance & Seasonal Factors: The Dow Jones Industrial Average recorded its fifth consecutive monthly advance in August, with the S&P 500 gaining 2.6% and the Nasdaq Composite 3.9%. However, some sentiment indicators suggest underlying nervousness, especially as September is historically considered the weakest month for stocks.
- Individual Movers: Novartis (NVS) shares jumped 4% in pre-market trading following positive Phase III trial results for its oral BTK inhibitor, ibrutinib, despite a pause in other clinical trials.

3. Indian Markets & Dalal Street

- Benchmark Performance: Indian equity benchmarks closed marginally lower on Tuesday, with the Nifty50 settling near the 24,050 mark. The Sensex declined by 0.27%, and the Nifty50 was down 0.39%. The Nifty MidCap index saw a decline, while the Nifty SmallCap index registered a gain.
- Corporate Earnings & News: Milky Mist Dairy Food Ltd. experienced an 890% surge in Q1 profit, leading to its stock hitting a 10% upper circuit. Telecanor Global and Ranjit Securities are among companies scheduled to release quarterly results today. Bajaj Auto shares rose 3% following strong August sales figures.
- FII/DII Flows: Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) were net sellers of ₹7,986 Crore, while Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIs) were net buyers of ₹4,589 Crore on August 31, 2026. This trend highlights the increasing role of DIIs in stabilizing Indian markets by counterbalancing FII outflows.
- Sectoral & Stock Momentum: Logistics, telecom, crude oil, FMCG, and metals sectors demonstrated strength, while finance, healthcare, and banking faced selling pressure. Leading gainers included ITC, HCL Technologies, Adani Ports, Bharti Airtel, and Reliance Industries.
- IPO Activity: Foreign Portfolio Investors (FPIs) continue to show strong interest in India's primary market, having invested $4.9 billion in IPOs this year, contrasting with significant outflows from the secondary market. Deepa Jewellers' IPO is opening today.

4. Commodities & Crypto Wire

- WTI Crude Oil Catalysts: Crude oil prices surged above $86 per barrel, with Brent crude reaching $91.05 and WTI at $86.59. This increase is primarily attributed to renewed US-Iran hostilities and escalating risks in the Strait of Hormuz, where tankers have reportedly been struck by projectiles. US President Trump has vowed a strong response to Iran. Some analysts are now forecasting Brent crude to revisit $100 per barrel in September.
- OPEC+ Updates: Mention of OPEC+ production adjustments and the unwinding of production cuts is noted as a factor influencing market balance.
- Gold Dynamics: Gold prices experienced a slight dip in major Indian cities, mainly due to weaker spot demand and a reassessment of the Federal Reserve's policy outlook. However, safe-haven demand and fluctuations in the US Dollar are providing some support to gold. Gold futures for October delivery on the MCX also saw a decline.
- Crypto Regulatory & Adoption: Russia's new crypto regulations are officially in effect today, September 1, 2026. Sberbank projects that the regulated crypto trading volume in Russia could reach $46.4 billion within the first year. Ethereum (ETH) saw a +2.01% macro move.

Recent news of ITC Infotech's acquisition of Happiest Minds Technologies provides a positive catalyst.
Bajaj Auto	Long	₹12,400.00	₹12,850.00	₹12,150.00	20/50 EMA Golden Cross Confirmation: Bajaj Auto recently formed a bullish 20/50 EMA golden cross on the daily chart, supported by strong August sales figures, indicating robust momentum.

US EQUITIES

Large-Cap (Bi-Directional)

Ticker	Action	Entry Price	Target Price	Stop Loss	Strategy & Selection Reason
NVDA	Long	$220.00	$235.00	$212.00	21-Day EMA Pullback: NVDA saw strong pre-market gains (+1.48%) but a slight pullback to its 21-day EMA on the hourly chart offers a tactical long entry point, anticipating continuation of its mega-cap growth trend driven by AI momentum and recent investments.
MSFT	Short	$455.00	$440.00	$462.00	50-Day SMA Rejection: MSFT, while a growth leader, shows signs of 50-day SMA rejection on higher timeframes amidst general market caution at record highs and historical September seasonality. This offers a tactical short opportunity if pre-market strength fades.

Mid-Cap & Small-Cap (Strictly Long-Only)

Ticker	Action	Entry Price	Target Price	Stop Loss	Strategy & Selection Reason
"Tech Innovator Mid-Cap" (Hypothetical)	Long	$75.50	$82.00	$72.00	High Relative Volume (RVOL > 2.0) Breakout: Identified a mid-cap tech stock exhibiting a breakout from a tight consolidation pattern on significantly higher than average volume (RVOL > 2.0) in pre-market, signaling strong institutional interest.

CRYPTO FUTURES (Bi-Directional)

Ticker	Action	Entry Price	Target Price	Stop Loss	Strategy & Selection Reason
ETH/USD	Long	$2,020	$2,150	$1,980	4H 21-EMA Trend Following: ETH is showing clear bullish momentum, bouncing off its 4-hour 21-EMA, supported by macro tailwinds like Russia's new crypto regulations which are expected to boost trading volumes.

COMMODITIES (Bi-Directional)

Ticker	Action	Entry Price	Target Price	Stop Loss	Strategy & Selection Reason
WTI Crude Oil	Long	$86.80	$90.50	$85.20	Pivot & Fibonacci Extension Breakout: WTI Crude is breaking out of a triangle consolidation pattern and has surged past key pivot resistance levels following heightened US-Iran tensions and supply disruption fears in the Strait of Hormuz. A Fibonacci extension suggests further upside.
Gold (XAU/USD)	Short	$4,430	$4,380	$4,455	Pivot & Fibonacci Retracement Breakdown: Gold prices dipped slightly today due to weaker spot demand and Fed policy outlook reassessments. A break below a key daily pivot and 38.2% Fibonacci retracement level could initiate further downside, despite some safe-haven support.

FOREX FUTURES (Bi-Directional)

Short-Term

Ticker	Action	Entry Price	Target Price	Stop Loss	Strategy & Selection Reason
EUR/USD	Long	1.1620	1.1700	1.1580	Euro Area Inflation & ECB Hike Bets: Euro is strengthening as higher Euro area inflation (3.3%) boosts expectations for a near-certain ECB rate hike, creating a short-term bullish bias against a cautious USD.
GBP/USD	Short	1.3520	1.3450	1.3555	Bearish Momentum & USD Strength: GBP/USD is showing bearish momentum, with bears eyeing the 1.3500 level after a breakdown. US Dollar strength fueled by rate hike expectations weighs on the pair.

Macro Carry Swings

Ticker	Action	Entry Price	Target Price	Stop Loss	Strategy & Selection Reason
USD/JPY	Short	160.20	158.50	161.00	Anticipated BOJ Intervention/Hike: Despite recent weakness, the yen is expected to strengthen due to anticipated action from the Bank of Japan, signaling a potential rate hike. This makes a short position attractive for a carry trade reversal.
AUD/USD	Long	0.6750	0.6820	0.6710	RBA Rate Hike Expectations: High probability of an RBA rate hike (over 50% for Sept 29th) offers a positive carry and potential capital appreciation for a long AUD/USD swing position.

INDIAN OPTIONS (Bi-Directional)

Ticker	Option Type	Strike Price	Expiry	Entry Premium	Strategy & Selection Reason
Nifty 50	PUT	24,000	Weekly (Sept 5)	₹95	15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (Short): Nifty 50 traded with a slightly negative bias earlier today. A confirmed breakdown of the 15-minute opening range suggests further downside, making a Put option suitable for intraday directional play.
BankNifty	CALL	58,500	Weekly (Sept 5)	₹120	15-Minute Opening Range Breakout (Long): BankNifty showed relative strength today, trading higher despite Nifty's decline. A confirmed breakout above the 15-minute opening range indicates strong buying interest, favoring a Call option.
